Catholic population of the Diocese of Miami is more than 426,987.

That is the number of Catholics in permanent residence in the 16 counties of South Florida during the year 1963, as revealed in the Official Catholic Directory just published by P. J. Kenedy & Sons, New York.

It represents an increase of 131 per cent, or 241,897 men, women and children, in five years. When the Diocese was created in 1951, the Official Catholic Directory gave the Catholic population at that time as 183,006.

Among the 25 archdioceses and 139 dioceses in the United States, the Diocese of Miami now ranks in 25th position from a

People Receiving Eucharist
Now Join Priest in Prayers

Catholics receiving Communion in the Diocese of Miami and throughout the world will now participate personally in the prayers during distribution of the Holy Eucharist, according to a new decree of the Sacred Congregation of Rites.

In a letter to priests this week, Bishop Coleman F. Carroll announced that, according to the decree issued on April 25, the traditional prayer said by the priest until now when distributing the sacramental hosts, "Corpus Domini Nostri Jesus Christi custodiat animam tuam in vitam aeternam. Amen." ("May the Body of Our Lord Jesus Christ preserve your soul to life everlasting. Amen.") will be replaced by the words, "Corpus Christi." ("Body of Christ.")

Each person receiving Holy Communion will then answer, "Amen," and receive the Blessed Sacrament. The decree is effective immediately.

A second decree of the Congregation of Rites, bearing the same date, provides for the insertion in the Divine Prayers received mainly at the end of the ceremony of Reconciliation, the invocation "Blessed be the Holy Spirit, the Paraclete." Used by Christ in several instances in the New Testament, the word "Paraclete" comes from a Greek word meaning in use in the Church in the 14th century, and is still in use today in the Ambrosian Rite, a Latin rite differing slightly from the Roman and used mainly in the Pope's former Archdiocese of Milan.

The bulletins said inclusion of the Holy Spirit in the Divine Prayers was also a result of many requests, and it was noted that the Divine Prayers had been composed originally as a prayer of reparation against blasphemies.

Following is a translation of the Latin decree issued by the Sacred Congregation of Rites concerning the change in the rite of distributing Communion:

"That the faithful may more actively and fruitfully participate in the Sacrifice of the Mass, and in the very act of Communion profess their faith in the sacerdotal mystery of the Eucharist, many requests have come to Our Holy Father, Pope Paul VI, that he give to the faithful a more fitting prayer of reparation against blasphemies."

"In a letter to priests this week, Bishop Carroll announced that, according to the decree issued on April 25, the traditional prayer said by the priest until now when distributing the sacramental hosts, "Corpus Domini Nostri Jesus Christi custodiat animam tuam in vitam aeternam. Amen." ("May the Body of Our Lord Jesus Christ preserve your soul to life everlasting. Amen.") will be replaced by the words, "Corpus Christi." ("Body of Christ.")"
Pope Adds 70 Consultants To Canon Law Commission

ROME, Italy — Pope Paul VI has named 70 to the Pontifical Commission for the Revision of Canon Law which will incorporate the decisions of the Second Vatican Council into the law of the Church.

Among the new consultants are 22 archbishops and bishops, 47 priests and one layman.

The layman is Prof. Pio Cippotti, expert in civil as well as Church law. He is an advocate of the Sacred Roman Rota, the Church's court of appeal, and holds an advisory post within the Vatican. He is also dean of the civil law faculty of the Pontifical Lateran University in Rome.

Archbishop Lawrence J. Shehan of Baltimore is the only American prelate represented among the newly-named consultants. Among other bishops and archbishops from Europe, Latin America, the Far and Middle East are Ordinaries, auxiliaries and rectors of the Roman Curia.

The Canon Law Commission was set up by Pope John XXIII on March 31, 1963, with a membership of 30 cardinals. In November this number was enlarged by 12. One cardinal has since died, reducing the total to 41. Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York and Albert Cardinal Meyer of Chicago are the only American Cardinals on the commission.

Love The Land, Pope Paul Tells Farmers At Congress

ROME (NC) — Pope Paul VI has urged farmers to stick by the land. He said that although farming may pay less today than other work, the lot of farmers will improve in the future.

Among the 15,000 members of the Farmers' National Congress listening to the Pope were the late Pope John XXIII's brothers, Zaverio and Giuseppe Roncalli, and several of his nephews. The congress has been meeting in Rome.

The Pope said: "It is necessary to love the land, this land to which your toil and your interests are tied, this land which demands so much work and watchfulness, this land which gives to everybody the food needed for life, this land which youth adores is leaving in search of more profitable work, of easier fortune, of freer and more modern ways. "Today your activities are not fashionable with everybody. Sometimes you are uneasy with others who have deserted the fields... Today you feel mortified at seeing your work bring less remuneration than factory workers or office workers. Today you labor under economic difficulties and under the burden of duties and debts. "But be confident. Things will have to improve for you also. It is you who provide the food for man's hunger. You are the producers of the goods needed for life. You represent the most virtuous and stable of the classes of society. Justice will be rendered to you also in the political and social order of contemporary society."

Pope Tells Altar Boys They Give Him Best Consolation

VATICAN CITY (NC) — Pope Paul VI told altar boys here that they give him his "best consolation as Bishop of Rome."

The Pope spoke to 3,000 Roman altar boys at a Mass in St. Peter's basilica. He said that their presence showed "the religious and pastoral vitality of our parish churches and our communities."

He asked the altar boys to take his thanks to their parents, pastors, teachers and all who contribute to their education.

Pope Paul outlined the aims of the training given to altar boys. He said that it helps the altar boy "to move from the external gestures of piety to the first inner consciousness, to experience joy and not boredom in serving the Sacred Rites, to understand with satisfaction the sometimes difficult language of the Liturgy, to dispel — by simplicity and frankness in the performance of religious acts before the gaze of others — that paralyzing human respect which is the most common spiritual weakness of the young."

them as guides and teachers? Which are the newspapers, the speeches and the organizations which seek to gain a hold in the souls of the working people? Let us be frank.

"Many of these ideologies, those of social selfishness and of the superiority of economics over moral and religious law, for example those of destructive class struggle and atheistic Marxism, those of pleasure and vice as a free program of life, and life like, are erroneous ideologies. They are harmful ideologies. "They can be disastrous, particularly for the working person who seeks a sufficient measure of economic means, of dignity and of personal liberty, of social and international peace. Open your eyes and see the events of the present times which show scientific weakness, social inconsistency and the political danger of doctrines which have been turned into powerful entities and which are rising to claim leadership of the world of labor."

The Pope spoke of ideological crises which cause honest, courageous and thoughtful men to modify positions which lead them to give in easily to fashionable cultural trends. "To you then, dear workers, we want to recommend intelligence and liberty in the face of the temptations of false ideologies. Remember it is necessary to think well."

The Pope also urged his listeners to remain close to the Church.

Remembering that recent popes have spoken out on many social questions related to workers' lives and social progress, the Pope added: "We tell you that this extensive and repeated teaching concerns the Church, which was due mainly to our late predecessors, is not merely versed preaching. It is not an interest- ed apologia of its own privileges or temporal advantages. It is not a defense of social conditions which have become historically and logically outdated. It is not an impediment to a legitimate and concrete transformation of society. It is not simply a showy or propagandistic gesture.

Instead, the Pope said, the Church's statements on social problems spring from concern for the worker and are an "intelligent and loyal effort of the Church, in cooperation with your free and legitimate associations and with competent civil and political authorities, to give society the justice, order and peace of which you are first to feel the desire and the need."

The Pope urged his listeners to be positive rather than negative in relation to social evolution.

International Body To Advise On Latin America

By JAMES C. O'NEILL

ROME (NC) — A newly formed international advisory council of the Pontifical Commission for Latin America will have the task of assisting the Holy See in formulating and carrying out a religious program for Latin America.

Father John Considine, M.M., director of the Latin American Bureau of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, in Rome for a meeting of the men, is from Latin America and 8 from Europe and North America — will meet at least once a year.

The first meeting is scheduled for September, prior to the reopening of the third session of the economic council.

