Pope Paul Enters Council To Make Plea For Missions

VATICAN CITY — The subject of “The Missions” did what no other topic in conciliar activity has done in hundreds of years — it brought the successor of St. Peter to take part in an actual business meeting of the Council.

When historians were quizzed about the last time this happened, they had to go back to the Middle Ages.

Pope Paul admitted that he has been planning on attending one meeting since the third session opened. He planned it carefully. He came more as a bishop among bishops than as the Vicar of Christ on earth.

When his spacious, cage-like elevator descended from the papal apartments and touched the floor of the basilica at 5:45 last Friday morning, he made both formal and informal an entrance as the Mother Church of Christendom had witnesses to receive 8,000.”

WARM GREETING

With two Cardinals, the Secretary General of the Council and a few attendants, he walked the length of the aisle separating the tiers of bishops and greeted them with warm gestures of affection, turning from side to side, as the Fathers of the Council followed the ancient custom of clapping. The applause rose in crescendo as he made his way towards the front of the nave and took his place on the floor level of the aisle between the Cardinals and the Patriarchs.

He remained there during the long, strange Ethiopian rite in which the morning Mass was celebrated on the portable altar in the center of a congregation of 8,000 believers from the Ethiopian Church (the only seminary located within Vatican City) and with the celebrant and other ministers in the same section also urges a reorganization of the Roman Curia.

Training Sessions Begun For Volunteers In Census

Two weeks of intensive training sessions are under way in preparation for the taking of the census of the Diocese of Miami on Sunday, Nov. 22. Throughout the 16 counties of South Florida 30,000 volunteers are being instructed in the techniques of enrolling all Catholics in the Diocese by making door-to-door calls at every home.

Census forms and other necessary material are being distributed this week to every parish in the Diocese. Questions to be asked will furnish information on such subjects as the number of persons in the family, the occupations of each, theчивес of each, the peals to ban all use of such weapons were voiced during the debate on war and peace.

Auxiliary Bishop Philip M. Hannan of Washington, took issue with the statement in schema 13 on the Church in the modern world that any use of nuclear weapons is unjust because of their incalculable disastrous effects. "Instead he called for a clear statement on a nation's right to defend itself from aggression and a thorough knowledge of the various types of nuclear weapons, including those with a known limited potential. "Certainly we hold war in horror, but we must state with precision what is prohibited in warfare and how justly and lawfully defend liberty," Bishop Hannan stated.

"Pointing out that there are some nuclear weapons which have a very precise limit of destructiveness, Bishop Hannan declared: 'Although even a low yield nuclear weapon inflicts great damage, still it cannot be said that its effects are greater than what can be imagined or estimated.'

"Its effects are very well calculated and can be foreseen. Furthermore, it may be admitted to use these arms with their limited effect against military objectives in a just war according to theological principle.""}

Bishop Hannan complained that schema 13's section on war was "utterly "wasteful" and a waste of time." He asserted that the common teaching of the Church and the norms to be applied to nuclear weapons should be "plump" rather than "eggshell". "We must demand a just war, and we must oppose the use of nuclear weapons as essentially and necessarily evil," Bishop Beck gave an example of what might be a legitimate target of nuclear weapons. He said: "To attack a ballistic missile or a satellite in the outer atmosphere would be, for example, a legitimate act of defense and, with just proportion duly preserved, it might require the use of a weapon of vast power."

Other Fathers took the floor to speak in the name of 70 or more bishops. The first of these was Costa Rican Bishop Roman Arrieta Villalobos of Tilaran, who asked the council to approve and bless solemnly any formation or maintenance of an army. Council Puts On The Brakes

By Father Placid Jordan, O.S.B.

The ecumenical council has been dragging its feet lately, but for a good purpose.

While a few weeks ago many bishops felt they were being rushed and the pressure of time appeared their main concern, now that a fourth session is assured they are clearly resisting such pressure and want to take their time.

With only eight or, at the most, nine meetings ahead of them before the recess on Nov. 31, the question is now seriously raised by many council Fathers whether a fourth session will suffice to dispose of the agenda.

“We will be lucky if a fifth session will be the last one,” an American bishop said.

Upon entering the home stretch of this session, it is obvious that there is general dissatisfaction with the procedure, meant as a timesaving device, that has reduced several vital matters to important draft proposals to mere "propositions."

DEBATE ON MISSIONS

The debate on the proposition on the missions has shown that it will have to be done over from scratch to do justice to the insistent pleas of numerous speakers that proper attention be given to so important a topic, rather than carrying the schema to only four and one-half pages and adopting these without proper discussion.

About 190 speakers are still listed to be heard on the mission document. This means it will probably be thoroughly re-examined, then considered once more in the fourth session.

Speculation is also rife as to whether it would not be better to postpone debate entirely on the remaining four propositions, instead of trying to rush them through this session. These four deal with religious orders, the priesthood and its institution, Catholic schools, and matrimony. Another proposition, on the Eastern churches, has already been referred back to committee for redrafting.

MUCH STILL AHEAD

In other words, a great deal is still ahead of this council, and its end is by no means in sight. The best that can now be expected at the end of the current session is the promulgation of the schema on the nature of the Church — which, of course, is of paramount importance — and the one on ecumenism.

The declarations on religious liberty and on non-Christian religions, now ready to be presented to the floor, may only be adopted in principle, with their final test to be voted on at the next session. The schema on Revelation is still in committee.

All of this is really a hopeful indication that the council Fathers are deeply preoccupied about producing results that will stand up before the judgment of posterity. Once more the Italian watchword "patienza" (patience) seems most appropriate in sitting up these propositions.

Protestant leaders have sent in this session 40 monks to England to "make angels out of the Anglican fathers," the forefathers of the English.

Did they, perhaps, also hardly know the world's be asked. And how about St. Benedict, the father of Western monasticism? Was not Pope Paul VI the very next day going to proclaim him the patron of Europe? These facts, Archbishop Reetz concluded, certainly proved that monks by no means are out of contact with the world.

The next day the archbishop received a gracious letter from Archbishop Heenan inviting him to dinner. “Thank you,” it said, “for your splendid and good-humored reply to my speech. There was only one word to describe the effect: ‘bouche.’"

In other words, the archbishop considered the archbishop's reply a touchdown. Then, in extending the dinner invitation he added: "You would enjoy meeting the angels!"

Cardinal Clarifies His Stand

VATICAN CITY (NC) — A cardinal interrupted ecumenical council discussion in an effort to clarify a speech he had made on marriage problems and to deny that he had questioned authentic Church teaching in this field.

Leo Cardinal Suensens of Malines-Brussels said that a "misunderstanding in public opinion" had led many to interpret his council talk of Oct. 29 as an affirmation that Church teaching on birth control would be changed.

Cardinal Suensens returned to this subject in an aside to talk on mission problems. He declared:

"As regards doctrine, as was clearly stated, there was question only of a study to be made in this connection, not to re-elaborate what has already been authentically and definitely proclaimed by the Church's teaching authority, but rather in view of formulating a synthesis of all principles governing this subject."

"It is obvious that the methods to be followed in these studies and research depend solely on this same authority. All this is said to dissipate any misunderstanding in public opinion."

Lutheran Hails Encyclical As A Program For Unity

ROME (NC) — Pope Paul VI's encyclical, Ecclesiam Suam, was praised as a program for Christian unity and the role of women in the Church was stressed at a reception held by the Paulist Fathers for the U.S. bishops attending the ecumenical council and observers at the council.

The vision projected in Ecclesiam Suam is one in which the main outlines would be the program not only of the Roman Catholic but of all churches as we seek to recover the unity of the Church of Christ.

This statement came from the Rev. Warren A. Quanbeck of the Lutheran Theological Seminary of St. Paul, Minn., who is a council observer for the Lutheran World Federation.

Quanbeck also spoke of what he termed the "painful consequences of the divisions in the church of Christ, which harmed the cause of the Gospel, hindered the work of the Church and caused offense to believers."

"He then acknowledged that "the way the Vatican Council has come to grips with the problem of Christian unity has brought joy even to many outside the church.""

ARMSmillion for Books

In discussing his topic, "The Council, Ecumenism and Seminaries," Quanbeck also remarked that "we Protestants need dealing with Roman Catholic doctrine, worship, piety and government must be revised or rewritten, for the council has shown many of us that it is not enough to know a body of facts and doctrines."

