VATICAN CITY — If it is true that even a tourist on a two-day visit finds Rome exciting and stimulating, one can imagine how the atmosphere here in the Eternal City is charged on the eve of the second Vatican Council.

It is understandable that the great topic of conversation in Rome sounds like a running guessing game as speculation centers on what the Council may do and may not do and how its decisions will be received in the world. But also coming in for considerable attention is the topic of contrasts, the contrasts between the First Vatican Council of 1870 and the present one.

For instance, 220 archbishops and bishops from the United States will be present as Pope John calls the gathering to ordain at the Second Vatican Council. There will join them other bishops from the United States in solemn concave with members of the hierarchy from all parts of the world.

With the American Bishops in the US, they have stated recently, "They will bear witness at the Ecumenical Council to the elements which under God have led to the remarkable growth of the Church in the United States and to its generally flourishing condition."

How different in 1870! At that time, among the 700 Fathers and bishops from the United States who attended the First Vatican Council, they were still considered, at least in a technical sense, as representatives of a mission country. As a matter of fact, for many years after the Council, the United States, strange as it may seem to us today, was under the jurisdiction of the Holy See and to its generally flourishing condition.

Bishop Carroll
Flies To Rome

Bishop Coleman F. Carroll left by plane from Miami Wednesday en route to Rome, where he will attend the Second Vatican Council called by Pope John XXIII. There he will join other Bishops from the United States in solemn concave with members of the hierarchy from all parts of the world.

In recognition of their long and devoted service to the Church, Pope John XXIII has conferred the honor of knighthood in the Order of St. Gregory the Great upon two outstanding laymen in the Diocese of Miami.

They are Richard B. Roberts, a member of Little Flower parish, Coral Gables, and Irwin N. Walker, a member of St. Edward parish, Palmetto Beach.

The Order of St. Gregory is probably the best known among United States Catholics of all the Pontifical Orders of Knighthood, Membership is granted to those who have shown "inconspicuously loyalty to the Holy See" and to those who have distinguished themselves by their virtue and piety, by their social position, by their zeal evidenced in fulfilling high office, or, in general, by the excellent reputation in which they are held.

The award was announced at a evening function at the Italian Embassy in Washington by Archbishop Alfredo Violante, Apostolic Delegate to the United States, after he had been notified of the appointment by Amichio Cardinal Concino, Secretary of State in Vatican City.

The new monsignori are the first in the four-year history of the Diocese of Miami. Including those appointed before it, the number of monsignori now serving in the Diocese is 29, including nine Domestic Prelates and 11 Papal Chaplains.

Elevated to the rank of Domestic Prelates are:

Msgr. Michael BeerhaUer, pastor, St. Anastasia, Fort Pierce.
Msgr. Peter Reilly, J.C.D., pastor, Little Flower, Coral Gables.
Msgr. Joseph DeVaney, V.F., pastor, St. Francis Xavier, Fort Myers.
Msgr. John O'Dowd, V.F., pastor, Episcopal South Miami.
Msgr. James J. Walsh, Diocesan Director, Bureau of Information.
Msgr. Bryan Walsh, Diocesan Director, Catholic Charities.

New Monsignori
Get Robes Dec. 16

Investiture ceremonies at which the newly-created monsignori of the Diocese of Miami will receive their purple robes will be held at the Cathedral at 4 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 16.

Bishop Coleman F. Carroll will preside, following his return from the first session of the Second Vatican Council in Rome.

(The Order of St. Gregory has been variously regarded, but its basic meaning is that this order was created by Pope Gregory XVI (1830-46) at a time when the Papal States were frequently troubled with political uprisings. The order was named after Pope St. Gregory the Great (540-604) who is considered by several historians as the father of the temporal power of the Pope. Gregory XVI decreed that the... Florida's first CATHOLIC MAUSOLEUM

To the Priests, Religious, and Faithful of the Diocese of Miami:

For some time, the Diocese of Miami has been studying the question of providing a Mausoleum in a Catholic Cemetery. Such an undertaking required much study, consultation, and planning; but I am now pleased to inform you that the decision has been reached to erect such a Mausoleum in Our Lady of Mercy Cemetery.

The plans for this Mausoleum are now being drawn; and it will be not only a beautiful structure, but one made of the most durable materials available. Most importantly, the overall design, as well as the details of the Mausoleum, will be an expression of our Catholic Faith. In addition to the large Central Chapel, the physical facilities will be enriched with examples of the best in Sacred Art and Sculpture. Some idea of the scope of this project is conveyed in the pages of this Brochure.

To help finance this project so that the Mausoleum will be completed as soon as possible, burial crypts will be sold immediately. It is hoped that many of our Catholic people who plan to select crypts in this Mausoleum will avail themselves of the special advantages which accompany pre-completion purchases. An explanation of these advantages, both in terms of selection and price, will be given by Our Lady of Mercy Mausoleum Office, at the Diocese of Miami Chancery.

This most worthy project is being placed under the patronage of Our Lady of Mercy, with the hope that she will accept it as an expression of filial love for our Heavenly Mother.

With cordial best wishes, I am

Very sincerely yours in Christ,
Bishop of Miami

ed anti-Church policies — are workers.

Cardinal Caggiano flew back to Buenos Aires along with 18 Argentine bishops to be with his people during this period of justice. He and the other prelates had been in Rio de Janeiro on their way to the ecumenical council at the Vatican.

In a statement issued later that day, the Cardinal declared:

"The major disgrace of our times continues to be that nearly all social gains by labor have been the result of movements by force since these have been obtained through the violence of strikes. "There is lacking and continues to be lacking a group of "love thy neighbor" so that it can counter this violence and give workers their just due."

Seek Economic Reforms, Chilean Catholics Urged

SANTIAGO (NC) — Chile's bishops have issued a joint pastoral letter urging this South American nation's Catholics to take the lead in carrying out a broad program of social, economic and political reforms based on the papal encyclicals. The bishops warned against the errors of communism and the abuses of capitalism.

They singled out unjust distribution of land and income, poor housing, unemployment, bad wages, inadequate educational opportunities, bad diet and governmental inefficiency as the major problems to be dealt with.

Knowledge of the Church's social teaching must be accompanied by their application to the country's concrete problems, the bishops said, so that "one may avoid the scathing condemnations produced by certain Catholics who lead a life in the fields of labor, industry, the professions, business and in the exercise of public functions which is contrary to the norms of Christian justice and charity."