Latin American members of the board include Bishop Manuel Larrain Errazurriz of Talca, Chile, president of CELAM (Latin American Bishops' Council); Archbishop Bndero of Olinda and Recife, Brazil; Archbishop Carlos Humberto Rodriguez-Quiroz of San Jose, Costa Rica; Bishop Melchor Montero of Medellin, Colombia; Archbishop Miguel Dario Miranda y Gomez of Mexico City and the 10 department directors of CELAM.

Other members include Bishop Emilio Joseph-Marie De Smoeldt of Bruges, Belgium; Archbishop Mario-Joseph Leclerc of Montreal, Canada; Bishop Guy-Marie Biebo of Orleans, France; Bishop Franz Hengsbach of Freiburg, Germany; Archbishop Giuseppe Carraro of Venice, Italy; Archbishop Caetani of Rome; Archbishop Miguel Gonzalez de Madrid; Bishop James A. McNulty of Buffalo, vice chairman of the U.S. Bishops' Committee for Latin America; and as yet undesignated bishops from Ireland and Holland.

Father Considine said the program made in Latin America since 1955 has been impressive despite the fact that much work is still to be done. He noted that in 1955 the first Latin American conference of bishops met with 773 bishops. Today Latin America has 650 bishops, which represents more than a 20 per cent increase in the hierarchy of the continent in a 10-year period.

The last three popes have been especially active and aware of the problems of the Church in Latin America, Father Considine said. "Pius XII can be considered the initiator of the Holy See's program for Latin America, with the CELAM conference in 1959 and the formation of the pontifical commission in 1958. Pope John XXIII was the executor of the program. In his short pontificate, he wrote more than 20 letters on Latin America and appealed for aid from Western countries.

"Lastly, Pope Paul has shown himself to be the solidifier of the program in establishing the advisory council which will strengthen the projects already begun."

Reviewing the personnel and financial aid programs, Father Considine said three European countries, are doing outstanding work for the Latin American Church. They are Germany, Spain and Belgium. From Germany comes the largest single annual national financial contribution of any country in the world.

In terms of personnel being sent to Latin America, Spain holds the record, with 200 diocesan priests. Eight other European countries, in turn, have good programs of assistance include the United Kingdom, France, Ireland, Italy, Luxembourg, Malta, Portugal and Switzerland.

Austria and Holland are still in the process of setting up programs.

Father Considine said the growth of the movement to assist the Church in Latin America has grown greatly in the U.S. since American, Canadian, and Latin American bishops' committee met in 1959 at Georgetown University in Washington to map common plans.

For the past five years, the U.S. Bishops have given $1 million annually out of the total missionary collections to the pontifical commission, and at their last meeting voted to extend this program for another four-year period.

In terms of personnel, the U.S. has also distinguished itself. Father Considine said, Today, 186 diocesan priests from 43 dioceses are working on the southern continent. He pointed out that this does not include large programs which various American provinces of religious orders and congregations have also been carrying out.

Pope Lauds U.S. Catholics For Aid To Latin America

ROME (NC) — Pope Paul VI has expressed gratitude to U.S. Catholics for their efforts to help the Church in Latin America.

In an audience granted to Archbishop Antonio Samore, vice president of the Pontifical Commission for Latin America, and to Father John Considine, M.M., director of the Latin American Bureau of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, the Holy See asked them to "convey our heartfelt thanks to all those in the United States who work for this special program on behalf of Latin America."

The Pope compared the Latin American situation to the sawing of seed, saying: "There is a time for sawing, for working the ground, and a propitious time for the harvest. This is the propitious time in Latin America. Let it pass, and great harm can follow."

Pope Paul paid special tribute to Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston, founder of the Society of Jesus, the Apostolic, which sends U.S. missionary priests to Latin America, and to as many bishops who are giving their priests and material aid. He also acknowledged the contributions of "the generous religious congregations and millions of American Catholics whose hearts are with their suffering brothers in Latin America."

"Let none of us rest until our U.S. Catholic Church possesses the means to worship God and to live Christian lives as they are done for them," the Pope said.

Pope Greets Groups Of U.S. Newsboys

BY JAMES C. O'NEILL

WASHINGTON (NC) — A group of American newsboys were singled out by Pope Paul VI for their "industry and energy" at the Pope's regular Wednesday audience.

To the newsboys — 83 of them on an all-expense tour sponsored by Parade magazine — the Pope said: "We praise your industry and energy, dear boys, and we urge you to learn for your faithful delivery of each day's news the lessons of fidelity, constancy, perseverance and good will. Be cheerful and helpful to others, and may God bless you and your families.

Patriarch Gets Papal Letter

VATICAN CITY (NC) — Pope Paul VI has told Orthodox Patriarch Athenagoras I of Constantinople, he hopes further contact between the two sees would result in "a strengthening of the bonds already tied." His meeting with the Patriarch in Jerusalem last Jan. 6 and 7, the Pope said, "marked the beginning of a new era in the relations between the Holy See and the venerable Ecumenical Patriarchate."

Pope Paul's letter to Patriarch Athenagoras was made public in L'Osservatore Romano, the Vatican City daily. Meanwhile Vatican Radio broadcast a commentary deploring recent Turkish government actions against the Orthodox Patriarchate.

The Vatican station spoke following the expulsion by Turkey of two archbishops who are members of the 12-member Holy Synod which aids Patriarch Athenagoras in the government of his See. The station called members of the Holy Synod the Patriarch's indispensable collaborators, and said that the Patriarch "is inseparable from his synod." Vatican Radio said also that news of the Turkish government's action shutting down the printing plant of the Ecumenical Patriarchate was "unpleasant and anachronistic."

The station referred to the ecumenical movement as "one of the most important movements of modern thought." Then it said:

"Among the most important figures of ecumenism, the Ecumenical Patriarch of Istanbul, Athenagoras, stands out as a person holy in this magnificent stature as high priest."

Describing the encounter at which the Pope and the Patriarch prayed together on the Mount of Olives as "one of the most beautiful things that has happened in centuries," Vatican Radio continued:

"Remember that what permitted all to join in this joy and this hope is that we have here a phenomenon which is authentically religious. It has nothing to do with politics in any form."

Vatican Radio then pointed out that the Ecumenical Patriarch's authority is restricted to his own See. This was understood here as seeking to correct the mistaken impression current in Turkey that he has authority over the Greek Orthodox community in Cyprus, where Greeks have been besieging the Turkish minority.

The station referred to the Ecumenical Patriarchate in retaliation for the fighting on the island of Cyprus, where Greeks have been besieging the Turkish minority.

"The Ecumenical Patriarch's authority is restricted to his own See. This was understood here as seeking to correct the mistaken impression current in Turkey that he has authority over the Greek Orthodox community in Cyprus, where Greeks have been besieging the Turkish minority."

Paris Hails Ousted Prelates

PARIS (NC) — Two top associates of Orthodox Patriarch Athenagoras are natives of Greece, but had been citizens of Turkey, and had been expelled by the Turkish government were welcomed here with a show of sympathy and solidarity by leading Catholic, Protestant and Orthodox churchmen of France.

Metropolitan Iakovos of Philadelphia and Metropolitan Emilianos of Seleufikia — both members of the ruling 12-man Holy Synod of the Ecumenical Patriarchate — were stripped of their Turkish citizenship and ordered to leave Turkey.

Shortly after their arrival here they were formally welcomed by Maurice Cardinal Feltin in a reception in the hall of honor of the Paris archdiocese. The metropolitans were accompanied to the Cardinal's reception by Bishop Miletos, Exarch for France of the Ecumenical Patriarchate, and by Pastor Charles Westphal, president of the Protestant Federation of France.

The two prelates also went to the American (Protestant) cathedral here, where a high Protestant and Catholic officials went to give public witness of their sympathy.

Among those saluting them were Calvinist Pastor Marc Boegner, a former president of the World Council of Churches, and Father Christian Dumont, O.P., head of the Isma center for Orthodox studies here who is a consultant to the Vatican Secretariat for Promoting Christian Unity.

Father Dumont, who had recently visited Patriarch Athenagoras in Istanbul, voiced his high esteem for the Patriarch and declared that the Patriarch's loyalty to Turkey has always been irreproachable.

The two Orthodox Archbishops were ousted by Turkey, it was indicated, as part of its moves against the Orthodox Patriarchate in retaliation for the fighting on the island republic of Cyprus between the Turkish minority and the Greek majority, which is overwhelmingly Orthodox.