"One must grasp the inner character of a community or movement before one really knows it. We have all been guilty of varying degrees of a kind of half-witted misrepresentation."

Speaking at the same reception, the first American woman auditor of the council, Sister Mary Ludwig, said: "As the role of women in civil society has changed, so has their place in the Church from one of passive dependence to active responsibility."

Sisters, she added, are eager to share in the work of constructing a truly human and Christian society. The revitalizing teachings that come from the council will give them a wonderful opportunity to demonstrate in a new way their ability to serve the Church, she said.

WIDER HORIZONS

Discussing the spirit of renewal now manifest in the entire Church, Sister Mary Luke said: "Religious women must find their own ways to a wider openness to all things human instead of being, as Pope Paul said, marginal to contemporary society."

"They will be a mighty force in disseminating the riches of the Second Vatican Council, and ecumenical horizons are being broadened because of Sisters who are profoundly aware of their expanded potential in the apostolate of the Church and the offering and inspiring challenge of the ecumenical task."

God Love You
Most Reverend Fulton J. Sheen

When you hear of "drives" in dioceses in the United States for six million dollars, ten million dollars, fifteen million dollars it might be interesting to compare them with financial reports from missionary bishops in Rome and Central America, and to ask ourselves if some of our superabundance should not be shared with them.

One bishop whose diocese is larger than most dioceses in the United States, told me that his Sunday collection from a family of six averages three cents, or one-half a cent for each person. His total income from the diocese is a thousand dollars a year, most of which is given to him by the Holy Father through the Society for the Propagation of the Faith. From this he must support all priests and brothers and pay the salaries of teachers in twenty-five schools and all the expenses of poor students and seminarians. The salary of a priest is about ten dollars a month, the head of a rural school receives four dollars a month, and each teacher of catechism (they number one hundred and thirty) receives sixty-one cents a month.

Recently, a church was built in the United States which cost sixty-six thousand dollars a seat! Not a pew, but a seat. Plans for another parish church in a different diocese of the United States calls for an expenditure of three thousand and one-half million dollars. Now compare these. Here is a Bishop with twenty-two thousand dollars a year; and in the United States which provides before which includes seven residences of religious, four schools for boys, four schools for girls, with a total enrollment of five thousand children.

Somewhere along the line there is a terrific imbalance! It is very much as if all of the food that we took into our mouths was transformed into energies that went into the right hand and none to the rest of the body. As the right hand became blunted, swollen and useless, the rest of the body would become weak and eventually die. And when the body does, beware, for so does the hand.

This week, instead of asking you to make a sacrifice for the poor churches throughout the world, may we ask that you say a prayer for the Holy Spirit that the dioceses and the parishes of the United States may give a share, however small, even one-tenth or one one-hundredth of their expenditures to our poor suffering brethren in Christ throughout the world? I should, however, warn you that if you say this prayer for the Holy Spirit, He may inspire you also to make a sacrifice. Thanks.

God Love You to Mrs. L.K., an excellent mother-in-law, for "After All, It is Your Turn to Pray," I finally received a long-distance call telling me that my son's wife had become a Catholic. Pope Calls For Expanded Charity In Modern World

VATICAN CITY (NO) — A group representing various conferences of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul has been urged by Pope Paul VI to make the Gospel message on charity ever more active in the world.

"Christian charity urges us to open our eyes to the social scene of our times and to dispel blindness or selfishness which is concerned only with personal interest," he said. "Therefore the activity of the conferences of St. Vincent de Paul established by Frederick Ozanam is of incomparable value both in itself and because it represents an impulsion for the masses of assistance."

The Pope pointed out that the Coadjutorship of St. Vincent de Paul is the friend of the poor and as such is the friend of the Pope, who is the friend of the poor.

Pope Paul spoke after Sunday Mass at St. Peter's basilica. During Mass he gave a homily on the day's Gospel, theparable of the weeds sown in the field of wheat.

"To vanquish evil it is necessary to fortify good," he said, "and, instead of indulging in criticism and self-forebodings, to render true and strong testimony to good."

The next morning he held an audience for members of his general council of the St. Vincent de Paul Society, and in French he expressed satisfaction with the high aims achieved by the organization.

Referring to the annual report of the group's activities, he said, "The presence of the Pope, in one of the figures "demonstrates the magnificent scope of the organization."

Pope Singles Out 3 Reasons Impelling Drive On Cancer

VATICAN CITY (NO) — Pope Paul VI has singled out three reasons impelling doctors to conquer cancer: love of science, human compassion and Christian charity.

Love of knowledge is an important motive in the scientists' efforts in the complex and courageous work of cancer study, the Pope told the third National Italian Congress of the Cancer Society.

Beyond science, however, he continued, there is a quality of human compassion which is born of daily contact with so much suffering, with so much illness which is even humiliating to the dignity of the humm being who, in the face of awareness he has of his condition, could at times give in to the temptation of self-pity, of unanswerable horror of himself and of others."

But in the end, the Pope said, it is "charity which is the supreme motive" of this work. It "must sustain you in your devotion as scholars and doctors and be present there in secret, the genuine source of your every act with the thought that in the suffering bodies of your patients the Divine Savior, Head of the Mystical Body, prolongs and renew His agony and His Cross."

The Holy Father walked to the long table reserved for the 12 Council Presidents and sat down. The cardinals on each side of him, one of whom was Cardinal Spellman, after prayer and listening to preliminary announcements by Archbishop Felici, Pope Paul addressed the Fathers for seven or eight minutes.

The Pope admitted he broke with precedent by going to the Council "to underscore the seriousness and the vastness of the missionary activity of the Church."

He expressed the hope — in keeping with the spirit of the aggiornamento — that the council would "show new paths" in the ecumenical activity of the Church. By example and by works of mercy, the bishops stand as a witness to the true meaning of the schema, "The Missionary Activity of the Church." Reported the Fathers interrupting him to applaud, and it became obvious why the Pope had considered this occasion significant enough for his unprecedented visit.

SURPRISING STATISTICS

Cardinal Spellman introduced the schema as the part of the unfinished business of Vatican I in 1959. He gave some surprising statistics of missionary activity in the past 50 years. One point which probably would amaze most Americans was that the United States was taken off the list of countries identified as missionary territory only in 1908.

The intensive of the surprising fact of the schema has resulted in the whole matter being returned for reworking. All of this proves again, not only that the Council is free, but that its attitudes and decisions are unpredictable.

MATTER OF SEMANTICS

Another expert who does not go along with all the new approaches and terms said he felt that there was a need for clarification, because the end objective was nothing other than winning converts. He explained the change in terminology because of ecumenical considerations. Others claim that political overtones are involved, since foreigners coming into a country may be suspected of bringing their own ideas of government, besides those of religion.

The cardinal moving talk ended, the Holy Father stood and gave his apostolic blessing, not only to all present, but to their families, friends and associates.

Is it likely that a Negro may become a bishop in United States?

This question was put to Bishop Andrew Gratka at the press conference. His answer was:

"In some countries, there is an excellent talk on racism in the council" he said..."What I fear is... I feel..." and he saw the answer might have some headline value, but Bishop Gratka simply explained that there are few Negro priests in the United States at present, although the number of seminarians is growing.

Some of those ordained are doing unusually fine work, but pointed out, and there is no reason why in the future one of the Negro race may not be raised to the episcopacy.

In Rome the novelty of the Negro bishop wore off the first week of the session for their are many of them from the African continent, besides, of course, the youth they are.*

SOMEONE pointed out that generations ago there was a Negro bishop in the United States, in the Diocese of Portland, Bishop James Healy. His mother was a Negro.

It takes great ideas a long time to take hold, but it is not too surprising to find that many still confuse the Ecumenical Movement with the Ecumenical Council. The latter is a solemn gathering of bishops from all over the world called together by the Pope to devote themselves to consultation, to speak their minds on matters related to Catholic doctrine and practice and finally to come to some decisions.

The Ecumenical Movement, however, is vastly different. It is the common effort of many Christian religions to attain unity or united action in areas where the application of Christian principles could promote the welfare of mankind.

The movement as such began with Protestant groups many years ago. Missionaries of various sects that found that sectarian competition hurt their work and decided to get together to avoid friction and duplication of effort.