SPELLING OUT THE PROBLEMS that need to be solved, the bishops noted that "a large part of the people live in the country, oppressed by misery and intolerable conditions because a majority of owners possess the best farm land. " Poor per cent of Chileans own 77 per cent of the nation's arable land. The bishops added that a third of the people do not have proper dwellings in which family virtues can be normally developed and pointed to the existence of overcrowding in slums.

It is estimated that Chile, with a population of 7,500,000, has a deficit of 400,000 dwellings.

Condemning widespread unemployment, the bishops said that it is impossible to ask the unemployed to defend a society which destroys them justly.

The bishops also pointed out that "one-tenth of the population of Chile receives half of the national income, while the remaining nine-tenths must subsist on the other half."

The bishops also pointed out that "one-tenth of the population of Chile receives half of the national income, while the remaining nine-tenths must subsist on the other half."

They warned, the pastoral said, that "a large part of the working class is not receiving a wage in accord with the norms of social justice."

Voice Of People Restores Spoken Prayers To School

WATERFORD, Conn. (AP) —

The voice of the people was heard and that's why the voices of public school children once again are heard daily in opening classroom prayer.

At a closed meeting the Waterford school board voted 4-to-1 to replace spoken prayer in public schools classes with silent meditation. John E. Neder, a board member, said he was "fought and plucked with them for two hours" not to ban the practice.

When the next board meeting occurred, a crowd of 1,000乡镇folk attended. The town fire marshal shifted the meeting to larger quarters.

A priest, three_PREDICATologists, a state representative, three high school students and a group of parents spoke out against the ban.

Ward Alling, a taxayer, int roduced a motion to rescind the ban. "I challenged the verdict but ruled out of order. All law was allowed to take a stand.

Eventually the board unanimously rescinded the ban on a technicallty. The board also set up a committee to study the situation and ordered no change in policy for at least six months.

The policy is set out in the teachers' handbook, which says that "every teacher is expected to have opening exercises every morning consisting of prayer and salute to the flag."

The Fulton County Superior Court has struck down an Atlanta ordinance providing for the classification of landing boats.

Under the law, exhibitors were required to submit films for classification as either acceptable, unsuitable for the young, or approved for general public exhibition.

Though the ordinance was declared "unconstitutional," the state supreme court held it "unconstitutional to the extent that it avoids the constitutional prohibition of classifying motion pictures as either acceptable, unsuitable for the young, or approved for general public exhibition."

While the bishops and scholars have been pooling their wisdom and forming the final agenda, the voice of our Holy Father has been constantly raised beyond Rome to the world in remind each of his children. They have a part to play in this Council. It is the speculatrix rule of prayer and penance, but a role so important that if it is neglected, the Council will not be able to proceed.

All the world will be looking at Rome in these months ahead. Hundreds of millions in chains or in darkness are close to despair and will be waiting as the apostles and disciples themselves wait hopefully and expectantly for the coming of the Holy Ghost at Pentecost. We will be out of step with the Church if we do not give careful consideration to this place as laid down by day by day, but in the spiritual renewal so earnestly advanced as the first essential for a peaceful world by our Holy Father.

WASHINGTON DC — Many legislators and educators here are wondering if the House's re-jection of Federal aid for colleges has ended chances for adoption of any U.S. aid to education.

Undoubtedly, more attempts to secure Federal aid will be made. President Kennedy already has said he will come to Congress with his own assistance proposals next year.

The November Congressional elections will be an indication of the strength a new drive for education aid will receive in Congress. But, in view of the complete failure of this session and the heated controversy generated by these measures, some questions about their future are natural.

The college bill staggered to the House floor under heavy burdens. Indeed, the history of this legislation affects scholars an almost classic example of the pressures — forceful and varied — that can be exerted upon legislative committees.

Theoretically, it should have been a "yes" vote that the 2,700 bishops of the Church would have taken in their meeting. They called for the renewal of the Catholic Church, the renewal of the spirit of the gospel in the hearts of people everywhere, and the adjustment of the Church discipline to the exigencies of modern day living.

Our Holy Father developed these weighty objectives in this beautiful document, one of his in-ests, "... to pause a little in a loving study of the Church and try to re-examine the lines of her more fervent youth and to reconstruct them in a way that will reveal their power over modern man..."

Contrasts Many As Council Opening Nears

TRUTH OF THE MATTER

Sacred Congregation for the Promotion of the Faith, as its mission is necessary with lands.

Historians say the American delegation at the First Council did not exercise adequate 'decision' power on the proceedings. But today it seems very likely that American scholars will have much to say with regard to the world activity of the. Scholars from the United States are playing a prominent part in the group of specialists in Canon Law, Theology, and Social Action. One of them well known to many is Msgr. George Higgins, director of the Social Action Department of the NCWC.

A further contrast is constantly referred to here in Rome, not without some amusement, the press coverage of the two Councils. There is an almost unbelievable difference between the two Councils in communications media and indeed even in the attitude towards the publication of news as it is being made.

In 1870 only two news bureaus were functioning in Rome. Alexander Graham Bell's telephone was not in use, and Rome was in the midst of inking with his invention and another six years would pass before the Council before it proved a success. The Atlantic cable had been laid for telegraphy in 1854, but constant mishaps made it workable only three years before the Council began.

Radio, of course, was more of an innovation in the 1920s. At that time not even wild-eyed inventors apparently were willing to admit even dreaming about the problem to be known as television.

As it turned out, newspapers were the only means of publishing the results of the deliberation and once again we are as anxious to learn today with today's attitude that almost all newspapers in the United States were cold to the activity towards the Fathers at the Council.

Father J. B. Reisen in a scholarly analysis on the Council and American newspapers wrote:

"This hostility showed itself in many ways. Attacks were made to discredit the Church, the Papacy and Catholics. The Council was ridiculed ad ascribed to its stated aims while the public was warned of its supposedly insidious designs. Its acts were given interpretations — or smokes the council appear as a servile aspect in modern brutality.

Perhaps some of the hard feelings among correspondents in Rome arose from the zealous sensitivity on the part of the scholars. Without news from official sources, some reporting was made up, columns of false stories that were quoted and served to discredit the Church.