Many of France's leading Christian churchmen had welcomed with the Turkish government's banishment of the Orthodox Archbishops.
Catholics In United States Total 44,874,371

NEW YORK (CNS) — There now are 44,874,371 Catholics in the 50 United States, according to the 1964 Official Catholic Directory.

The total represents a year’s increase of 1,026,433 and includes all Catholics in the armed forces at home and abroad, in the diplomatic and other services abroad.

The directory just issued by J. Kennedy & Sons, New York publishers, said the new total is a 10-year increase of 12,255,867, or 4.5 per cent, over the 31,848,425 U. S. Catholics in 1954.

There are now 38 archdioceses in the United States, with a Catholic population of 19,238,909 and 130 dioceses with 25,545,462, including 2,000,000 Catholics reported by the Military Ordinariate. The 38 archdioceses reported a group of 305,057 and the 130 dioceses 325,876.

The seven archdioceses with Catholic populations in excess of one million are Chicago, 2,317,700; New York, 1,782,630; Philadelphia, 1,309,308; Detroit, 1,461,567, and Providence, 576,983, and Providence, 576,983.

The upward trend in Catholic populations and the 120 dioceses with more than 500,000 Catholics increases the total of ordained priests to 17,795 to 329,450. During the period, the number of 1963 infant baptisms; 2,065 marriages and 2,290 deaths.

The number of full-time pupils in Catholic elementary and high schools reflects an increase of 101,184 during the past year. The 1,587 parish and diocesan high schools report 677,109 pupils, an increase of 33,250 over 1962; the 901 private high schools with 281,250 show an increase of 19,103 in one year. Pupils in 10,642 parish elementary schools now number 4,317,415, or 37,022 more, while 1,111 students in the 400 private elementary schools now total 38,211. In addition, 17,434 students are accommodated in the 14 protective institutions.

RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION

Further progress of religious instruction to children under relaxed time, in religious runction schools report data, is evidenced in the 1964 reports of 1,248,137 high school pupils and 3,007,794 in elementary schools, for a total of 4,316,931 public school children receiving religious instruction, indicating a year’s increase of 317,707 pupils, of 7.1 per cent.

The precise statistics now available establish the fact that there is an aggregate, including orphans, 10,374,436 American youths in all grades, under Catholic instruction — an increase of 499,363 or 4 per cent over comparable figures for 1963.

Six new special and eight less general institutions bring the number of Catholic hospitals to 1,946. Red capacities have been increased by 2,524 to present facilities for 117,113. The number of general hospitals is 1,003, with 143,132 beds and the 101 special hospitals accommodate 11,961. Patients treated in 1963 increased by 882,418 to a record high of 15,795,084.

Current enrollments of 33,498 students in the 337 Catholic training schools for nurses, represent a decrease of 2,106 in the number of student nurses and five fewer schools. Children in the 336 orphanages and infant asylums decreased by 131, to a present total of 23,796; while 23,430 children are cared for in foster homes. The total of 47,246 dependent children reflects an increase of 323 within the 111 foster homes for invalids and the aged were increased by 19 and now number 376, with facilities for 23,839 residents.

After exceeding 135,000 for 10 successive years, the number of converts entering the Catholic Church during 1963 fell below this figure. The 123,906 converts in 1963 represent the lowest annual count over the past decade, during which time 1,390,344 conversions have been recorded.

The number of 1963 infant baptisms was 1,322,355, an increase of 32 for the year. Marriages recorded increased by 17,796 to 329,450. During the same period, 379,390 Catholics died in the U. S., 18,738 more deaths than in the previous year.
Growth Of Miami Diocese In Five Years Astonishing

When historians in future generations record the history of the Diocese of Miami they may find the statistics of the first five years so surprising that they will be forced to check and double check for the facts. Indeed, we ourselves, so close to the critical events going on in the past decade, find the story of growth and vitality in the Diocese nothing less than astonishing.

Today the official Catholic Directory of the United States revealed that the statistics of the Diocese of Miami is listed as having a Catholic population of 346,987, an increase of 241,897 over the past five years. This does not include almost 10,000 residents being cared for in our parishes nor thousands of winter and summer tourists. Of 148 archdioceses and dioceses, Miami now ranks 26th in Catholic population.

To meet the spiritual needs of almost a half million, the record shows that there are 65 parishes in the 16 counties of Southern Florida with 125 diocesan priests and 90 religious priests in full-time assignment. During these past five years when the critical needs of education remain front page news, 11 high schools, 17 elementary schools and two colleges have been built, bringing the educational institutions on all levels to a total of 38 and providing for 57,558 students.

The response of parents and young men to remedy the critical shortage of priests has been remarkable. Figures show 278 seminarians now in preparation for the priesthood in five years.

The Directory, of course, can give no hint of gratifying results in other areas which are beyond the scope of numerical description, such as the peaceful integration of all Catholic schools, the quiet of civil and social justice, the diocesan-wide multi-faceted plan on behalf of the Cuban refugees.

There are other surprising statistics recorded in detail in The Voice, which help to deepen the conviction that God has blessed this Diocese perhaps beyond the expectation of the most optimistic.

Moreover these figures, while cold and lifeless in themselves, point up the vital, healthy state of the Church in this area. More and more, parishes, and the corresponding cooperation of the Catholic people with their Bishop and priests.

With the challenges of the immediate past met so successfully, we can face the problems of the present and the future more confidently.

Pieta: Appeal Universal

Early descriptive reports of the World’s Fair carry the information, which can hardly be termed surprising, that many visitors have returned again and again to stand before Michelangelo’s Pieta...to stare, reflect, and go away wondering...

Apparently the appeal of the Pieta is universal. Art lovers, non-Christians, atheists, agnostics, persons of all beliefs, old and young find it “spearling” to them. There is no need to try to invade the privacy of their thoughts, as they join the queue of admirers which stretches back over 400 years, because as a rule everyone who sees it wants to express their reactions.

Some obviously are lost in admiration of the exquisite art found in the gleaming white marble, which looks as if it were completed only recently. Others are moved deeply as if seeing the most impressive symbol of the wondrous story of the redemption of mankind and finding in the heroic, strangely peaceful figure of Our Lady, the indescribably, mysterious love of a Mother for her Son and her God.

We have no desire to provide an argument on the relative merits of classical and modern art where religious truth is portrayed. But the Pieta in our country now brings to mind some interesting comments on “obscure art” made by Pope Paul VI when he was known as Cardinal Montini.

He said on one occasion, “Artists seem to have abandoned the idea of producing works which are intelligible.” He said frankly also that critics “use language that requires a special knowledge in order to understand the meaning. We, the audience, make pathetic efforts to understand at least something. We believe that the kingdom of art was beautified whereas today it is pain and confusion.”

One glance at the Pieta makes some of the ultra-modern artists appear more obscure than ever.

Prayers For All Seafarers Will Be Offered On Sunday

By Fr. Joseph P. Cronin

The Bishops of the United States have designated the first Sunday of May as National Apostleship of the Sea Sunday; a day of thought and prayer for the spiritual and temporal welfare of all seafarers throughout the world. The purpose of this observance is to request the prayers of the Faithful for all seafaring men, for those whose lives are bound up or influenced by shipping, and for the success of the Apostleship of the Sea.

When lives are lost at sea, the reports are flashed across the world by the press, by radio, television and newspaper. For awhile we think a little of the risks at sea and the men who have lost their lives in fires, explosions, collisions or other maritime catastrophes. And, sometimes, we tend to forget the problems of seamen.

The maritime labors of seafaring men separate them from their families and loved ones and the influence of a Christian home. They cannot participate in the activities of their home parish and are unable to receive the Sacraments frequently. The Apostleship of the Sea Sunday directs our thoughts to the mission field of the sea to pray for the seafarers.

On Sunday, May 3, let us particularly pray to Our Blessed Mother to beg her intercession for the Church Maritime.

PRAYER

Star of the Sea, great Mother of God and our Mother, you who know all the dangers of soul and body that threaten seamen, protect your sons who sail the seas, and protect also their families that await them at home. Star of the Sea, Mother of the Church, give light and strength to those priests and laymen who bring the love of your Divine Son among seamen. Fill their hearts with a supernatural and life-giving zeal for the apostolate.