Others, realizing the disastrous effects of discord, launched the movement of "The Catholic Gospel," that is, the effort to avoid dogmatic differences and stress Christ's teaching on human relations. Out of these efforts came the powerful World Council of Churches.

Now with the encouragement of the Ecumenical Council the Ecumenical Movement will find many Catholics participating in a new, unprecedented effort to bring about unity among all the Christian churches. To perfect the bishops made on Ecumenism, the quest of unity, in the meanwhile will have an obvious reaching effect on the lives of all Catholics and their future relationships with Protestants and Orthodox.

CHAMPION OF RACIAL JUSTICE IN NEW ORLEANS

Archbishop Rummel Dies

NEW ORLEANS (NO) — Archbishop Joseph Francis Rummel, 88, of New Orleans, one of the most influential and courageous leaders of the archdiocese, who had served his archdiocese with distinction for more than a half-century, died Nov. 13 at Our Lady of Lourdes Hospital in New Orleans. He succumbed to pneumonia.

The interment followed a Mass offered by Archbishop John P. Cody, new spiritual leader of the archdiocese, who had ruled the New Orleans archdiocese since March 9, 1935. His body lay in state first, at Notre Dame Seminary, then later at the cathedral, before the funeral.

When the cortege transferred the body from the seminary to the cathedral, thousands of schoolchildren lined the five-mile route, recalling the Rosary blazed in rare proportion to the procession passed.

The whole Church sorrows for the racial integration of the archdiocese, distinguishing himself in administrative and charitable works. He was consecrated on May 29, 1928, to serve as the fourth Bishop of Omaha, Neb., and on May 15, 1935, was enthroned as the ninth Archbishop of New Orleans.

A number accepted the warning, but when other efforts failed the archbishop publicly communicated three of the segregationist leaders — Leisure M. Perez Sr., political leader of the Archdiocese of Louisiana and Texas; Mrs. E. Mischler, Mrs. Richard Flynn, Miss Ruth Paine, and Richard Flynn. Similar meetings are being held throughout the Diocese.

It was further suggested in order to give the penitent an opportunity to further express verbally his contrition, he might be requested by the priest to make the response "Amen" at the end of the various parts of the absolution said by the priest.

The selection of the Anointing of the Sick received considerable attention. The intimation of the Vatican Council Fathers in changing the name of this Sacrament from Extreme Unction was discussed. The appointment of the sacrament until the last month of the month prior to the feast of the Epiphany. The people for two Masses a week — one on Sunday and the second one on a weekly basis.

One of the physical changes discussed during the workshop sessions was the location of the presidential seat in the sanctuary. In the Constitution on the Liturgy promulgated by the Holy Father on Dec. 4, 1963, the Fathers of the Church had declared in their document's Appendix: "In Catholic Churches, the扦 should be a place set in the middle of the altar, at the front of the church or the congregation for the Bishop's throne that he might clearly appear as the Bishop, the ordinary one to preside over the liturgy.

On both sides of the throne there should be seats for canons and priests. In other churches, where there is no throne, especially in parochial churches, the place of honor should be filled by a simple chair for the Pastor or the officiating priest, who presides over the liturgy in the absence of the Bishop, whose collaborator he is. However any suggestion of a throne should be avoided in those cases where the Episcopal throne is not permitted.

Church’s Widespread Interests In U.S. Outlined

WASHINGTON (NC) — Matters more numerous, more varied and more complex than ever before engaged the attention of the Catholic Church in the United States last year. Reports of departments and bureaus of the National Catholic Welfare Conference submitted to the bishops of the country show that well-established concerns in the spiritual and social welfare fields have been broadened and deepened dramatically by developments of recent years.

The NCWC is a voluntary agency through which the bishops of the U.S. deal with matters of common interest on a national level. The work of its various departments and bureaus is the subject of the annual reports.

Archbishop Patrick A. O’Boyle of Washington reported being chairman of the NCWC Administrative Board, indicating something of the variety which the annual reports were to reflect.

HIGHLIGHTS OF REPORTS

Highlights of the department and bureau reports include the following:

The NCWC National Bureau reported a steady mounting interest in Latin America on the part of U.S. bishops and said the grand total of personnel now in the field has passed the 4,000 mark.

The Catholic Association for International Peace said “the time has come for action to save Latin America for democracy is now. Tomorrow will be too late."

The Legal Department said the 8th Congress enacted more significant legislation dealing with education and health than any previous congress, and that under this legislation public and private institutions received equal treatment.

The National Council of Catholic Nurses reported that it “has a must encouraging year” marked by increases in councils and affiliates, and disclosed plans to help affiliates meet the demands of the lay apostolate in the post-pandemic Council.

Continued growth and “significant communications break-throughs” on national and world levels were reported by the National Council of Catholic Women, which announced it now has 13,378 affiliates in 116 archdioceses and dioceses, representing a total of 10 million women.

The National Council of Catholic Nurses stressed plans to develop the federation into a “truly representative” organization of the nation’s Catholic nurses.

Change and expanson were the keynote of the NCWC Department of Civil and Social Action said that, while communities have increased their efforts in civil and civil rights groups, there are “no indications of significant influence coming to the main national civil rights organizations.”

The Family Life Bureau called for stepped-up research in family life research in areas that are “under attack,” particularly research in the natural and social sciences.

The NCWC Bureau of Health and Hospitals said that legislation recently passed by Congress extending and expanding the Hill-Burton hospital construction program will continue to render “major assistance” to Catholic hospitals.

Hundreds of inquiries were answered by the bureau of immigration and resettlement in recent months after receipt, practical answer to so many people and firms as The Florida National Bank.

You don’t find a bank anywhere that provides more “customer-service” than The Florida National Bank.

And you won’t find a bank anywhere that would welcome your business more than The Florida National Bank.

And today you won’t find many banks that have been in business as long as we have (over 3 decades) that still operate under the original charter and general management.

Catholic Relief Agencies Aid 40 Million Overseas in Year

WASHINGTON (NC) — Catholic Relief Services recently released a new high. In the 15th annual report, released November, 1963, national totals received 17,714,644 pounds. Within a few months after receipt, practically all of these materials were shipped to needy people in 56 countries, the report said, with only a small supply held in reserve for emergency shipments.

Since its inception in 1943, Bishop Swanson said the agency of U.S. Catholics has sent overseas for the needy some 8.5 million tons of foodstuffs, clothing, medicals and other relief supplies valued at more than $1.3 billion.

CUBANS ASSISTED

In the office of CRS-CNSC at the Cuban Refugee Center in Miami, Fla., helped to resettle 8,276 Cuban refugees from Miami in other parts of the country. Each brought the total of Cubans assisted in re-settlement since the Cuban revolution began to 40,506 persons.

The report said contributions of clothing, blankets, bedding and shoes for overseas relief through Catholic parishes in the Americas and at Thanksgiving Clothing Collection rose to a new high. In the 15th annual collection, released November, 1963, national totals received 17,714,644 pounds. Within a few months after receipt, practically all of these materials were shipped to needy people in 56 countries, the report said, with only a small supply held in reserve for emergency shipments.

Since its inception in 1943, Bishop Swanson said the agency of U.S. Catholics has sent overseas for the needy some 8.5 million tons of foodstuffs, clothing, medicals and other relief supplies valued at more than $1.3 billion.

EDUCATED

Bishop Swanson said CRS-CNSC is continuing to assist the training and employment and strengthening of sound social welfare organizations on a parochial, diocesan and national level overseas. In many countries Catholic organizations, which the U.S. agencies helped to establish, are now conducting training courses to better prepare volunteers to assist in the work of these diocesan and parish organizations, he said.

Bishop Swanson also noted that in re-enacting and amending Public Law 1700, the recent session of Congress provided for an extension and improvement of emergency food programs. He said this makes it possible to use foreign currency obtained by the sale of American surplus food to foreign countries, to provide such things as capital equipment, inland transport, utensils for preparation and serving of food, and the development of new and improved methods of work programs for the benefit of the community.

U.S. Bishops Give Increased Support To Latin America

WASHINGTON (NC) — The Latin America Bureau of NCWC said there is a "steadily mounting" interest in Latin America on the part of many bishops of the United States as well as among the clergy, religious and laymen.