In 1962 the situation is vastly different. For one thing, newspaper correspondents and television have for the past few years given considerable space to the news in the preparations for the Council. General, it can be said that the attitude has been respectful, deeply interested and even hopeful.

The Vatican for its part made some sensible plans to give the media the opportunity to know what was going on at the council. The Council makes the decisions and the press is advisory in forming them.

Behind the throne of Pope John in St. Peter's Basilica, the press will be seated. The press will be let in to the Council activities in space known as the Tribune of St. Peter's.

It is obvious that the Holy Father himself is keenly aware of making certain information available. In an audience with newspapermen he said, "We are fully aware of the valuable role that the press now is playing in presenting the Council in its true light and making it understood and appreciated as far as possible by the greatest number of people." The emphasis on another occasion, "We are and we wish to be aware of the service the truth." A

An Office of Public Information has been established in the Vatican, so that within a matter of hours with information to be made known to the whole world.

Communist and Socialist correspondents are among those invited. Details are not yet fixed and a pass which will enable them to receive the daily information bulletin as well as to enter the conciliar ceremonies on certain occasions.

Remote points that television may make its debut at a council. There may be some sessions or meetings televised live which could mean that a large area in Italy and abroad and perhaps the first time see something of the solemn gathering at work.

Finally, those who have delved into the history of the First Council of Nicaea, their time has been well spent at the establishment of the Vatican, so that within a matter of hours with information to be made known to the whole world.

Anger-Shared by Saint And Sinner Alike

By FR. KILIAN McGOWAN

Anger is a magnificent emotion become a runaway. It may cause anything from a quarrel to a world war. Anger transforms the best and worst, and self-control child of the man of anger, which is to be treated as the new "saint" in the City of God.

The destructive power of Father Kilian anger, like the atom itself, is awesome. The use of years has sometimes been made to suggest that a single moment of freely-injected anger can turn the smoke of a blind flash of anger, as a strong impulse may temporarily blind the heart and mind. But there's no place in the truly Christlike heart for the vicious kind that's cultivated like a pet hobby. Premeditated revenge of cooled-down planned cordic is directly contrary to Christ's law of charity.

There's something out of which we must, and that is always angry. He's not at peace with himself or with the world.

IN LETTER TO POPE JOHN

President Praises Council

WASHINGTON (DC) — President Kennedy in a special message to Pope John XXIII has expressed his hopes for the success of the Second Vatican Council, particularly that it will promote world peace.

The President told Pope John in a letter made public by the White House: “We hope that the council will be able to present in clear and persuasive language effective solutions to the many problems confronting all of us and, more specifically, that its decisions will significantly advance the cause of international peace and understanding.”

President Kennedy’s letter said that in the three years since Pope John announced his intention of convening an ecumenical council, millions of Americans — including many non-Catholics — have watched “with lively and sympathetic interest” the preparations for non-Catholics — have watched “with lively and sympathetic interest” the preparations for “this extraordinarily important cause to Pope John XXIII has expressed his hopes for the success of the Second Vatican Council, particularly that it will promote world peace.

The President said that despite “staggering problems” people all over the world have found “new life in the spirit” in the thought that the council will give special attention to the economic and social problems of the world and particularly of underdeveloped nations.

After emphasizing his hope that the council may contribute to world peace, Mr. Kennedy extended personal greetings to the Pope on behalf of himself and Mrs. Kennedy, who had an audience with Pope John last March.

He concluded by expressing the hope that the council will fulfill the Pope’s “foremost hopes and dreams for a worldwide renewal of fellowship and love and for the establishment of a just and lasting peace.”

Council Called ‘Second Spring’

BOSTON (NC) — Cardinal Cushing said here the coming ecumenical council may lead to a “second spring” for the Church.

The council also “can erase apathy and increase personal sanctity,” the Archbishop of Boston told students and faculty at Boston College in a sermon at a Mass of the Holy Spirit.

Cardinal Cushing cautioned, however, against expecting too much in the way of religious unity from the council.

“There will be no unity of religions in our generation, our lifetime or within the next 100 years,” he said.

Vatican Council Will Face Heavy Schedule At Outset

From Oct. 22 to 31, general meetings will be held daily except on Thursdays and Sundays. The general meetings — or congregations — in which matters before the Council are to be debated will begin at 9 a.m.

Save for the ceremonies on the Council's opening and closing days, the Fathers will not enter St. Peter's basilica in procession, but will go to their places directly. Mass will be offered daily by a cardinal.

The Gospels will be enthroned on a special stand. Ritual prayers will be recited, the hymn to the Holy Ghost, Veni Creator Spiritus, will be chanted, and then the work of the session will begin.

The closing session of the Council will be similar to the opening one, but instead of the Mass of the Holy Ghost, a Mass of thanksgiving will be offered, followed by an address by the Pope. The papal bull closing the Council will be read and the Fathers will be authorized to return to their dioceses.

The Council will be concluded by the chanting of the Te Deum and the blessing of the Pope, after which all will leave St. Peter's in procession.

Bishops In East Germany Expected To Attend Council

The Cardinal said the eight bishops in communist - ruled East Germany were given a choice of four opportunities to leave the Soviet Zone. Red authorities told them they could attend the annual meeting of the German Hierarchy in Fulda in West Germany, accept invitations to attend Marian celebrations at the Polish national shrine of Our Lady of Czestochowa, go to Rome for the council.

Cardinal Frings reported that all eight prelates chose to go to Rome and have been given assurances by the Red authorities that they will receive travel permits.

These prelates care for the 1,640,500 Catholics in East Germany and the eastern sector of Berlin and the approximately 300,000 Catholics in West Germany, take part in the annual meeting of the German Hierarchy in Fulda in West Germany, accept invitations to attend Marian celebrations at the Polish national shrine of Our Lady of Czestochowa, or go to Rome for the council.

"In close communion with you," said the Pontiff, "and with Our apostolic benediction, and with Our peace and blessing, which I now send in the power of the Holy Spirit, I desire to commend you and all the clergy to the Sorrowful Mother."

Priests Will Learn Spanish

Priests of Dade and Broward counties are going bilingual.

Bishop Coleman F. Carroll announced Monday that more than 30 new priests will begin taking four lessons in Spanish one day a week at the new Biscayne College, under the direction of its president, Father Edward J. McCarthy, O.S.A. Many emphasis on pastoral Spanish for the new course will place emphasis on pastoral Spanish for use in administering the sacraments.