Star of the Sea, light shining in the darkness, be a guide to those who sail amid the storms and dangers of life. Stir up in their midst the hearts of ardent apostles, and bring us all to the safety of heaven’s port.

Sacred Heart of Jesus, have mercy on all those who sail the seas. O Mary, Star of the Sea, watch over those who sail the seas. St. Peter, and St. Andrew, pray for us.

Council’s End Next Session Far From Being A Certainty

By FATHER JOHN B. SHEERIN

The progressiveness, breathing deeply of Pope John’s aggiornamento, dominated the first round; but in round two, their exhortation turned to gloom before the successful counter-punching and skillful fidgeting of the reactionaries.

In this flamboyant style, the March issue of the magazine Liber-tas describes the first two sessions of the Council.

Now the rumor is flying about in non-Catholic circles that the reactionaries will administer a knockout blow to Pope John’s aggiornamento in the third session. It is being said that the chief schemas are being reduced to glittering generalities and that the end of the third session will mean the end of the Council and the end of all hopes for Church renewal.

However it is far from certain that the Council will end with the end of the third session. For many months it was taken for granted that Pope Paul wanted to terminate the Council next session. This impression was probably based on a line in his closing discourse at the end of the second session.

He alluded to certain questions which “remain open to new study and new discussions which we hope the third session will bring to a happy conclusion.” Some commentators took this as meaning that they had ended the Council next session and they claimed that a Council extending beyond the third session was impossible.

The reactionaries, however, are by now predicting a pardonable blow and the end of the Council. They directed their thoughts to the mis- sion field of the sea and declared a personal crusade to those priests and laymen who bring the love of your Divine Son among seamen. Fill their hearts with a supernatural and life-giving zeal for the apostolate.

Far From Being A Certainty

Now the word seems to be blowing in a different direction. It is no longer believed that Pope Paul wants to rush the Council Fathers. In a talk to the Rutina Bishops on April 14 he said that he was leaving the Council Fathers free and full of possibilities for study and di- stance.

This pastoral statement probably came as an unwelcome sur- prise to some of the more conservative-minded prelates who want an early end to the Council.

Cardinal Ottaviani, in a recent interview with NCWC News Service, remarked: “With some simplification of the procedure, the Council should be able to conclude its work in the next session.” And he very casually alluded to the fact that this would require the elimination of many of the councilors and already proposed for discussion.

Giuseppe Cardinal Siri of Genoa, in a similar interview with NCWC News Service, said: “One more session is enough and it is convenient. Today the bishops cannot remain absent for too long a time. The diocese would suffer too much.”

In addition to these bishops who are extreme conservatives, there are probably many other bishops who are unhappy about the enforced physical inactivity, the extraordinary expenses, and the serious problems caused by their presence at the Council.

Now the rumor is sweeping through the progressive-minded prelates, however, there is a real fear that an early end to the Council will lower the hopes of aggiornamento in the bud.
Mass Is The Perfect Act Of Worship

By Msgr. JAMES J. WALSH

The current discussions on the Liturgy reforms remind us how we interferes with the injection of something more or less permanent into our souls. The Church interferes with the injection of this good feeling, they simply stay away.

They may state for instance, that sometimes the pastor himself may have an enervating effect on their wills, if his preaching is of low caliber. Or the choir may be so poor in talent that it is more tiring than inspiring. At any rate, for these persons, the church services are pleasant affectations of a kind that may have some slight appeal by infusing some of that funny inside feeling.

It is curious to note that it is for the same reason that so many others never go to church at all.

It is often said, "I worship God in my own way. If I sit in the open, alone with my thoughts and watch the sun going down, etc., I get the warmest, friendliest thoughts. I just close to God in nature. For God in my own way. If I sit inside feeling.

There are indeed many ways for all of us, man, using his own resources, may worship God. Hymns, scripture readings, prayers, etc., are all good in themselves. But they are all purely human acts, no matter divine, no matter cause man is capable only of limited good'. These are hardly fitting the reality of the infinite perfect God.

And isn't it because of our limitations that God has given us the Mass? The Mass makes possible that which we can never be. This is why the Mass is of God, of God and not a human act. It is divine. It is not man's invention, but God's.

The wonder of the Mass and the secret of the great crowds streaming through the church doors every Sunday is found in the fact that it is Christ offering Himself in hommage to His Eternal Father. It is Calvary before our eyes in an unclouded light. By the miracle of the Holy Eucharist Christ becomes present on the altar. He comes again as Priest and offers Himself in the Holy of Holies. The Mass is Christ's infinitely great prayer perpetuated. It is His act of adoration and thanksgiving. His gift toward our sins, His intercession for our needs.

The Mass is therefore great and fruitful beyond words, because it is the action of Our Lord. And when we take our prayers and thankoffering of all kinds, we know, that the social encyclicals of the popes are binding upon Catholics.

For those who may have forgotten, the argument was all about, suffice it to recall that it was occasioned by the noncanonical National Review's lack of enthusiasm, shall we say, for Pope John XXIII's encyclical, Mater et Magistra, (Christianity and Social Progress).

We can and must keep trying. We cannot, of course, weigh the possible influence of each individual decision which we make. But if we did so, probably nothing ever would get done. Unavoidably, too, we shall make our share of mistakes.

We endeavored the en-"durance of influence, priest or priest of other type of leader. However, we may not be so alert to the fact that each of us, in the simplist of our daily contacts with other personal, is setting in motion a chain of events which can never die. We must make our share of mistakes.

An awareness of the fact that some occupations are more or less forces in motion which will roll on to time's farthest shore, should make us more willing to become simple servants of society, inarticulate helplessness and egotism.

We cannot, of course, weigh at every moment the possible impact of each individual decision which we make. But if we did so, probably nothing ever would get done. Unavoidably, too, we should make our share of mis- takes.

God Love You
Most Reverend
Fulton J. Sheen

The other night, an athletic director said to me: “Please remember my grave need in Mass tomorrow.” Suppose I had answered him: “Give me a dollar and I will give you this,” then handed him an embossed printed card reading, “You will be remembered in my Mass.” Or suppose I took advantage of the grief of a neighbor and passed out cards at a funeral home, promising to remember the deceased in a Mass for a dollar or more. Would not this be converting the Via Dolorosa into the “Via Dollarosa” and making prayers “racket”?

CALLING ALL CATHOLIC PEOPLE! Put this note into your prayer book:
1. You are already remembered in every Mass by every priest in every part of the world. This is true of the dead as well as the living.
2. You have a pastor, and he is obliged to read Mass for you — just not to remember you — almost one hundred times a year.
3. Never pay anyone a cent for a more “remembrance in Mass,” even though you get an elaborately embossed card with your name in Gothic print.
4. There is a difference in having a Mass offered in justice for your own special intention and making an offering for a remembrance, which you already have in justice.
5. The next time you are asked to buy a card promising a “remembrance in Mass,” tell the seller: “I will give you something if you promise to FAST for me instead of pray.”

Go to your parish priest or diocesan director of The Society for the Propagation of the Faith and ask not for a moment, but that the renewed sacrifice of Christ be carried out this month. A priest in Africa cannot send you an elaborate card — which is worth more than a thousand cards! — but that the renewed sacrifice of Christ be carried out this month. A priest in Africa cannot send you a memento, but that the renewed sacrifice of Christ be carried out this month. The importance of this lesson should be learned by all American Catholics in all of the Latin American countries. We have no quarrel with such. However, all alien priests serving foreign missions here in the United States, Australia and other countries, with whom the United States, Australia and other countries, with whom our mission accomplish-
A MARRIED FORMER Lutheran minister, Ernest Adam Beck, 39, has been granted a special dispensation by Pope Paul VI to be ordained a Catholic priest of the Latin Rite. With Mr. Beck are his wife, and their two children, Michael and Monica. Mr. Beck, a Detroit native, will serve in the Diocese of Mainz.

Former Minister, Married, Is Permitted To Be Priest

By FATHER

PLACID JORDAN, O.S.B.