The past year has witnessed considerable evidences of a modest but promising growth in all the work of the Church in Latin America," it added.

As of the end of December, 1964, the U.S. personnel supplies, with 44,000 totals, has increased by more than 1,100 during the past year, according to the Catholic Bishops' International Committee of Latin America. It has increased by more than 1,100 during the past year, according to the Catholic Bishops' International Committee of Latin America. It has increased by more than 1,100 during the past year, according to the Catholic Bishops' International Committee of Latin America.

The archdiocese of Boston, through its St. James Society, funded the list with 29 of its priests there. Nuncio to the Church in Latin America, said Bishop Change and expansion were the keynotes of the NCWC Council Department report. It was stated that the volume of Church’s social welfare work in recent years and the development of the Church’s social welfare work in recent years and the development of the Second Vatican Council greatly exceeded that of the first session.

The Youth Department said it has called upon affiliates to streamline operations, modernize programs and confront the young people of today with real issues. Reporting the existence of 175 Newman Centers, an increase of 100 in ten years, the report said 725,000 Catholic students are now on secular campuses, as compared with 30,000 ten years ago.

The Immigration Department, which handled 43,000 cases benefitting 47,000 people last year, said it is modernizing the Immigration and Nationality Act of 1952.

The Division of micro-science superintendents of schools is showing continual growth and the superintendents in being engaged in an expanding opportunity for professional training, the NCWC Department of Education said.

The NCWC Department of Social Action said that, while communities have increased their efforts in civil and civil rights groups, there are “no indications of significant influence coming to the main national civil rights organizations.”

The Family Life Bureau called for stepped-up research in family life research in areas that are “under attack,” particularly research in the natural and social sciences.

Bishop Calls For Generous Assistance For Seminarians

To the Priests, Religious and Faithful of the Diocese:

When your Bishop and priests come to you each year to ask assistance for the maintenance of our Minor Seminary and of all our students in the priesthood, we do so with the conviction that the welfare of our seminarians is as close to your hearts as to ours.

We cannot recall too often the signal blessing of God on this Diocese in the establishment of both minor and major seminaries within the past six years. Nor can we adequately express our gratitude for the increase of vocations among your sons and brothers and relatives, so that today our seminarians number approximately 150.

Many parents are making great sacrifices to pay a portion of the board and tuition of their sons at St. John Vianney Seminary. Others, because of family circumstances, find it impossible. It is the policy of the Diocese to have these deserving boys kept from pursuing their studies for the priesthood because of a family financial problem. Moreover, the Diocese assumes the entire cost of the board and tuition of our students who are in major seminaries, not only in the United States but in various European countries.

We need not emphasize to you the considerable expense of keeping a home, for you know this well. You can then imagine the enormous financial burden in maintaining our minor seminary for over 200 students—five buildings, food, the upkeep of the dormitories and the grounds, the athletic fields, classrooms and the specialized laboratories.

In addition to the students studying in the two seminaries within the Diocese of Miami, we have responsibility also for the board and tuition of many other young men who will some day work as priests in this Diocese, but who are now studying in 12 seminaries in the United States, Ireland, Spain, Italy and Belgium.

In the past several years, you have needed only a reminder of our mutual obligation to support our priests in these years of their education in order to win from you a most generous response. This year we are as confident as ever that your love for the priesthood and your gratitude to God for His blessings in our vocation needs will urge you to sacrifice more than ever to help us meet our obligations.

I take this occasion to express my deep gratitude to you for your great generosity in supporting so well the seminaries and the seminarians for the past six years. I am confident you will do as much, if not more, this year. I beg for all of you a large measure of God’s grace and blessings.

Very gratefully yours in Christ,

+ Coleman J. Connell

Bishop of Miami

November 13, 1964 THE VOICE Miami, Florida Page 11
WASHINGTON (NC) — A possible new effort by the Johnson administration to solve long-standing controversies over Federal aid to education is seen in the recommendations reportedly to be made by a presidential task force on education.

It is reported that the recommendations will include abandoning efforts to secure across-the-board Federal aid in favor of so-called categorical assistance for specific educational purposes, and broadening the participation of church-related schools in Federal aid programs.

Reports, published originally in The Washington Post, said these are key points of recommendations to be made by a task force headed by John W. Gardner, president of the Carnegie Foundation.

The task force was said to favor the categorical approach to educational aid most strikingly embodied in the National Defense Education Act of 1958. The original NDEA provided Federal assistance for teaching of science, mathematics and modern foreign languages.

PROGRAM EXPANDED

A three-year extension of the program beyond 1965, signed last month by President Johnson, expanded the program to include aid for the teaching of English, reading, history, geography and civics. It also increased the amount of money for the program from $79 million to $80 million.

The influential National Education Association several months ago recommended abandonment of the effort to obtain across-the-board Federal aid in favor of the categorical approach. Across-the-board school aid has been hamstrung since at least 1961 by controversy over the Church-State, racial and other issues.

The administration has recently given several indications that it might be taking a new look at the school aid question with a view to reaching the Church-State quarrel in a manner acceptable to all sides.

The education plank adopted at the Democratic national convention in Atlantic City stated that "various methods of financial aid must be explored, including the channeling of Federally collected revenues to all levels of education and, to the extent permitted by the Constitution, to all schools."

This same language was reported by U.S. Commissioner of Education Francis Keppel in a letter to Stuart D. Riddle, president of Citizens for Educational Freedom, a nonsectarian national organization that seeks equal treatment for children in both public and nonpublic schools.

LIFE VIEWS REFLECTED

In another message to Hubbell, White House aide Ralph Dungan said "you can assume that the plank which they drafted reflects his (the President's) views. Moreover, the President has explicitly stated that he supports the whole program outlined in the platform."

President Johnson himself stated his position on the issue during the presidential campaign in a reply to a query from the Baptist Standard newspaper of Dallas, Tex.

Mr. Johnson said he "would oppose any Federal program, including assistance to schools, which does not strictly conform to the American tradition of separation of Church and State . . . as expressed in the First Amendment."

The recent extension and expansion of the National Defense Education Act included several provisions remedying aspects of the program that nonpublic school spokesmen had attacked as discriminatory.

Thus, private school teachers were made eligible to receive Federal stipends while enrolled in special Federal institutes for instructors. The stipends previously went to public school teachers only.

FORGIVENESS EXTENDED

Also, a provision for forgiveness of up to 10 per cent of a Federal loan for college education for those who go into teaching after graduation was extended for those who elect to teach in nonpublic schools. Previously the forgiveness feature applied only to public school teachers.

At the time the President signed the NDEA extension, a Catholic spokesman hailed those new provisions but charged that "one major discriminatory feature still stands."

This, according to Magr. Frederick G. Hochwalt, director of the National Catholic Welfare Conference's Education Department, is a provision under Title III of the act that provides 50-50 matching Federal grants to public schools for purchase of some school equipment and for minor remodeling, but offers only in-year, interest-bearing loans to nonpublic schools for the same purposes.

Huge Teacher Union Backs Aid To Parochial Students

NEW YORK (NC) — The American Federation of Teachers, a 100,000-member union-affiliated organization, has endorsed the principle of government support for parochial as well as public schools.

Announcement of the AFT's stand, a reversal of its previous position, came at a testimonial luncheon for its president, Charles Cogen.

Cogen said the reversal was dictated by emergency conditions in education during the past year.

The federation is affiliated with the AFL-CIO, which has already backed equal aid to children in nonpublic as well as public schools.

Cogen said the AFT favors having Federal money allocated directly to children instead of being spent through the schools. He pointed to a precedent for such direct aid in the G.I. Bill of Rights.

Cogen commented that without Federal support for community-based schools, "the fabric of American education is in danger."

SAN JUAN, P.R. (NO) — Pope Paul VI has given the Church in Puerto Rico a new look with decided native overtones.

The Pontiff appointed:— Bishop Luis Aponte Martinez of Ponce, first native to be elevated to the island’s hierarchy in modern history, to Archbishop of San Juan, top position of spiritual leadership in Puerto Rico.

— Father Fremiot Torres, one of the island’s best known educators, to Bishop of Ponce.

Pope Paul also established the new diocese of Caguas from territory taken from the archdiocese of San Juan and the diocese of Ponce, but did not name a bishop for the new diocese.