At the present time there are more than 50,000 Spanish-speaking men, women and children in the Diocese of Miami, most of them in Dade and Broward counties. The assignment to the Spanish classes will provide more priests to be available in looking after the spiritual welfare of the many Cuban refugees as well as others from Colombia, Puerto Rico, Venezuela and other Latin-American countries.

Bishop Carroll's announce ment was made at the annual Fall Clergy Conference for all priests of the Diocese, which was held at the St. John Vianney Seminary. Two conferences were held, one in the morning and one in the afternoon. Bishop Carroll celebrated a Pontifical Low Mass at noon.

The Bishop also told the priests that those who had not yet had a vacation would have permission to go to Rome to attend the Ecumenical Council provided they would not be absent from their pastoral duties for more than two weeks.

The Bishop discussed the forthcoming Council and the priests also were addressed by Monsignor O'Neill C. D'Amour, associate secretary of the Superintendents' Office of the National Catholic Educational Association. A resume of his talk appears in adjoining columns on this page.

Pope's Mass To Mark Death Of Pope Pius XII

VATICAN CITY (Nov. 10) — John XXIII will participate in a solemn Requiem Mass for Pope Pius XII in St. Peter's basilica on Oct. 9, the fourth anniversary of his death.

Celebrant will be Benedict Cardinal Aloisi Masella, senior cardinal created by Pius XII.

Parochial Schools In Peril

An official of the National Catholic Educational Association said that if federal aid is approved for public schools only, the very existence of Catholic schools will be threatened as well as the right of Americans to choose their own education.

Monsignor O'Neill C. D'Amour, associate secretary of the School Superintendents' Dept., NCEA, spoke in the priests of the Diocese of Miami during a conference of the clergy in St. John Vianney Minor Seminary in Miami.

Monsignor D'Amour said that while supporters of aid for public schools only have not formally said that Americans do not have the right to choose their own education, "they say in effect that only those who have money have the right of choice."

Catholic school systems, he said, form a fortress of defense for the pluralistic school system. They represent "an effective solution to the problem of the pluralistic school system, basing the public schools on one system of the leaders of a single system, he said."

If federal aid becomes fact, he asserted, the inequities of the pattern established by the state systems must be eliminated. "If Catholic schools are not included in federal aid, their very existence will be threatened. Catholic education is a symbol of America's right to choose."

Monsignor D'Amour spoke of the recently killed bill which would have given federal aid for all American colleges and universities, public and private. He said the bill caused more bitterness in the nation's capital than any item since the controversial Borden Bill in 1948.

Episcopal Bishop Nelson M. Burroughs said he would officially ask that prayers for the council be offered in the 114 parishes and missions in his 46-county diocese.

Diocese Prays For Council

As Bishop Coleman F. Carroll left Miami for Rome and the Ecumenical Council, the faithful of all ages throughout the 16 counties which comprise the Diocese of Miami offered prayers for the success of the Second Vatican Council.

Solemn Novenas which began Tuesday in every parish church and mission of the Diocese will continue until Wednesday, Oct. 10, the day before the Council convenes in Rome. The devotions are part of the Crusade of Prayer and Penance inaugurated by Bishop Carroll in August.

At that time the Bishop called for participation by the children in every parochial grade and high school in the Diocese, and by the sick and handicapped, in special prayers and devotions that the coming Council will be of supreme importance to the Church and to mankind in general.

"Its success in large part," Bishop Carroll said, "will depend upon the supernatural activity, that is, the prayers and penance of all our people united in their earnest desire to win the blessing of God on this solemn gathering."
Cuban Priest Offers 1st Mass

Father Mario Suarez Marillo, S. J., who began his seminary studies in Havana in 1947, offered his first High Mass in Gesu Church in Miami following his ordination at Xaverian University in Colombia.

Father Suarez Marillo is the third Cuban Jesuit in exile to offer his first Mass in Miami. He was assisted by Father Felipe Arroyo, S. J., and the sermon was delivered by Father Enrique Ojea, S. J.

The new priest entered the Jesuit Seminary in Havana in August, 1947, following his graduation from the new-defunct Belen School in Havana. After he left Cuba, he attended Pontifical University of Comillas in Spain and completed his studies in Colombia.

Jesuit Preparatory School Blessed By Bishop Carroll

The new Jesuit Preparatory School for Boys located at 424 SW Seventh Ave., was blessed by Bishop Coleman F. Carroll Monday.

According to Father Luis Ripoll, S.J., rector of the school, which is staffed by Jesuit Fathers who formerly taught at the now-defunct Belen School in Havana, classes will be conducted in the new building in about two weeks. For the past year students enrolled in grades eight through 12 have been instructed in classrooms of the Gesu School.

A chapel where Mass will be celebrated daily is being readied in the new school as well as classroom facilities for 150 boys.

Speaking briefly to the students and priests assembled for the ceremonies of blessing, Bishop Carroll urged the Cuban boys, most of whom are refugees from their communist-controlled homeland, to pray for the success of the forthcoming Ecumenical Council. "Take advantage of the opportunities offered to you here," the Bishop said. "Stay hard and be strong, fervent Catholic young men."

Father Ripoll lead these prayers in the renewal of the act of consecration to the Sacred Heart first made by the Belen School faculty and students in 1908 in Havana.

CUBAN BOYS enrolled in the new Jesuit Preparatory School which was blessed by Bishop Coleman F. Carroll Monday listen as the Bishop advised them to "be good students and strong, fervent Catholics." More than 150 boys are registered for grades 8-12. Taught by Jesuit Fathers.

HOW TO MAKE THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS IN REAL ESTATE

There's a fortune to be made in real estate. There always was. I've seen many of our buyers do it.

A parcel of land can lie dormant for years neither increasing nor decreasing in value. Suddenly its value will skyrocket. Other land may increase its worth less spectacularly, going up a little each year as the city expands. Before you realize it, the land represents a fabulous profit. What other investment will bring 100% — sometimes even 500% or more — return on your dollar? Don't you wish you had bought land around Miami, Fort Lauderdale, Pompano, or Palm Beach ten years ago?

According to reliable research data, South Florida will continue to enjoy spectacular growth. Land values will increase tremendously as a result of this expansion.