MAINZ, Germany (NO — May 1, 1964) — Pope Paul VI has personally granted a special dispensation so that a married former Lutheran minister from Detroit may be ordained a Catholic priest of the Latin Rite. He will be the first American in the history of the Church to be accorded this privilege.

The permission carries with it the approval to exercise in full the rights, privileges and obligations of the sacramental married state, together with the unrestricted exercise of the priesthood.

The beneficiary of this privilege is Ernest Adam Beck, 39, former pastor of Holy Trinity Lutheran church in North Bergen, N.J.

Beck is expected to be ordained for the Mainz diocese in the near future. He will then study at the university here to work for a doctorate in theology. His family is to join him here soon.

The dispensation was granted by the Pope at the request of Bishop Hermann Volk of Mainz and his Auxiliary, Bishop Joseph Reuss. They were supported in turn by Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston and Augustin Cardinal Bea, S.J., president of the Vatican Secretariat for Promoting Christian Unity.

Beck is married to the former Dorothy Marie Gollin, of Teaneck, N.J. They were married in Tulsa, Tex., where Mr. Beck served as pastor of Christ Lutheran church in 1949. Mrs. Beck and their two children, Michael, 13, and Monica, 9, have been residing in Oklahoma City, Okla. Mrs. Beck embraced the Catholic Faith with her husband on April 17, 1954.

During his seminary days in St. Louis Beck met Msgr. Martin B. Hellriegel, pastor of Holy Cross parish who for many years has been a leader of the Catholic Hierarchy movement. Through him he became acquainted with aspects of Catholic life which impressed him deeply. His interest in the liturgy finally led him to study Roman Missal, and as a minister he began to conceive of the Lutheran liturgy in the light of its original setting, both historically and doctrinally.

After further studies of Catholic teaching, on April 17, 1954 — Holy Saturday — he and his wife were received into the Catholic Church by Msgr. Hellriegel. On Easter Sunday, their son Michael also was received. Their daughter Monica is a cradle Catholic.

Beck worked for Catholic Relief Services-National Catholic Welfare Conference in St. Louis under Msgr. Victor T. Suren, for two and one-half years.

Meanwhile friends had made contact for him with Archbishop Lorenz Jager of Paderborn, Germany, who is in charge of interfaith relations on behalf of the German Hierarchy. Through the Archbishops good offices he was admitted as a private student at the Mainz diocesan seminary in 1956.

He continued his studies at the Mainz Adam Mosler Institute of Paderborn, a diocesan institution promoting interfaith relations internationally, on a scholarly level, and concluded them eventually at Immaculate Conception Seminary under the guidance of the Benedictine Fathers of Conception, Missouri. He then taught for a while at Corpus Christi High School in St. Louis.

In Germany, five validly married, former Protestant ministers have been ordained priests during the past 12 years, under special dispensations from the impediment of the married state granted by the Holy See.

The married priests are expected to continue living as family men as is the case with priests of the Eastern Rites. The only restriction is that should the wives of these convert priests die, they may not remarry.

Bishop Calls On K. of C. To Act On Rights Question

Pointing out that all men are created equal in the sight of God, Bishop Coleman F. Carroll called on the Knights of Columbus to move ahead on the question of granting equal rights and privileges to everyone regardless of their race or color.

Bishop Carroll declared in a talk to the delegates to the 60th annual state Knights of Columbus convention last weekend that "this is not a political question. It is a right to speak on this question because there is a definite moral principle involved in it."

In his sermon to the Knights during a Sunday morning Mass at Little Flower Church, Hollywood, which opened the convention, Bishop Carroll said "it is a moral problem and as such must be faced by all."

"I realize," said Bishop Carroll, "that this problem has been made more difficult because of the lack of action on this very matter over the past 100 years," but nonetheless, he said, some steps must be taken to help solve it.

"You know," said Bishop Carroll, "that Our Lord suffered and died for all men regardless of the color of their skin."

Renaming the Knights that they have often been referred to as the "right arm of the Church," Bishop Carroll told them that "you, as outstanding Catholics, can no longer claim this honor unless you give other than lip service to this question.

"ORDERLY MANNER" Pointing out that one of the "most difficult aspects" of the problem is the matter of education, Bishop Carroll said he hoped the Knights would help "bring about, in a peaceful and orderly manner the granting of the rights and privileges to which every man is entitled."

"Our concern," he said, "is with the problem of vocations in the Diocese, Bishop Carroll called on the Knights to help "provide a proper atmosphere in the home where a vocation might develop."

Bishop Carroll urged the Knights to answer this question: "What can I do to help provide priests in sufficient numbers to effect the conven-ience of the Mass and hear con-celebrations?"

In citing the need for more priests in other parts of the world as well as in the Miami Diocese, Bishop Carroll said that 100,000 priests are needed in South America today.

Bishop Carroll also noted in his sermon that "this will be the last time the Knights of Columbus will assist at Mass in silence at its convention."

LITURGY CHANGES Bishop Carroll pointed out that as a result of the liturgy changes approved by Vatican Council II, "the first portion of the Mass and several other sections of it will be said by you in English before the first of the year."

Bishop Carroll urged the Knights to set up courses in their Councils to "acquaint their members with the changes in the liturgy that will take place."

"It is because you are members of the Mystical Body of Christ that you should take a more active part in the celebra-tion of the Mass," said Bishop Carroll as he called on the Knights to "take the lead in helping bring about a fuller participation of the laity in the Sacrifice of the Mass."

"Catholics generally expect a man who is a member of the Knights of Columbus to be an outstanding member of the community in which he lives," said Bishop Carroll adding that "by reason of your example and enthusiasm for a fuller participation in the liturgy you will inspire others to follow your example."

Bishop Carroll said the purpose of the liturgy changes is to encourage the laity to join with the priest in the offering of the Mass.

"It is not a Mass of silence," said Bishop Carroll.

In commenting on the reasons for the summoning of the Vatican Council which has brought about these liturgy changes, Bishop Carroll said the Council was called because "materialism and atheism" have "in many places throughout the world and because of the rapid advances in science and other fields that concern the faithful, the Church has to "provide a proper atmosphere in the home where a vocation might develop."

The main speaker at the Knights of Columbus Convention banquet held at the Diplomat Hotel in Hollywood Sunday night was Father Donald P. X. Connolly, assistant pastor, St. Francis Xavier Church, Fort Myers.

Father Connolly, who is state Father of the Columbian Squires, junior organization of the Knights of Columbus, told his banquet audience that "the true Christian is docile, humble and patient."

Father Connolly declared that the "true Christian is also a "joyful man" and that "people who are not near Christ do not know what joy means."

One of the ways in which a person may attain this joy is by helping to "work to make this world ready for Christ," said Father Connolly.

New state officers elected by the Knights of Columbus were: John Di Vito, of St. Petersburg, state deputy; Charles J. Myers, of Fort Myers, state secretary; John Gregoire, of Miami, state treasurer; Edward J. Atkins of Miami, state aide, and Michael Traub of Winter Haven, state warden.

ST. Helen HNS
Holds Induction

VERO BEACH — The Holy Name Society of St. Helen Church has inducted 48 new members into the Society.

The induction ceremony was held in the church and was preceded by a procession into the church which was led by a cross-bearer and altar boys.

Officers of the Holy Name Society formed a hollow square in the sanctuary and the pastor, Father John F. McKeown, questioned representative candidates as to their intention in joining the Holy Name Society.

Frank L. Zorc, president of the Society, then led the Society members in the Holy Name pledge.

Following the induction ceremony, the Society members assisted at Mass and received communion and then took part in a Communion breakfast. Speaker at the breakfast was Joseph B. Egan II, past president of the Diocesan Union of Holy Name Societies.

Two KC Men Inducted

The Miami Beach Council of the Knights of Columbus has inducted two members into the Third Degree.

Receiving the degrees were Dr. Rubin Zablata and Richard Peterson.

Anyone interested in joining the Miami Beach Knights of Columbus Council is urged to contact Frank Petersen, membership chairman at JE 4-2015, Grand Knight Arthur O’Neill at JE 4-6312, and 15 are invited to participate in the conferences as a tribute to their mothers. Father Cyril Schweinberg, C.P., retreat director, said.

Reservations may be made by calling the retreat house at 446-7266.