ARCHBISHOP APONTE

became the first native Puerto Rican to head an island See when Bishop James E. McManus, C.S.S.R., a native of Brooklyn, N.Y., resigned as Bishop of Ponce and was named Auxiliary Bishop of New York. Bishop McManus had served in Puerto Rico for 30 years, 11 as a missionary priest and 19 as bishop.

Bishop-designate Torres Oliver, who succeeds as spiritual head of Ponce, for some years has regarded as one of Puerto Rico’s top educators. In recent years he has served as associate dean of the law school of the Catholic University of Puerto Rico at Ponce.

The 39-year-old, old bishop-designate was born in San German, made his studies for the priesthood at the seminary in San Juan and at St. John’s Seminary, Brighton, Mass., and was ordained in 1956.

The new diocese of Caguas joins the dioceses of Ponce and Arecibo as suffragan Sees of the archdiocese of San Juan, to join the dioceses of Ponce and Arecibo.

At Barry 24th Anniversary

High Mass sung by its only living Bishop and consecration of the college’s Laudare Medal to a prominent Miami Catholic layman will highlight Founders’ Day ceremonies today (Frid) at Barry College.

Mgr. William Barry, P.A., pastor, St. Patrick parish, Miami Beach, will offer a Mass of Thanksgiving at 9:30 a.m. in the auditorium in observance of the 20th anniversary of the founding of the liberal arts college with his brother, the late Bishop Patrick Theapan, Bishop of St. Augustine; and their sister, the late Mother Mary Gerald, O.P., former Mother General of the Adrian Dominican Sisters who administers the college.

Michael O’Neil, of Corpus Christi parish, chairman of the Barry College lay advisory board, will receive the Laudare Medal during an afternoon academic program which will begin at noon.

A native of Akron, Ohio, he was awarded a Bachelor of Arts degree from Notre Dame University after attending St. Patrick School, Miami Beach, and Cranston Preparatory School, Lenox, Mass. Mr. O’Neil is a member of the Miami Sierra Club and the Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus.

He serves as a trustee at St. Francis Hospital, Miami Beach, and Marymount College, Boca Raton, and is a member of the Board of Directors of diocesan Catholic Charities.

The president of General Tire and Rubber Company, he is married to the former Ellen Coakley, and is the parents of eight children.

Father Cyril Burke, O.P., assistant college chaplain, will give the Founders’ Day address and Miss Joanne Rank of Sacred Heart parish, Lake Worth, president of the Student Council, will serve as program chairman.

The college will present Masses on the Feast of Sts. Peter and Paul by Father Cyril Burke, priest of Providence, and the Rev. Father Cyril Burke, O.P. as associate direct prior and pastor of the St. Thomas Aquinas University Church.

Father Butler is the author of “The Life and World of George Santayana,” “The Mind of Santayana,” and “Religious Vocation,” a theological approach to the problem of vocation.

Best known of his works is “God On The Secular Campus,” which has been used at many universities and colleges by religious directors, Catholic and non-Catholic.

During Father Butler’s term of office as National Chaplain of the Newman Apoplasite, training courses for new chaplains, refreshers courses for experienced chaplains and an effective national office for service to churches and chaplaincies were established.

Father Butler is currently the Provincial Director of the Newmann Apostolate in the Dominican Province of St. Alphonsus with headquarters in Chicago. Father Butler plans to edit a Newman newsletter and for Newman Clubs and chaplaincies.

WEST PALM BEACH —

Nearly 150 members of the clergy, religious and laity attended a Confraternity of Christian Doctrine Institute held here at Rosarian Academy.

The Institute program, held last Saturday, included demonstration classes, workshops, and an address by Father James V. Morris, C. M., member of the faculty at St. Vincent de Paul Major Seminary in Boynton Beach.

Enrollees in the Institute assisted at Mass at noon. Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament was observed at the close of the afternoon session.

Father Gerald P. Grogan of the CCD staff opened the morning session by welcoming those attending.

Father Morris then delivered a lecture on Sacred Scriptures. Ordained in 1960, Father Morris later studied Semitic languages at Catholic University. He just recently returned from Rome where this past year he was awarded a licentiate in Sacred Scripture at the Biblical Institute.

In his talk, Father Morris gave a brief outline of Salvation History.

Father Morris showed how the Old Testament events were fulfilled in the New Testament by the “new and eternal covenant” of the blood of Christ.

Speaking on the oppression theme that runs throughout the Old Testament, Father Morris portrayed the deliverance of the suffering Israelites from Egypt, when God sent Moses to lead them through the Red Sea.

This event found its fulfillment, said Father Morris, in the sacrament of Baptism, through which Christ delivers us.

Father Joseph J. Brunner, assistant diocesan director of the CCD, offered Mass at noon following the morning session. The homily during the Mass was delivered by Father Grogan.

During the afternoon, demonstration classes were held on the various grade levels followed by a series of workshops on CCD organization and teaching.

In the classes and workshops on teaching the following points were stressed:
1. The catechetical apostolate is a mission imparted by the Church to participate in Christ’s proclamation of the Good News of Salvation.
2. The aim of the catechetical apostolate is not knowledge as such, but living faith — a faith that responds to God’s call.
3. The emphasis is on content, with method as its handmaid.
4. Genuine catechetics requires the sound equilibrium of a four-fold presentation of the Faith: through liturgy, Bible, systemic teaching and the testimony of Christian living. In all its phases it needs thorough adaptation to those catechized.
Rally Speakers Announced

FORT MYERS — The two main speakers have been announced for a joint rally of the West Coast Deanery of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Men and the Holy Name Societies to be held here Sunday, Nov. 15.

The rally will get under way at 9:15 a.m. at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Grand Avenue.

Robert M. Drake, former member of the Board of Dade County Commissioners will be the main speaker at the morning session. His topic will be "The Future of Public and Private Education in America."

Mr. Drake is a member of Little Flower parish, Coral Gables.

A question-and-answer period will follow Mr. Drake's talk.

C. Clyde Atkins, president of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Men will deliver the principal address at the afternoon session. Mr. Atkins will speak on "Why Liturgical Renewal?"

ENTHROPE

The morning session will open with enthronement of the blibli. Dr. Larry Jones, president of the West Coast Deanery of Holy Name Societies, will welcome those attending the rally and Vince Cinabry, president of the West Coast Deanery of the DCCM, will introduce special guests at the rally and make announcements.

Following Mr. Drake's address, a panel discussion will be held at 10:15 a.m. on Race Relations.

Members of the panel and the topics they will discuss include: James V. Dolan, chairman of the Organization and Development Committee of the DCCM, moral issue: Mr. Conboy, economic effect of racial discrimination; George Swartz, member of St. Francis Xavier parish and a Fort Myers attorney, Civil Rights law; and Charles G. Mann, also a member of St. Francis Xavier parish and a graduate of Florida A. & M., effect of racial discrimination on the Negro.

A dialogue Mass will be celebrated at 11:30 a.m. in St. Francis Xavier Church.

LUNCH

Lunch will be served in the Knights of Columbus Hall at 12:30 p.m.

The afternoon session will open at 1:30 p.m. with Mr. Atkins' address.

At 1:30 p.m. Father Jack L. Totty, assistant pastor of Little Flower Parish, Coral Gables, will conduct a training session for Mass commentators and lectors.

The rally will conclude with a business session of the West Coast Deanery of Holy Name Societies at 3:15 p.m. The deanery vice president will preside.

The session will include the election of new deanery officers.

Adjournment of the rally is scheduled for 4 p.m.

Family Communication Seen Way To Fight Delinquency

CORAL GABLES — The breakdown of communications between family members and a de-emphasis of the church and family are a major cause of juvenile delinquency, a juvenile court judge said here.

Judge Ben Sheppard, a member of Little Flower parish, spoke on the subject, "Parental Responsibility" during a meeting of the parish Holy Name Society.

Mr. Sheppard pointed out that "early marriages" burden the household with the responsibility of children when the home is not prepared to shoulder the obligations. He added that the divorce rate among 17 and 18 year-olds is about 16 per cent.

Two Holy Name Societies Hold Corporate Communion

WEST PALM BEACH — The Senior and Junior Holy Name Societies of Holy Name parish observed a Corporate Communion and installed new members.