But there is something even more important about land that you should know:

THE AMOUNT OF LAND CAN'T BE INCREASED. NO MATTER HOW MANY NEW FAMILIES WE HAVE, THERE WILL NEVER BE ANY MORE LAND.

If you're a serious investor, whether you have $1,000 or $100,000, we have something to talk over with you. Land is our business.

Remember One Good Investment is worth more than a Lifetime of Labor. Fortunes are still being made in land. Fill out the coupon below. You will be under no obligation.

Bishop Carroll To Mark 4th Anniversary Oct. 7

Vast Expansion Program
Will Continue In Diocese

Bishop Coleman F. Carroll will observe next Sunday, Oct. 7, the Feast of the Most Holy Rosary, the fourth anniversary of his installation as first Bishop of Miami.

The Bishop himself will be the principal celebrant at the principal Mass of the day to be celebrated in the Cathedral of St. Agustine, in Rome, where he will attend the Second Vatican Council called by Pope John XXIII to open on Thursday of next week, Oct. 11. In his absence, however, the vast program of expansion, construction and spiritual activity which he began four years ago will continue with undiminished vigor.

A native of Pittsburgh, Bishop Carroll was consecrated as Auxiliary Bishop of Pittsburgh in 1953. He was appointed first Bishop of Miami in August, 1956, by the late Pope Pius XII when the Diocese was created to consist of the 16 counties of South Florida.

Under his direction, the Diocese of Miami has been expanding at the rate of $700,000 a month. In his first 30 months as Bishop of Miami, he was responsible for a building program of more than $30 million. This included $15 million spent in diocesan parishes on strict parochial construction and nearly $7 million on diocesan and non-parochial projects.

VAST PROGRAM

The vast program, still sweeping forward, includes churches, chapels and missions; grade and high schools, colleges, convents, rectories, seminaries, retreat houses, a home for the aged, hospitals, prep school for dependent children, refuge for unwed mothers, a Spanish-speaking center and numerous other projects.

Last year it was revealed by expert analysis that the Diocese of Miami ranked in the top 10 — and possibly the first five — among those groups spending significant sums on building construction in Florida.

Outstanding among the institutions built by the Diocese through support by the faithful of the Diocesan Development Fund is the St. John Vianney Minor Seminary in which 100 young men now are studying for the priesthood in the Diocese. Opened with one building in 1959, the seminary has been expanded with five additional buildings and a sixth, the second College Building, soon to be completed.

NEW SEMINARY

A new major seminary, to be built by the Vincentian Fathers who are in charge of St. John Vianney Minor Seminary, will be erected soon at Boynton Beach.

New diocesan institutions established during the present year are Biscayne College, first Catholic college for men in South Florida, built by Augustinian Fathers; an addition to Barry College for women and Our Lady of Lourdes Monastery and Retreat House in North Palm Beach, built by the Passionist Fathers.

Now under construction and expected to be completed in the next month or two are Central Catholic High School, Fort Myers; the wing for girls at the Mugr. Pace High School; St. Vincent de Paul Parish, Coral Gables; the University of Miami Catholic Center; St. John the Baptist Church, Coral Gables; the Wing for Girls at the Catholic High School, Fort Myers; the Wing for Girls at the Catholic High School, Fort Lauderdale; church, school and rectory, St. Thomas the Apostle, South Miami; convent, St. Vincent de Paul Parish, Fort Lauderdale; church, school and rectory, St. Vincent de Paul Parish, St. Petersburg; church and school, St. John the Baptist Church, Coral Gables; church and school, St. Vincent de Paul Parish, Fort Lauderdale; church, school and rectory, St. Vincent de Paul Parish, St. Petersburg; church and school, St. John the Baptist Church, Coral Gables; church and school, St. Vincent de Paul Parish, Fort Lauderdale; church, school and rectory, St. Vincent de Paul Parish, St. Petersburg.

In addition to construction, another major activity in the Diocese at the present time is the expansion of facilities for the spiritual care of more than 200,000 Spanish-speaking people and their families. The Diocese of Miami has been ranked by other experts as the diocese with the largest percentage of Latin colony.

Bishop Carroll took the lead in extruding the helping hand of the Church and the community to the large numbers who began pouring into Miami soon after Castro came to power in Cuba. In September, 1959, he opened the Centro Hispano Catolico and during the flood tide of the Cuban exodus in 1960, the Spanish center was providing help to as many as 2,000 each week.

During 1961, there were 93,587 actual visits by men, women and children seeking relief or health services.

That included food, shelter, clothing, English and other classes of an educational nature; religious instruction; job placement, a day nursery; teenage pregnancy counseling and legal advice; health and medical services, including dental care; marriage counseling and courses; social and meeting rooms and numerous other activities.

New Cenacle Retreat House Under Construction At Lantana Will Provide 40 Private Rooms

Women's Retreat House To Be Ready In Late Fall

LANTANA — The new Cenacle Retreat House for women now under construction at 1600 S. Dixie Highway is expected to be ready for occupancy in the late fall.

According to the Religious of Our Lady of the Retreat in the Cenacle who established Florida's first retreat house for women at Manalapan early in 1960, the new Cenacle has been designed in traditional Florida style by Delray Beach architect, Robert F. Blake.

When completed it will provide 40 private rooms, large dining area, meeting hall, library and adequate facilities for days of recollection in addition to weekend retreats. The chapel will accommodate more than 100 persons and the entire structure will be completely air-conditioned.

Since Jan. 1, 1960, weekend retreats and days and evenings of recollection have been conducted at the Cenacle Retreat House in Manalapan where 17 weekend retreatants are accommodated. Until the new building is opened, conferences will be continued at 1720 S. Ocean Blvd., Manalapan.

Individuals and organizations desiring of making arrangements for retreats may contact the Cenacle by writing to 1720 S. Ocean Blvd., Manalapan.

The Congregation of Our Lady of the Retreat in the Cenacle whose principal work is religious service, is now represented for the first time in the southeast section of the United States.

Mother Mildred Doherty is the superior at the Cenacle Retreat House and Mother Marie Mullan is in charge of retreat arrangements.

2 Girls Participate

Two South Florida girls took part in Trinity College's traditional celebration of "Cap and Gown" Sunday at Washington D.C.