Holy Cross Brother Marks His 25th Year as Teacher

His 25th anniversary as a Brother of the Congregation of the Holy Cross was observed Wednesday by Brother Ricardo Helman, assistant principal of Archbishop Curley High School. A Jubilee Mass was offered in the Cathedral by Msgr. Maurice Helman, of Lincoln, Neb., brother of the jubilant, and the sermon was preached by Father Joseph O'Shea, diocesan superintendent of high schools.

The Holy Cross Brother, whose career as an educator has taken him to six schools from coast to coast, entered Notre Dame University and subsequent studies led to a master's degree in English and Education in 1952.

In addition to serving as vice principal and assistant religious superior, he has also held administrative offices as director of studies, prefect of discipline and chairman of the guidance department in the various schools at which he was assigned.

Members of his family present for the jubilee were his mother, Mrs. George Helman, Hastings, Neb.; and five other brothers and sisters including Sister Mary Louise, O.P., principal, St. Michael School, Oelnd Park, Ill.

15 To Be Received in Order as Novices

NCWC Official Explains U.S. Aid Stand

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — No one seeking inclusion of non-public schools in federal aid proposals wants the government to provide catechisms or crucifixes, the director of the Legal Department of the National Catholic Welfare Conference said here.

William R. Consedine told the 53rd annual convention of the Catholic Bishops of the United States, which began here today, that catechisms and crucifixes are reaction to those favoring aid to church-related schools are eager to keep complete control of the religious aspects of education.

Consedine has been one of the NCWC spokesmen to appear before congressional committees studying Federal aid to education and was a chief architect of the local department's major legal study arguing for the constitutionality of Federal aid to church-related schools.

He told 1,200 men: "If the government provides scientific equipment or language laboratories for children going to one school, it makes no sense to say that the government cannot provide the same things to all children for the same public purpose."
Mass In English By Advent Predicted At DCCW Meeting

There is a “good possibility” that priests in the United States will begin to celebrate Mass in English on the first Sunday of Advent, the executive secretary of the National Catholic Welfare Conference told the Miami Diocesan Council of Catholic Women en during closing sessions of their convention.

Msgr. Paul F. Tanner of Washington spoke during the banquet which marked the conclusion of the one-day meeting held Thursday, April 23, at the Dupont Plaza Hotel, Bishop Coleman F. Carroll predicated at the banquet attended by more than 660 DCCW members, clergy, and the guests from the 16 counties in the Diocese of Miami.

Msgr. Paul Tanner

When Mrs. Thomas F. Palmer, a past president of North Dade Deaconess, and a member of the Sacred Heart parish, elected fourth diocesan president during the annual convention, was formally introduced by Msgr. McCarthy of San Francisco, president of the National Council of Catholic Women, the following tribute was paid to her:

Mrs. McCarthy also introduced Mrs. Patrick F. McNally, St. Francis of Assisi parish, Riviervale Beach, as past president of the East Coast Deaconess, as recording secretary; and Mrs. Joseph Nader, vice president of the East Coast Deaconess, as recording secretary; and Mrs. Louis D. Oates, president, Broward County Deaconess.

Vice president

Vice presidents are: Miss Gertrude Shaw, president, Southwest Coast Deaconess; Mrs. Harry A. Mitchell, Jr., president, North Dade Deaconess; Mrs. Julia D. MUST HAVE CONVOLUTION

Speaking on the topic, “The Liturgical Reform - Its Background and Its Significance to a Catholic Mother,” Monsignor Tanner told the convention that “It is not enough” for the good Christian mother merely to do what she is told; she must, in order truly to be a person, do so out of her own initiative and volition — both as the work of grace with which the individual must cooperate, and as the work of free will in which she is taught, educated, and guided to act for her good purpose, using our time according to rules of good judgment.”

Support To Equal Rights

Bishop Carroll declared:

Referring to the need for education, Bishop Carroll pointed out that “if a man is not given equal opportunity for education, he cannot get a position and if he cannot get a position, he cannot provide properly for his family. It is the obligation of every Catholic to do what he can to see that the individual has equal opportunity with regard to education and other matters.”

Bishop Carroll told delegates and guests that equal rights and opportunities were not going to happen “overnight. It will happen,” the Bishop said, “when men sit down across the table and discuss the matter intelligently. It is not fair for one group of people to sit down and decide what will be done for any other group of people. What happens now is the responsibility of all of us. If we are honest and sincere and make our voices heard, we can hope to have intelligent participation, there must be first of all a proper understanding of the liturgy. Hence the most immediate aim must be to achieve such an understanding through participation by first turning our attention to ‘the necessary information’ which must precede (Art. 14). Unless there is this basic understanding of the Church and its liturgy, we can have only ‘liturgical activity,’ but not true participation.

In addition to intellectual enlightenment, it is most essential that the faithful in our parishes, schools and religious houses come to live and experience truly the spirit of Christian one- ness, the communal bonds of Christ and His family of God,” Monsignor Tanner said.

“Bishop Carroll uses ‘the liturgical reform’ as a way of developing all of our parochial and religious activities, so that it may find its most profound expression in the liturgy. Unless Christians grasp in a vital manner the reality of the Mystical Body, and experience in other facets of their lives this communal bond, it will be impossible to hope that our congregations will be able to witness as a social bond precede.”

During early sessions of the convention, Bishop Carroll evidenced that the NCCW group has long since become acquainted with the decree promulgated on the liturgical reform, the recent promulgated Constitution on the Sacred Liturgy, prepare for intelligent active participation in the divine worship of the Church. He urged the development of a Christian understanding that will help “bridge political, social and economic barriers, among the people of South America, and pledged the support of the Council by prayer and material assistance in religious vocations to meet the spiritual needs in Latin America.”

Members unanimously agreed on the importance to strengthen family life, insist in schools being given spiritual and moral values, and to encourage vocations to the priestly and religious life. With parental guidance, the example of self-sacrifice and prayer and associated activities which in full operation with the Co- operation of Christian Doctrine and the Catholic Welfare programs of the Diocese of Miami.

BISHOP SPEAKS AT NURSES’ CONVENTION

'Church Can't Change Divine Law'

"Although many people are hoping that the Church is changing some of her restraints, barriers and laws, the Church cannot change what is a moral or divine law," Bishop Coleman F. Carroll told members of the Miami Diocesan Council of Catholic Nurses Sunday at the DuPont Plaza Hotel.

Bishop Carroll spoke during a luncheon which followed Pontifical Low Mass in the Cathedral, where several hundred nurses and nursing Sisters of the Miami DCCN observed their Second Annual Communion Sunday.

Emphasizing that means directly used to prevent conception are immoral, Bishop Carroll told his audience that "there is still a very definite and positive doctrine that you cannot willfully take means to prevent conception."

His Excellency added that the rhythm method, under certain circumstances, has been approved by the Church which has always taught that the primary purpose of marriage is procreation and which now, of necessity, has added the proper education of children to that primary purpose.

Miami Delegates at Meet

Discussing the drug Enovid commonly referred to as the "pill," Bishop Carroll pointed out that "what the pill actually does is not yet definitely accepted by the medical profession. At the present time, while there is much discussion from a scientific point of view, it is merely in an experimental stage as to what does happen, but the facts that flow from it are beginning to show from the experiments of scientists."

declaring that the "failures of the rhythm method have been magnified partly because of Church approval," Dr. Cavagnagh cited the main reasons for the failure of the method as the failure of the married couples to follow instructions or inaccurate instructions.

Dr. Denis Cavagnagh, associate professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology at the University of Miami School of Medicine, told the council members that "many responsible Catholic families need help with family planning," and reiterated the rhythm method of family planning is morally acceptable to the Church.

"Overpopulation does exist," Dr. Cavagnagh, a member of Little Flower parish, Coral Gables, said, "and the problem will not be solved by increasing food production."

UNHARMFUL EFFECTS

Dr. Cavagnagh pointed out that the undesirable effects of the "pill" are many, including nausea, gastric pain, breakthrough bleeding, growth of fibroids in the uterus. "Because of the side effects there is little justification for the use of Enovid or any other of those pills," the specialist said, "as long as safer methods of family planning are available."

Dealing with the problem of abortion, Father Chepisan said, "as long as means di...