A Father and Son Breakfast followed at the Royal Palm Beach Hotel and a Serra District Governor Philip Lewis as guest speaker.

Father Frank McCann, pastor, and Father Francis Le Chiaris, assistant pastor, also spoke.

George Papadopoulos, president of the Senior Holy Name Society, was master of ceremonies and Gene Ly, treasurer, was chairman of the breakfast.

Other effects of the Society included: Vice President Roland Desnoyers, Secretary Walter Atwell and Marshalls Bill Hetrick and Anthony Podosky.

St. Brendan Group Schedules Dinner

St. Brendan's Holy Name Society will hold a benefit dinner from 1:30 to 7:30 p.m. this Sunday, Nov. 15, in the Columbus High School Cafeteria, SW 87th Ave. and 2nd St.

Gus Kitsios, chairman of the dinner, will be assisted by 25 members of the Society and Boy Scouts of Troop 984, which is sponsored by the Society.

Members of the parish and non-parishioners are invited to attend the dinner. Plans have been made to serve 1,000 or more.
FORT MYERS — Members of the Knights of Columbus were urged here to assist in the work of their pastors and bishops by a top K. of C. official in the state.

In a talk delivered at a K. of C. dinner, F. Thomas Leonardi, master of the 4th Degree of the Knights of Columbus in South Florida, stressed that all Knights by their pledge as members must support the work of pastors and bishops by a

Mr. Leonardi pointed out that the Knights have an opportunity to carry out this pledge by volunteering for the Dioces-wide census to be conducted Sunday, Nov. 22.

Mr. Leonardi was principal speaker at a K. of C. dinner which followed installation of new officers of the Father James J. O’Riordan Fourth Degree General Assembly.

Mr. Leonardi conducted the installation.

New officers installed were: Gay C. Riecciardi, faithful navigator; Philip Kiser, faithful captain; Charles Kiesel, faithful pilot; Earl B. Gracie, faithful comptroller; Anthony Darin, faithful pursuer; Philip B. Conner, faithful scrivie; Hilbert Kiesel, faithful sentinel; Homer Swaney, faithful sentinel and Alex Gracie, faithful admiral. Faithful friar of the Father James J. O’Riordan Fourth Degree General Assembly is Fr. Joseph H. Devaney, pastor of St. Francis Xavier parish.

Frank Petersen, former grand knight of the Miami Beach K. of C. Council, was in charge of the Color Corps for the installation. He was assisted by Joseph De Salvo, outgoing faithful captain of the Father James J. O’Riordan Fourth Degree General Assembly.

PALM BEACH — The Color Corps of the Father Andrew Doherty General Assembly of the Fourth Degree of the Knights of Columbus will assist at a K. of C. memorial Mass for John F. Kennedy to be celebrated at St. Edward’s Church at 9 a.m. Sunday, Nov. 22.

The Marian Council of the Knights of Columbus observed a Corporate Communion at the 9 a.m. Mass at St. Lawrence Church this Sunday, Nov. 15.

A light breakfast will be served in the parish hall, 220 E. 119 St., following the Mass.

The Miami Council of the Knights of Columbus will hold a Memorial Service for deceased members Tuesday evening, Nov. 24, at the Council Hall, 346 NW 27th Ave.

Special prayers also will be offered for the late President John F. Kennedy.

A free fish fry will be held at the Council Hall tonight.

RICHMOND, Va. (NO) — John J. Daly Sr., editor of the Catholic Virginian of Richmond and a former president of the Catholic Press Association, died suddenly at his home here. He was 59.

A journalist for nearly 40 years, Mr. Daly was editor of the Richmond diocesan newspaper since it became a weekly in 1946.

Mr. Daly was appointed editor of the Catholic Virginian by the late Bishop Peter L. Repton of Richmond and launched it as a weekly tabloid newspaper. Before then it had been a monthly news magazine.

He served in various regional and national posts with the Catholic Press Association and was elected its 23rd president at its convention in 1958 in Richmond. He was reelected the following year in Omaha.

Mr. Daly was named a Knight of St. Gregory in 1956.

He is survived by his wife and three sons — John J., Jr., of the NCWC News Service staff; Brian, editor of the Catholic Commissary, newspaper of the Haitian Rouge, La., diocese; and Gerald.

2nd Caribbean Group Takes Course At Institute

Sixty-one men from the Dominican Republic and Puerto Rico are enrolled at the Inter-American Institute at Opa-locka airport, sponsored by the Diocese of Miami. Classes are conducted daily, except Sunday, to improve economic conditions in underdeveloped areas.

Father Mauro Barrenechea, S. J., (Far Right) Director, With Students, Faculty Of Inter-American Institute

Father Barrenechea and his assistant went to the Dominican Republic. They visited the men who had been here at the Institute and sought to find out how they were applying what they learned to their every-day activities.

The new group at the Institute differs from the first in that they are older, more in the leadership category.

The first students were for the most part, very young men, some in high school.

Recent Institute students, between 25 and 30 years of age, are mainly active union, farm and cooperative leaders on a national level. Twelve are in universities.

The main or key intent of Institute courses is to teach the men to apply the social doctrine philosophy of the Church to their every-day life.

There would be no point in Institute officials feeling if these men were to be instructed in Social Doctrine principles and then left without a means of transmitting them to the mainstream and heart of their home country's life.

As one of the men put it:

"I came here because I want to shoulder my responsibilities in the social formation of my country.

"In underdeveloped Latin America the economic difficulties, the illiteracy — all these problems — demand that we be basically well-versed in Social Doctrine principles and then, left without a means of transmitting them to the mainstream and heart of their home country's life.

"We must be in the vanguard of changes which should and must be brought about." RESOLVE

One of the Institute teachers declared:

"As soon as you meet these young Christian leaders you see their discontent with and their firm resolve to correct the economic situation in their countries. You see, too, a maturity which has made them reject the promises of the International Communists.

"The present Institute class will leave Miami after its six-week course — they arrived Oct. 30 — with a keener understanding of how to become stronger and better leaders.

They will know more about economics, sociology, social security and related topics.

They will have learned moral theology for the laity and received a practical "know-how" course in the use of propaganda.

EDUCATING

In the matter of educating their fellow men in what they, themselves, have learned they are now being taught, to make use of posters, films, film showings, make speeches and write letters to the editor.

Father Barrenechea and Father Moreno are hopeful.

They have an Institute faculty well-versed in social formation and Christian doctrines.

The faculty includes priests with experience in the labor-economic field, university professors, former leaders in student and union groups and instructors with practical experience in the various communications media.

Furthermore, the Institute director and his assistant have an eager, enthusiastic group of students who are more willing temporarily, to leave their homelands so that they might go back to it, better citizens and better aware of their responsibilities to their fellow man.

Father Barrenechea and Father Moreno are sure their Institute is to be a success — even if only one of the men does something for his country that will help make it a better place in which to live and to bring up children.

Religious Flag Protest

Advises Public Schools

HASBROUCK HEIGHTS, N. J. (NO — The American Civil Liberties Union has protested the practice of flying pennants with the motto "One Nation Under God" under the American flag on the borough hall and in three public parks here.

The ACLU said the borough had no right to spend public money for religious flags. However, Mayor John F. Knowland said he would pay for the flags himself.

Más allá todavía fueron los pronunciamientos del Obispo Alfredo Ancel de Lyons, Francia al pedir al Concilio que todas las naciones renunciaran al derecho de hacer la guerra y que colocaran sus armas bajo una autoridad internacional, que seria encargada de defender individualmente a los paises en contra de posibles agresores. Señaló que no cabe la ocasioan a malas interpretaciones y citó la frase del fundador presidente Kennedy “de no destruir nuestras armas, ellas nos destruirán a nosotros.” Los problemas de la paz y la guerra sólo pueden ser resueltos en términos de amor y no de fuerza declaró que el Obispo Michel Ntuyahaga, de Usumbara, Burundi. El preslado africano manifestó que el documento debe reflejar esto, y pidió al Concilio que hiciera un llamado a todos los fieles de todo el mundo solicitando sus oraciones especiales a todos.