JOHN XXIII: THE PEASANT WHO BECAME A POPE

When Giuseppe Roncalli was elected Pope, many Vatican officials served a change in the air. And they were right!

Unlike his predecessors, Pope John has traveled freely throughout Rome. Struck up chatty conversations with palace workmen. And even discarded the traditional velvety slippers—for sturdy leather shoes.

In this week’s Post, you’ll read about the Pope’s rise from a humble village to the throne of St. Peter. Learn why he chose to reign under the name of John—instead of Euse. How his cheerful disregard of red tape and protocol has raised the eyebrows of Italian aristocrats. Why his rambling audiences were the despair of a Vatican Newman.

And how his delightful sense of humor has endeared him to Catholics and non-Catholics alike.

Extra Touches Can Make 'A Cake

By FLORENCE DEVANEY

HalloWeen, Thanksgiving and Christmas are such gay, delightful holidays. No one seems to have the least bit of trouble finding a way to make each meal complete. It is fun to put a little extra something on the menu. How about a simple fringed apple biscuit to take the edge off your chocolate leaf? It is firm.

HERB-FRIED FROZEN FRENCH FRIES

If you are baking a fish or a meat loaf for dinner — simply combine small frozen whole potatoes with cream sauce to bake in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) until tender (about 60 minutes). If desired, five minutes before potatoes are done, add seasonings and continue cooking, turning frequently, until thoroughly.

CREAM-BAKED FROZEN POTATOES

For the other designs use the same techniques with cut-outs of wax paper. Have all the chocolate from the leaf by inserting the point of a small knife at the tip of the leaf and peeling the real leaf away from the chocolate leaf. Return each chocolate leaf to the refrigerator to keep firm while you're working with the next one. Pummel the real leaf away from the chocolate leaf. This takes careful handling, but it's worth it to see how the impression of each leaf vein is left on the chocolate leaf. Return each chocolate leaf to the refrigerator to keep firm while you're working with the next one.

First, you melt half a package (four) of semi-sweet chocolate squares — enough to cover 15 to 20 of the potato squares — enough to cover 15 to 20 of the potato squares.

CHEESE AND POTATO PIE

A delicious new creative main course for the dinning table. The fringed apple biscuit recipe makes the perfect dessert on its own or can be served with ice cream. A delightful floral scent is added to the Christmas tree. The ham is fully cooked, ready to eat. There's a convenient size for every family, in cans from 2 to 12 lbs. Buy it today!

Polish Ham

The Ham they never hurry!

Slow, slow, slow curing makes the difference! In no other ham will you find such unique natural ham flavor. Luscious and tender Polish Ham is fully cooked, ready to eat. There's a convenient size for every family, in cans from 2 to 12 lbs. Buy it today!
Curley Faces Aquinas High
In First ‘Big Three’ Contest

FORT LAUDERDALE — Archbishop Curley High of Miami and St. Thomas Aquinas of Fort Lauderdale square off Saturday night here at Lockhart Stadium in the first game of the round-robin series to determine the Diocesan unofficial football champion.

Curley won the honors last year with victories over St. Thomas and Christopher Columbus.

The Rams, after dropping a 34-0 decision in their opener to Father Lopez High of Daytona Beach, have rebounded to victories over Alva (19-6) and Florida Schools for Boys (46-0) to take the lead in the Twin Coast Conference.

The triumph over the Florida Schools for Boys Bravies came last week in impressive fashion. The Rams rolled up 228 yards in rushing, 104 in passing, intercepted four passes and recovered three of the Bravies’ fumbles.

The Rams are 5-0 now in conference play and a victory over Jupiter will set them up for the top spot in the conference title.

After Pompano had taken a 6-0 lead in the first quarter, St. Thomas’ John Civetta took the kick-off and ran 74 yards to the Tornadoes six before being stopped.

Three plays later he scored and then hoofed the extra point for a 7-6 St. Thomas lead.

Pompano came back strong and lead 20-7 at the start of the third period when the Raiders turned in their best play of the season.

With fullback Jim Hurley showing the way, St. Thomas moved 61 yards in 15 plays for a touchdown after receiving the kickoff. Dave McIntosh hit on six of 15 passing attempts and then succumbed to a secondary.

Trailing 28-0, St. Thomas held Pompano and again mounted a march, moving to the Tornadoes’ right before being halted.

The Raiders showed great improvement in the ball handling department as they fumbled the ball away only once compared to their seven bobbles in the season’s opener with Fort Lauderdale High.

Columbus, Gibbons Have Weekend Off

Miami’s Christopher Columbus High School and Fort Lauderdale’s Cardinal Gibbons each have the week end off before resuming their football schedule against tough opponents.

Columbus has a rest period after a 28-0 loss to Fort Lauderdale’s Lockhart Stadium, while Gibbons faces LaSalle High, like Gibbons a newcomer to the Diocese football program at Curtis Park in Miami.

Newman Should Win Easily

who gave their bigger city-rival Forest Hill a tough battle before falling 30-6 last week.

Newman was not able to do much against the bigger Forest Hill line and gained only 89 yards in rushing. However, Dave McIntosh hit on six of 15 passes for 112 yards through the air despite a heavy rush by the Forest Hill defensive line.

The loss cost Newman’s record at 1-1 for the season.

La Salle Loses 6-0, Plays Alva Saturday

ALVA — LaSalle High of Miami, losers by a 6-0 count to the Florida Air Academy in its first game in history, will try again here Saturday afternoon for its initial victory against the Alva Ramblers of the Twin Coast Conference.

The Ramblers had a pair of first half touchdowns nullified and then succeeded to a second half Florida Air passing attack in their losing effort.

Bob Kozial, Robert Espin and Nelson Hernandez were the top gainers for LaSalle while Corton Arelano, Ernesto Vidal and Alfred Copedes were standouts in the line.

The game with Alva will also give the Boys a line on how they compare with other teams in the Diocese as the Ramblers fell 19-6 to Fort Pierce Central Catholic two weeks ago.