DCCN PRESIDENT, Mrs. Edward Keefe of Holy Family parish, North Miami, reelected to office for 1964, talks with Bishop Coleman F. Carroll and Father Anthony Chepisan, moderator of the Miami DCCN which now has five chapters.

LUNCHEON SPEAKERS included Father Patrick Stevin, Bishop's representative to Hospitals in the Diocese of Miami, left; Dr. Denis Cavagnagh, associate professor in obstetrics and gynecology at the U. of M. School of Medicine, right, shown above with Father Harold Murray, director of the Bureau of Health and Hospitals of the NCWC in Washington.

Nurses have a special mission which is both human and divine and outside of motherhood and the religious life there is probably no vocation so important, the NCWC director of Health and Hospitals said here.

"The nurse is expected to be many things," Father Murray said. "My job is to help nurses to fulfill their role and the role of our profession. At the present time we are living in a changed world. We live in a period of change, that nurses take the place of the physician. The many sacrifices entailed.

Youth Adoration Day Scheduled Sunday

National Youth Adoration Day will be celebrated throughout the country and in the Diocese of Miami this Sunday, May 3.

On Youth Adoration day, all Catholic youth are urged to:
1. Receive Holy Communion,
2. Spend at least 30 minutes in private adoration before the Blessed Sacrament,
3. Participate in a Holy Hour for Youth where this can be arranged.

In St. Hugh parish, Coconut Grove, the Catholic Youth Organization will hold a Holy Hour at 6:30 p.m. this Sunday in commemoration of Youth Adoration Day.

Father Walter J. Dockerrill, diocesan director of youth activity, has urged all CYO’s in the Diocese to plan some observance on Youth Adoration Day.

Father Dockerrill said all Catholic Youth on that day are asked to pray for the permanent intention of Youth Adoration Day which is to ask Mary to intercede for the current intention of Youth Adoration.

In addition, said Father Dockerrill, all Catholic youth are urged to pray for the current intention of Youth Adoration Day which is “that youth may be aware of the responsibility of having the right to conduct the investiture before the state Knights of Columbus by reason of having the top investiture team in South Florida.”

The installation was conducted by the Investiture Team from Our Lady of Good CounselCircle No. 1220 in Coral Gables.

The Coral Gables team earned the right to conduct the investiture before the state Knights of Columbus by reason of having the top investiture team in South Florida.

The new officers installed were: Jolene Menard, of the Hialeah Circle which is the 22nd circle of the Knights of Columbus in Perrine. The two chief counsellors for the new circle which is in the 22nd circle instituted since 1942 in Florida are Robert Nelson and Jack Majewski.

This generous participation in the annual drive, as well as an outstanding stamp collection and spiritual offerings, merited the award of “Homeowner of the Month.”

Cardinal Newman’s 19th Year Latin students held a Roman banquet on Friday, April 16, all students.

The Junior and Senior students dined on tuna fish, bread, autos, apples, cheese, while they were being served by eight “slaves” taken from the Second Year classes.

After the meal, entertainment, including Latin songs, poems, accreditations, games, and a play, was provided. The play, entitled “The Death of the Queen” by Senior Sue Loshbaugh, depicted — rather than originally — the death of Dido (from the Aeneid).

David McIntosh presided over the festivities as Master of Ceremonies. Dress for the noon banquet was strictly togas for the boys and stola's for the girls.

CURLEY

By FRANK SKILLING

The success of two of Curley’s Latin teams has been glossed over by the showing of the track team which compiled a record of 6:4 in dual and tri-meets.

But in tennis and golf the school has done almost as well.

Competing in the state finals last week Curley’s tennis team finished ninth in the tournament and third in Dade County.

In golf, Scott Smith, a junior, placed sixth in the state and was the lowest nine-hole round of the tournament with a 32.

The Junior-Senior Prom was held last Saturday at the Americo Hotel on Miami Beach.

Traditionally sponsored by the Junior Class, it was held from 8 to 11 p.m. in the Grand Ballroom.

It was generally agreed that the Prom was one of the best held in recent years at Curay.

Magr. Pace High School celebrated its first Senior Prom today.

The girls all take Library Science twice a week and welcomed this opportunity in see first hand the many details and procedures involved in processing a book.

They were impressed with the variety of sources available to them and the number of rare items in the possession of the library including beautifully bound issues of the London Illustrated News dating back to 1834 and an issue of the famed Godey’s Book of Fashion with hand painted illustrations.

Many were interested in the Genealogy Room where research on ancestors is begun.

The groups were toured by Miss Lillian Cimino and Miss Arlene Slotnick of the Children’s Room and Miss Nancy Thush and Mrs. Dolin Lamer of the Young Modern Room. Individual department heads explained the workings of their respective staffs.

On Wednesday, Student Government Day, the school was completely operated by the students.

Members of the Student Council took over the administration and individual students taught the classes. There also was a senior-faculty football game in which the teachers were defeated 8-4.

On Thursday’s School Color Day, a pop rally was held to send off the baseball team to the state championships.

The week ended on Friday night with a Fashion show sponsored by the Student Council.

The show, which presented the changes in the early 20th century dress to the modern style was named “From Now Till Then.”

IMMACULATA

By MARY-JO KEMPE

The Band and Choral groups of Immaculata-Lasalle presented the annual Spring Concert last Sunday, April 26.

Among the selections included were “The Emperors,” “Waltz of the Vienna Woods” and “Boyhood Thimbles.”

The theme was “The Family Home.”

The Lasalle track team will participate in the Group B championship at Lochhart Stadium today.

This is a preliminary to the state meets and it is hoped that Lasalle will be able to send several of its members to this meet.

The newly remodeled Assembly Room of the Dupont Plaza Hotel was the setting last week of the Junior-Senior Prom.

There was a large turnout for this, the most looked-forward to event of the year.

The Voice Of Sports

Class AA schools during the season had a 5-10 record after losing LaSalle.

St. Thomas was defeated by Cardinal Newman of West Palm Beach, 11-7, in its opening game of the triple-9 relay team. LaSalle gave up the lead in the final round.

Miami’s Christopher Columbus High won last year’s district baseball title and this year’s diocesan championship. LaSalle has now advanced to Class AA competition.

AROUND THE DIOCES... Getting records in the South Atlantic Conference meet last week were Eunice Castro of LaSalle in the 800 run (2:10.5), John Clements of Pace in the mile (4:03) and the Cardinal Newman mile relay team of Phil Kaila, Richard Gordon, Bill Brown and Tim Wright in 3:49.2. In addition, Louis McNamara of LaSalle, finished third in the 400 (49.8), the three relay points, including the 100 and 200, a third in the broad jump and anchored LaSalle’s 800 relay team. LaSalle finished third in the 800 with 38 points while Newman was fourth with 34. Pace fifth with 17 and Gibbons sixth with 17... Scott Smith of Curley and St. Vincent rallied to take the last two games 15-7 and 17-7.

Diocese School Will Be In Tourney Final

One thing is for sure in this weekend’s Class A District 8 baseball tournament — there’ll be a diocese school in the final today.

Semifinals were to be played yesterday (Thursday) afternoon at Miami. The Rev. Msgr. George W. Cummings will preside over St. Thomas upset tournament favorite LaSalle, 1-0. Miami’s Coral Park and Riviera Beach make up the other two semifinals.

St. Thomas’ Neil Fitzgerald edged LaSalle’s Bob Koziol in a nifty pitching duel to gain his first triumph of the season after three losses. He gave up only four hits and struck out two. Koziol allowed only two hits but one of them was a three-run home run in the second inning. Fitzgerald is the game’s only run.

Fresh Vegetables Need Little Seasoning

By FLORENCE DEVANEY

In the spring a woman's fancy turns to thoughts of what new to do with all the lovely, crisp fresh vegetables bursting with goodness on the market stands.

And more especially is she interested in doing something novel with Mother Earth's produce when she's nurtured the little seedlings to full maturity herself.

The best thing about fresh vegetables is, of course, their wonderful, incomparable flavor. In cooking or preparing them raw you need hardly any seasoning — just a bit of salt and a dash of Tabasco, enchances their good flavor.

You can make a simple smothered spruit relish from radishes and scallions and a little seasoning. Or a delicious wilted lettuce salad from Boston lettuce combined with cucumber slices, cooked bacon, hard cooked eggs, and a bit of basil.