El documento-proyecto sobre las Misiones, provoco nuevos debates y discusiones por parte de los obispos conciliadores. El Obispo Lawrence Piteachy de Jamshe- por, India puso énfasis en lo mucho que las misiones contribuyen a la totalidad de la vida de la Iglesia, promoviendo la vida misma, el fervor la creciente conciencia del catolicismo.

El patriarca de Rito Mel-kita y a la vez vicario del Obispo En el caso de República Zïgh, declaró “el concilio tiene que tener en cuenta la misi- en considerable como un manancial de vida cristiana, la ideología de la semilla de la palabra de Dios. No es buen el im- poner un Cristo pre-fabricado en otras culturas, pero la Igles- ia debe hacer posible a través de las misiones que el pueblo reconozca a Cristo re- gresado a la luz de sus propias culturas.

El obispo Fulton Sheen, de Nueva York, dijo que la palabra “Misión” fuera considerada en un concepto más amplio. Solicitó que no se limita- ria a la actividad de la Igles- ia en países no cristianos so- lamente, sino que se extienda- ra a todas estas áreas en que una verdadera actividad mi- sionera fuera requerida.

SERIE DE INFORMES SOBRE LOS NUCLEOS LATINOS EN MIAMI

Miami, Ciudad Mágica con Creciente Influencia Latina

Por Manolo Reyes

Miami, la Ciudad Mágica, es un punto focal del Hemisferio Occidental, donde día a día se pinta un nuevo horizonte de desarrollo. La Organización de Estados Americanos, organismo rector de las relaciones interamericanas, ha estado desempeñando un papel activo e importaantal en los conflictos que siempre tiene lugar en naciones en desarrollo. Se pueden citar como ejemplos el caso de República Dominicana al ser declarado presidente Juan Bosch, los sucesos del Canal de Panamá registrados en enero último, la denuncia de Venezuela contra el régimen colombiano, la obstrucción de Cuba al ser des- cubierto un cargamento de tres toneladas de armas en la península de Paraguaná. En todos estos casos y mu- chos más la OEA envió delegaciones de investigación o mediación que siempre tuvieron en Miami un punto importante de escala tanto a la ida como a la vuelta.

En la Ciudad Mágica han hecho un año los más altos dignatarios eclesiásticos. En menos recientes en me- nos de 48 horas dos presi- dentes latinoamericanos han visitado Miami: Rómulo Betancourt de Venezuela y Francisco J. Ortich de Costa Ri- ca.

Actualmente el Presidente de Colombia, Guillermo León, ha hecho un llamamiento a todos los pre- sidentes del Hemisferio para que se reúna en Washington el próximo 22 de noviembre en la conmemoración del primer aniversario de la muerte de John F. Kennedy.

Algunos primeros mandata- rios, como Marco Robles de Pázami, han manifestado ya su asentimiento. Observadores nacionales entienden que muchos presidentes harán esta visita en Miami, puerto de en- trada a Estados Unidos.

El monumento Kennedy a la Anticrón de la América en Biscayne Boulevard, edificada con la ciudad de Mía- mi como símbolo de amistad hacia todos los vecinos de Centro y Sud América, es un ejemplo de la influencia la- tina en estas áreas. Los más altos oficiales latinoamericanos, vice-presidentes o ministros de rela- ciones exteriores han sido los que han manifestado su asentimiento en su naciones en el monumen- to.

Todo esto llevó a la oficina de Organización de Estados Americanos en Washington a establecer en Miami el siguiente esquema: "Entra- ñas así un precedente por- que hasta entonces la OEA había tomado sus decisiones oficiales en las capi- tales de los estados miembros.

Cada semana aumenta la población latina de Miami, ya sea en residentes oficiales o en turistas. Muchos jóvenes latinoamericanos vienen a la ciudad buscando un futuro en el extranjero.

SAN JUAN, P.R. El Papa Paolo VI le ha dado a la Iglesia en Puerto Rico una nueva visión, con un decidido do de enfoque latino. Nombró al Obispo Luis Aponte Martínez como arzo- bispo de San Juan, posición clave en la literatura espiri- tual de Puerto Rico. También fue nombrado el nombre de 105 obispos latinoamericanos, indicó que en América Latina vive hoy la tercera parte de los católicos de todo el mundo, y que el año 2,000 será casi la mitad. Expuso luego datos sobre la población latinoameri- nica, una renta anual que no supera los 200 dólares por cabeza, o sea apenas el 10 por ciento de la renta anual de los habitantes de naciones poderosas. Al tocar des- pués el aspecto político, dijo que el pueblo está empeñado en educar política y aspira par- ticipativa que se le conduzca y por ello se compren- dió que en algunos países un oligarquía decidida todo por sí misma.

En América Latina "es ne- cesario iniciar toda clase de acciones reformadoras", lo dijo Mons. El Cine en la Calle

Por Fr. Rodrigo O. Sorondo

El mundo se desprende, está intranquilo. Hay burlones de cambio. Los hombres se mueven temerosos, en busca de las zonas de los egoístas, los rostros hambrientos de los infelices y temor en los corazones de los perseguidos.

Asi como el mejor arte es la pura naturaleza —debe, luego mentalmente interpretada, asi también el mejor cine es la realidad inmediata móvil y fugaz, con sus personajes, sus reacciones de las circunstancias, el entorno, la vida, que se muestran intranquilos. Un peligro, un viento, una nube que se extiende sobre el paisaje introduciendo una inquietud, una angustia, un divertimiento, los conflictos y hasta las tragedias de la civilización, se muestran intranquilos. Un hombre, un grupo de hombres, suelen mostrarse como la de aquel personaje cinematográfico que habia vuelto a ponderar ante los profesionales del cine la trascendentia de su actividad en el mundo presente. Vida, vida y cine, no nos puede ligar la atencion que Pablo VI haya vuelto a ponderar ante los profesionales del cine la trascendentia de su actividad en el mundo presente.

En efectivo, en la calle está el cine, con todo aque- llo que nuestra civilización civilizadora significa. En la ca- lle están las máquinas con sus hombres y mujeres dentro como si mujeres y hombres se hubieran reducido a manóto- tos de ingenieros. En la calle está el trabajo, el pro- ceso, la angustia, el divertimiento, los conflictos y hasta las soledades del ser humano. En la calle se pasa y se oculta la propia insignificancia y se medita y se habla solo. En la calle están los escaparates, posiblemente las únicas ven- tanas abiertas al ensueño, al arte y al buen gusto y tam- bién a la verdad y al respeto del distinto y la existencia, como la de aquel personaje cinematográfico que a la vuelta de su oficina monodónica se dedica a mí- seres humanos que llevan a sus almas respectivamente imágenes y folletos sobre exvotos esotéricos, donde alguna vez vienen, canso: "Pa- ra esto me voy a la calle!

Por Qué Triunfan los Malos

Siempre me ha inquietado el por qué siendo Dios tan bueno y por qué se le tributa honor y admiración. Deseaba que los negocios no fueran como los que vi. Hasta sentir que no podía seguir en la vida que tenía que haber otra vida donde a cada uno se le pergaran, nos preguntaríamos felices que un millonario egoísta, inquieto siempre y renegando virtuoso que se contenta con poco y pone su dicha en ser ajusticiados.

También todos conocemos a bribones que viven miserablemente, pero que no tienen una aplicación para los dignos. Así los dignos recibirán un premio en el derrumbe. Esta característica que San Pío XII puso en el protocolo de los defensores de la fe, también es aplicable. Los que ostentan el trono de la fe, también recibirán un premio en este mundo, y les aguarda una eternidad de paz.

PRIMER ENCUENTRO DEL MOVIMIENTO FAMILIAR CRISTIANO

Matrimonios Cristianos Advierten su Responsabilidad Apostólica

Por Gustavo Pozo Mosío

Más de un centenar de matrimonios reunidos en el Primer Encuentro Nacional del Movimiento Familiar Cristiano de habla hispana fueron asistidos durante varios meses en una campaña intensa su acción apostólica destinada a restablecer la familia cristiana.

La asamblea se efectuó en el auditorio de la escuela parroquial del Caridad, procediendo de una comisión. En los debates posteriores tomaron parte los directores del Movimiento. Mons. John J. Fitzpatrick Cancelier de la Diócesis de Miami y director del Apostolado en Español, presidió la reunión, pronunciando unas palabras en las que está claramente la responsabilidad del padre de familia, compartida con la del sacerdote al frente de una parroquia.