It will also serve as a tune-up for the Oct. 12 game with Cardinal Gibbons High at Fort Lauderdale, another new football squad, at Miami’s Curtis Park.
CARDINAL CUSHING EXPLAINS

What Reds Mean By ‘Rule Of The Proletariat’

Q. How did Lenin justify the Communist Party’s action as the guide and center of the workers? A. In his work, The Teachings of Karl Marx, Lenin asserted that Marxists drew from the continuation and completion of “the three chief ideological currents of the Nineteenth Century.” These are: (1) German philosophy, especially the teachings of Feuerbach; (2) French socialist writings and “French revolutionary doctrines,” especially as represented by Pierre J. Proudhon with his view that every historical period was characterized by a class war; (3) English economic theories, such as those of Adam Smith and David Ricardo, which Marx as usual turned in part against their authors.

Hence, the intellectuals, not the workers, contributed much to the origin and progress of Communist. Note how the three Western sources have become a scourge for the Western nations in the present century. Pope Pius XI outlined this well in the Encyclical Divini Redemptoris, when the workers, contributed most for and guide the workers in the revolution. Consequently, it is they (under the leadership of Moscow) who know what is best for the people of the world, according to their view, and by infiltration and finally the stimulation of force are to establish the Party’s rule over the world.

Q. Was this conception that the Party is actually to set for the subservient “working class” brought out clearly in the writings of Lenin and his successors? A. That is correct. The whole emphasis of Lenin’s writings—especial that is To Be Done, and in One Step Forward, Two Steps Backward—was for the creation of a small and disciplined group which would become “the vanguard” and directing power, acting in the name of the “working class.”

The summary of Lenin’s views can be read in Joseph V. Stalin’s Foundations of Leninism. In the chapter on “The Party,” Stalin brings out the six necessary features of the “revolutionary party,” bold enough to lead the proletarians to the struggle for power, on the basis of Lenin’s writings. The very first of these features is that “the Party is the vanguard of the working class.” It is thereby characterized as “the general staff of the proletariat in the class war.”

Q. Is this arrogant idea of the Communist Party as thearmy at war can dispense with an experienced General Staff if it does not want to court certain defeat. It is not clear that the proletariat can still less dispense with a such a General Staff if it does not want to give itself up to be devoured by its mortal enemies! But where is this General Staff? Only the revolutionary party of the proletariat can serve as the General Staff. The working class without a revolutionary party is Staff. The Party is the General Staff of the proletariat.”

Se Inicia el Jueves la Asamblea Ecuménica

A través de todas las parroquias de la Diócesis se viene observando con mucha emoción la celebración de la Asamblea Ecuménica por el éxito del Concilio Ecuménico, el que fue iniciado el pasado martes, día 20, y termina el próximo viernes, día 24, viéndose como un acontecimiento que, según palabras del Cardenal Montini, hará “la proclamación de los principios sobre los llamados que reiteradamente especiales, respondiendo al espíritu ecuménico, es la representación de la unidad cristiana”. Ya a las puertas del Concilio el propio Papa Juan XXIII expondrá ser la “serena comprensión” de los que “espera con mucho a aquella primera esperanza que brillaba cuando la proclamación de este encuentro mundial.”

Los problemas de pusan- te gravedad que afligan al mundo se presentan como es, “como Iglesia de todos, en particular como Iglesia de los pobres.”

De acuerdo con los propó- sitos expuestos por el Santo Padre, sus puntos serán al- gunos de los puntos sobre los que se hará el Concilio:

- La Iglesia de los pobres.
- La Iglesia de los pueblos y naciones “y cada uno de ellos, aportará la con- tribución de su inteligencia y de su experiencia para curar y sanar las cicatrices de los dos grandes conflictos que han cambiado profundamente la paz de todas las naciones.”

A continuación de las pá- rafos pronunciados por el di- rector del concilio, el Obis- po comenzó sus labores de acuerdo con el programa de materias que se rige.

El próximo domingo, comemorará el cuarto aniver- sario de la instalación de Su Excelencia, Colman F. Ca- rrroll como el primer Obispo de Miami. Es un hecho que desde la advenimiento de la ayuda federal, la Iglesia no sólo ha disminuido esa ayuda, sino que la incrementa por días.

El advenimiento de Mons. Carroll como Obispo de Mi- ami, fue seguido en pocas semanas por el triunfo de Fidel Castro en Cuba, unificación del mundo moderno al mundo antiguo. El Señor, en aquellos momentos, se decidió a velar por las necesidades inmediatas de ese pueblo, un plantando un régimen comunista.

El Seminario diocesano ha abierto sus puertas a un grupo de seminaristas cubanos, cooperando así al fomento y auge de futuros sacerdotes tan necesarios para la profunda etapa cubana.

Se graduó con un honorario de los que aquí se encuentran sino que ha ido, más allá, saliéndose del ámbito diocesano, para proyectarse al futuro contribuyendo a la reconstrucción de una Cuba cristiana. Ejemplo de esto son, citando los dos más im- portantes, el Instituto de Acción Social y la Escuela de Filosofía, que cada año reúna a los cuales se hará un profundo estudio de las doctrinas sociales de la Iglesia, como antídoto al comunismo que hoy impera en Cuba y que salvaguarda para otras naciones del continente y se da formación humana, cristiana y social a jóvenes que en el futuro tendrían sobre sus hombres la tarea de descomunización de Cuba.
It is very difficult for our busy minds to grasp why God should permit the Church in China to be destroyed; why He allows Northern Vietnam, which was the most Catholic part of the whole mainland of Asia, to suffer a Communist persecution; why He lets all our schools in the Sudan be closed. Here we must bow down in faith, for we will never understand why God should allow the Church to be so persecuted when He has the Power to prevent it.

The history of the Church throughout the centuries is a "Sealed Book." The Apocalypse tells us that no one on earth can open it; only the Lamb can do so, and that will not be until the Last Day. We do know that when John saw its mystery, hidden and sealed, he said: "I was all tears." Today's happenings explain his sorrow.

But the difference between God's thoughts and ways and our thoughts and ways is not only in the evil that is done to the Church, but in His mercy to us. God's pardon, unlike ours, is undisturbed by any sense of personal repentance, though sin is an offense against Him. It towers above the highest of earth's beauties of forgiveness, as the stars above the plain. We cannot weary His mercy, nor exhaust His pardon.

Sustained by this knowledge, let we who are called, un-worthily, to be members of the Church share in all her sorrows and persecutions. Oh, what you could do to your character and disposition if you but daily put a dime at the foot of the Crucifix in your room in honor of the "Sealed Book," and then send it to the Holy Father through his Society for the Propagation of the Faith at the end of each month!