Fresh celery added to frozen pea pods and topped with slivered almonds makes an unusual hot vegetable dish.

Spring Relish

\[ \frac{1}{2} \text{ teaspoon salt} \]
\[ \frac{1}{4} \text{ teaspoon Tabasco} \]
\[ 2 \text{ teaspoons sugar} \]
\[ \frac{1}{2} \text{ cup white vinegar} \]

Make marinade by combining salt, Tabasco, sugar, vinegar, water and soy sauce in small bowl. Add sliced radishes and scallions; refrigerate at least two hours, turning occasionally in marinade.

YIELD: 8 \( \frac{1}{2} \) cups.

Chinese Peas

1 cup water
\[ \frac{1}{2} \text{ teaspoon salt} \]
\[ \frac{1}{4} \text{ teaspoon Tabasco} \]

Peace And Papal Corps Members

‘A New Breed’

BY J. J. GIBERT

WASHINGTON — Peace Corps volunteers are returning home from overseas service better men and women, and better Americans. They are, in fact, a “new breed of Americans.” This is the testimony of their director, Sargent Shriver, who says business, education and government are bidding for their services.

All good things Shriver has said about the return of Peace Corps workers could also be said about the Papal Volunteers for Latin Americans. Father John J. Considine, M.M., PAVLA program director, finds that an impressive number of the returnees are anxious to continue their work for the Church in the United States.

Peace Corps volunteers, says Shriver, measure their competence not by what they can do for themselves but by what they can do for others. “It is no wonder,” he adds, “that they are prime candidates for outstanding careers in government, business and education. They have shown that when a man gives of himself for the betterment and development of other people, he becomes a better person himself.”

The same, of course, applies to PAVLA volunteers, who give of themselves to help others in a program directed by the Church.

Already returning Peace Corps men and women have won 94 college assistantships, fellowships and scholarships, and more than 300 businesses and corporations have indicated interest in hiring returnees. Nearly 700 volunteers have formally applied for positions with the 17, S. I. International Agency, the State Department, the Agency for International Development, and the Peace Corps staff. At least 40 are already working for these agencies.

The PAVLA program is based on a three-year period of service and the first volunteers are beginning to return to this country. Several already are working for Catholic agencies, others are looking for such work. People of the returnees are anxious to work with American Indians on a reservation.

“Of the 201 Papal Volunteers now at Latin America, about a score will come back to the U.S. this year,” Shriver says the Peace Corps volunteers come back different and better. Because the skills and experience they gained abroad.

“More,” better,” he concludes, “they come back with a new maturity and with the knowledge that they have participated in the world’s great events. We know that the career aspirations of returning volunteers are different from the ones they had when they went.”

MENSAJE MUSICAL DE UNAS MONJAS DESTERRADAS

Por Gustavo Fena Monte

Cuatro monjas dominicas que fueron expulsadas de Cuba por el régimen com- munista, están ahora con- quisitando fama en Latinoaméricana y Estados Unidos, donde las multitudes escuchan en sus voces la versión al espa- ñol de "Dominique" y distin- tos números folklóricos de Latinoamérica.

Después del sorprendente éxito que en todo el mundo ha tenido la canción de la dominica belga Sister Son- rier, sus dos números más populares, "Dominique" y "Sor Adela" fueron llevados al espa- ñol por el cuarteto de do- minicas latinosamericanas que ya son admiradas en algunos países del continente, parti- cularmente en Colombia, Ve- nemuela y Argentina.

La Congregación Domíni- ca a la que pertenecen este cuarteto llegó desterrada a Miami en junio de 1961, des- pués que en sus colegios — en tre ellos el prestigioso plan- tel "Dominicanas Francesas" — fueron confiscadas por la dictadura comunista. Estos ce- lebraciones se establecieron aquí, como ya en Bolivia y Colombia, donde continuaron con todo entusiasmo su mi- sión apostólica.

En Bogotá, esas religiosas desterradas formaron el cuar- toto que después de actuar en el radio y televisión se dedicaron a escribir y recitar poesía y religiosa, despertó el inte- rés de una casa produc- tora de discos, que grabó en un "long play", además de "Dominique" y "Sor Adela" en espa- ñol, otras diez canciones, éstas del folklore latinoamericano: La Feria de las Pla- tulas. Amorosa Guajira. Yo Ven- do unos Ojos Negros, Alima Lindera, Madre Iglesia, Tabul, Ojos Negros, Trenzan- te, Llorona, y Anoche Quis- ri Olvidarte.

En el convento miemse de las Dominicas, en la parro- quia de St. Timothy, la madre general de la Congregación cubana, Madre Angélica, una de las integrantes del cuar- toto, expresó las razones de ese deseo.

"Dentro de un entorno en donde se escucha la música, y en donde se ofrece buena música, es fácil no olvidar a la Madre Inmaculada del corazón de Jesús. Esta música es una forma de transmitir la bendición que la Madre nos habla cuando dice "Dominique", una canción religiosa que evoca a las religiosas y a la Madre Inmaculada del Corazón de Jesús, nos acerca más a su Divino Hijo.

Crecen el Número de Católicos en la Diócesis de Miami

El número de católicos en la Diócesis de Miami ascen- dió a más de 426,087, durante el año 1961, según el Directa- rio Católico Oficial, publicado por la firma P.J. Kennedy and Son, que acaba de salir a la calle.

Este representa un aumento del 9.5 por ciento, o 35,337 fieles en los once condados del sur de la Florida, sobre el total de 391,560 reportado por ese mismo directorio del año anterior para la Diócesis de Miami.

La cifra representa también un aumento del 38.6 por ciento, o un total de 118,897 fieles en el último cinco años, de acuerdo con el reporte del Directoría en 1956, año en que la Diócesis fue creada.

El record más sobresaliente alcanzado por la Diócesis de Miami ha sido en vocaciones sacerdotales. Con un total de 42 seminaristas en 1958, el número ha crecido cada año hasta alcanzar un total de 278 en 1963, un asombroso au- mento en sólo 6 años.

A Little Act Of Kindness Paves Way For Conversion

By FATHER JOHN O'BRIEN

If you want to share your holy faith with a churchless neighbor, you will find that one of the simplest methods of kindling his interest is to do some little act of kindness for him.

This is the key that opens more hearts than a whole volume of abstract arguments and syllogisms. Like water that falls off a duck's back, these frequently come in one ear and out the other. But kindness upon the chaste heart, but also the mind, and thus enables the truth to enter the child of the human soul.

This is shown in the conversion of Merrill, "we got to talking about the faith. I accepted and love Jesus, I accept and love His mother. I am wrong in not taking advantage of a dispensation from fasting during Lent, and that I gain nothing by it. I do so for pence, because I really like to eat and fasting is hard for me.

A. All you gain is an increase in the love of God, which means that grace is more active in your soul. You encounter Jesus in a manner which pleases Him and sanctifies you.

Q. Some of my friends tell me I am wrong in not taking advantage of the holy Father's Mission Aid

Q. Our non-Catholic relatives say a prayer before meals: "Thank you for the food we eat. Thank you for the birds that sing. Thank you God for everything.

This impresses me as something that children understand when they say it, as something which has more everyday meaning than our formal grace before meals. Does the Catholic Church object to this? If it does, does it have any simple grace before meals?

A. Your relatives' prayer is designed for children only; and I presume Catholics must have similar little rhymes. I do think that we would benefit from some variations in our prayers before and after meals. We tend to recite habitual formulas with little attention.

Q. In the Question Box recently a housewife presented a request for prayers for St. Martha. Here are a couple:

O. Blessed Martha, who in your life had the marvelous opportunity of serving our Lord Jesus Christ with your hands, pray for us that we may have the same veneration towards Him in all those whom it is our duty or privilege to serve.

"Lord Jesus Christ, who was present in the heart of Martha with the love of the heart of the blessed Martha that we may be made to experience the love of the blessed Martha that we may be made to experience..."

Your help like them?
A. Thank you. I do like them.

Q. I would like to get a few points clear about the Church law of fasting during the Lenten Season?

Q. In the event that a mortal sin has not been committed, does the law bind at all?

Q. What period of time is designated by "once a year?"