GOD LOVE YOU to Mrs. M. K. for $5 "I received this sum for playing the organ in Church and want to give it to the Missions in thanking for the 50 years I have been able to play for His Honor and Glory." . . . . to Marie, Jackie and Patricia for $5 "For all of God's poor children in mission lands." . . . . to Mrs. G. D. for $50 "I had a narrow escape with death—they found me lying between rows of corn, in the sun, after suffering a heat stroke. This offering is in thanking for being found." . . . . to Mrs. J. B. for $10 "My children are all married, now so I bake wedding and birthday cakes. Please accept this part of my profits for the Missions."

Send us your old gold and jewelry—the valuables you no longer use but which are too good to throw away. We will resell them, gold eyeglass frames, flatware, etc., and use the money to relieve the suffering in mission lands. SHARING OUR TREASURE

Invitation Of Census Takers

Led To Family's Conversion

By FATHER JOHN A. O'BRIEN

In the fall of 1961 the Diocese of London, Ontario, launched a Census and Information Program. Its purpose, as announced by Bishop C. Cody, was to enable every Catholic to help in carrying out the mission of the Church: "...to raise up the nation to the level of present civilization; to introduce those who hesitate on the threshold to the warm and salutary influence of the heart; and to lead back those who have separated themselves from religion and whom the Church cannot abandon to their miserable fate."

Thousands of Catholic men and women, working in pairs, made 327,351 calls, distributed thousands of copies of the pamphlets, "Our Questions Non-Catholics Ask" and "Come Back Home for the Propagation of the Church," and brought 785 non-Catholic friends to the Parish Open House.

Following the census, an Information Forum was held in every parish. This result was in many conversions. The fruitfulness of the Census Program is illustrated in the conversion of Mrs. Margaret Staddon and her three children in West Leeds, Ontario. "I had been a Presbyterian," related Mrs. Staddon, "and attended church and Sunday school until I was 17. But something was missing. I felt the need for authoritative guidance and more religious help."

"Hence it was providential that Catholics, taking a religious census, called at our home and invited me to the Information Forum. Though anxious to attend, I was fearful of the reaction and hesitant to take the step. Fortunately my Protestant neighbor, Oliver, had the courage to go and I went with her. But as we neared the door of the church hall on the night of November 7, 1961, I nearly turned back.

"I was greatly startled by the rabbi in store for me! In a kind and friendly way Father J. K. McMaster, pastor, of St. Mary's, set forth the establishment of the Church by Jesus Christ. He commissioned it to the love and preaching of the Gospel and promised to be with it until the end of time. He who hears you," said Jesus, "hears me; and he who rejects you, rejects me; and he who rejects me, rejects him who sent me" (Luke 10: 16).

"I was deeply stirred by the doctrine of the Real Presence, so clearly taught by Jesus: 'I am the living bread that has come down from heaven. If anyone eat of this bread he shall live forever; and the bread of life will give the flesh of the Son of Man.'

"At the conclusion of the Forum, I was so keenly interested that I wrote to the Diocesan Office and stated that I was converting to Catholicism and the need of hearing of the Catholic faith."

"Our three children and I were received into Christ's true Church. Every day our holy Faith means more to us. I pray that God will bestow the grace of faith upon my husband also, and thus afford him the great joy of receiving our Eucharistic Lord. The Information Forum is the ideal way to explain the Faith to inquirers."

"But Catholic neighbors should not only invite people to the Forum but also accompany them and remain with them till they feel at home. Non-Catholics are hesitant to come alone. Were it not for Oliver, I would neither have come nor remained, so great was the coldness of some of the people attending the Forum in those early weeks."

Father O'Brien will be glad to have you come and send their names and addresses to him at Notre Dame University, Notre Dame, Indiana, so he may write their conversion stories.

"...It was providential that Catholics, taking a religious census, called at our home."

Clearing House For Movies Is Needed

By W. H. MOORING

No doubt or delay that hordes of American youngsters are being shown films they ought not to see. Some parents may not care and probably do not know. Even local Church and Parent-Teacher group, outraged by the publicity with which many theaters screen "mature," adult movies at Saturday morning, do not know what to do about it.

Everywhere there is deep concern also, about teenagers who are attracted to unauthentic stories, to the adult only warming which is supposed to keep them away.

Urgently needed is a national clearing house for specifie film information and critical ideas which local bodies, usually on a hit or miss basis, have used with varying success, in cooperation with conscientious theater managers.

Such a national link-up could create a sort of Pied Piper, to draw enough of America's millions of children to the movies, showing the right kind of programs.

Unheard until something of this kind is done, movie producers cannot profitably make motion pictures for the small fry, nor for young teenagers.

In Los Angeles, Mayor Samuel Yorty recently called together representatives of religious, educational and civic bodies. The object: To discuss the effect upon juveniles, of adult and interstitial movie themes and to do about them. First mountain (and travel film producer) Mr. Hettie Dyrenfurth reported interested results achieved through Youth Films, 306 West Sycamore, Orange, Calif.

QUALITY BOOKS FILMED

From 3603 East Boulevard, Cleveland, Ohio, Mrs. Dorothy Burns of Catholic Parent-Teacher League, draws attention to a recent report in "Boxoffice," movie trade paper.

It seems that in New York, 25 test engagements of British-made children's films proved that specialization and organization together can work wonders.

The New York Public Library Association sponsored one show at 50th Street Playhouse and "the kids ate it up." Our Cleveland friends are eyeing the New York experiment. In Wisconsin, Mrs. John B. Hildyard of 39 Hastings Ave., and her "Committee for Morally Fit Movies" and like many similar groups all over the USA, are grasping for a unified, workable plan. I cannot act as coordinator. I do suggest those interested get in touch with each other.

"He who has imagination without learning has wings but no feet." — Tacitus Imagination alone is an asset of considerable value. However, without learning to lend the necessary spark, imagination can, after a while, fall short of its potential greatness.

Imagination is largely a function of the brain and not of the heart or of the soul. It seems a waste, then, when individuals who have apparent imagination are not encouraged to gain the learning to fully complement their natural talents.

This is another thought, but it all comes down to the fact that we are often so busy with the outside world that we cannot get all the time to learn and to study. As a result, we often fail to notice the beauty of the world around us.