Los temas expuestos y debatidos en la asamblea fueron: "La Familia en el Comunismo", a cargo de Pedro Díaz y el Padre Mauricio de Belén, y "Advierten su Responsabilidad Apostólica Matrimonios Cristianos", que del matrimonio. "Una "se refiere. Estas últimas fueron invitadas a discutir-aspectos específicos: es para comunicar a los demás, yendo en busca de un plan familiar, de aquellos que aún no han descubierto la grandeza de su vocación matrimonial."

Al terminar el esquema sobre las dificultades que las familias americanas encunan tal como el impulso de amor que tiene que llevar un mensaje de ejemplo a los demás matrimonios latinos, y más aún, al ambiente de Miami en general pues esta es 'la misión del buen apostol. Dicho de otra forma: Conemos en nuestro hogar un Nuevo Mundo, con todo el encanto y la hermosura de la Sagrada Familia, aunque sea la sombra de un árbol de Navidad".

Monsenor Fitzpatrick trasmitió a los matrimonios reunidos el gran interés del Obispo Carville, Presbitero, atendiendo actualmente en el Concilio—por la obra del Movimiento Familiar Cristiano, y la existencia de éste de que hiciera llegar en esa asamblea sus palabras de estímulo a esta obra apostólica.

"La nota de alegría para los adultos, tales como las alegrías que experimentan nuestros hagares el Nacimiento, en el día de Navidad".

"La profunda diversidad de las dos lo que el ambiente familiar se refiere. Al hacer el resumen del acto, el Padre Angél Villanueva llamó la atención sobre los últimos acontecimientos en la sala conciliar de Miami, en el ambiente de Miami en general pues esa es la misión del buen apostol. Dicho de otra forma: Conemos en nuestro hogar un Nuevo Mundo, con todo el encanto y la hermosura de la Sagrada Familia, aunque sea la sombra de un árbol de Navidad.".

Dependent Boys And Girls Reside At The Catholic Home For Children Located In Perrine

DIOCESAN CHARITIES ACTIVITIES

Catholic Home For Children A Bright And Kindly Haven

(This is the second of a series of articles designed to inform readers as to the scope, accomplishments and needs of the Catholic Charities Institutions of the Diocese of Miami. Following is a report on the Catholic Home for Children.)

Situated in a picturesque section of Perrine in South Florida, the Catholic Home for Children has made rewarding strides as a group residential center and as a study home for boys between the ages of 6 and 12 and girls between 6 and 18.

Under the direction of Bishop Coleman F. Carroll, this institution has expanded its operations in the past six years and has readjusted many boys and girls forced to leave their own homes. More than 200 children have been cared for, eventually to return to a confident life for which they will be equipped to make wholesome contributions as staunch Catholics.

The dedicated Sisters of St. Joseph of St. Augustine provide the spiritual and corporal needs of the institution.

Our young people of today face perhaps even greater and more sinister temptations and beguilements than those with which the Pharisees sought to trap Christ. And many of them have no Joseph and Mary to turn to.

"As the twig is bent so the tree shall grow." These twigs . . . our own most precious asset . . . can easily be bent toward evil . . . Communism, violence, disrespect, disobedience to law and order, and a host of other ill-guided paths channeled by a lack of proper guidance and education, leading to sick and undernourished minds and bodies.

The Catholic Home for Children is but one of four of the Charitable Institutions of our Diocese which will benefit from your investment of one day's pay on December 13.

You will be provided with envelopes for this purpose. In the name of your Diocesan Charities, give as much as your God-given means permit. As good Samaritans we owe at least this much to Christ and to His coming generation of good Americans and good Catholics.

(Next week's article will tell the happy results of the untiring work of the Dominican Sisters of Bethany at the recently refurbished home for dependent girls, Bethany Residence.)
Diocesan CYO To Hold One-Day Convention

A Diocesan CYO convention will be held at the Fontainebleau Hotel, Miami Beach, on Tuesday, Dec. 29.

Father Walter J. Dockrell, diocesan director of youth activity, said plans for the convention will be mapped at a meeting of CYO parish moderators and CYO Council presidents at 2 p.m. tomorrow (Saturday).

The meeting will be held at the CYO office, 610 NE Fourth Court.

Preliminary plans call for a convention Mass, three business sessions, a luncheon, a keynote speaker, election of new Diocesan officers, a dinner banquet and a coronaation ball at which the Diocesan CYO King and Queen will be crowned.

All registrations should be mailed to the CYO office by Dec. 19.

Any parish CYO member who is seeking one of the Diocesan CYO offices must file his candidacy with his deanery moderator before Nov. 21.

The deannery moderators are:

- SOUTH DADE — Father Rocco D'Angelo of Our Lady of the Most Holy Rosary parish, Perrine.
- NORTH DADE — Father Brendan Grogan of St. Rose of Lima parish, Miami Shores.

BROWARD — Father John C. Mulcahy of Little Flower parish, Hollywood.

EAST COAST — Father Eugene McCarthy, of St. Jean of Arc parish, Boca Raton.

Applications filed with the deannery moderator must include the name and address of the candidate and a short sketch of his or her qualifications.

The Diocesan CYO posts to be filled include: president, vice president, secretary and treasurer. Candidates for the offices must be in the tenth or eleventh grade.

Pace High School Seniors sponsored a mock election of the president and Florida governor.

President Johnson defeated Barry Goldwater 52-48, and Bush won over Rolle 28-16.

The voting was preceded by a Johnson-Goldwater debate presented by a panel of six Junior girls.

Elections also were held in the Senior class. Class officers were voted in for the current year.

President, Fred Krishon; Vice President, Al Diancus, Secretary, Pat Corbitt, and Treasurer, Mike Huff.

With a total of 43 points, the Forensics team won fourth place for the first time in the history of the tournament.

The team was comprised of Bill Wannemaker, a third place finisher in the extemporaneous division.

FORT LAUDERDALE — A Friday afternoon assembly was held to crown the first yearbook queen at Cardinal Gibbons High School.

The title, which will be decided on at the annual Excelsior, is open to all students of the Senior class.

On Monday, the results of the District elections and State nominations were announced.

The new District "D" officers are: president, Jean Nichols of Fort Lauderdale High; vice president, Mrs. Cleveland Baker of Fort Lauderdale High; secretary-treasurer, Jules Mclan of Fort Lauderdale; and student council chairman, Richard Stratford.

New officers were elected in the Latin Club of CCHS to help collect on their drive to help the handicapped children and San marin Training Center.

The Latin Club of CCHS is responsible for the publicity for the National Catholic Forensic League of Miami.

The Give Club and Drama Club under the direction of Sister Theresa Marie S.S.N.D. and Sister Mary Adrian S.F. will present a Tribute to the late President John F. Kennedy in a program called A Time To Remember at 3 p.m. this Saturday, Nov. 15, at Madonna.

The Madonna Volleyball Team will celebrate the 20th anniversary of their game against Saint Thomas. Their record stands at two wins and three losses.

On Nov. 5, the student body will elect their candidates for the yearbook. There will also be some candid shots taken in the school program.

The Sodality Thanksgiving Dinner will be held at Madonna Wednesday evening, Nov. 25th. Tickets will be sold for $1.50.

The faculty and students of Madonna join in prayerfully mourning the death of Father Lourdes Valdivia, Pattie Egers, Shanning a Thanksgiving feast this Saturday.

The Del Couts will play.

The Corona newspaper staff sponsored its annual Career day.

The program featured speakers from several Catholic schools, including Brother Billary, S.T., Leo, Catholic University, Marymount, Notre Dame, Loyola, and Biscayne. This college night was the second of three being held in Dade, Broward, and Palm Beach Counties.

Student Council President Edward Leclede became acting President for the annual Student Administration Day. Seniors and Juniors became chairmen of the day, and the faculty was free to observe the classes.

Many prospective teachers got a taste of being on the other side of the lectern. The classes were well run, with both students and teachers benefiting.

Steve Gehl, Patricia Sanders, Laura Kircher, and Peggy Raffa were presented the prize of $50 for the best paper on one of the topics.

The results of the elections were as follows:

First place trophy for the National Catholic Forensic League.

The Young Women's Club of St. Lucie County asked girls from CCHS to help collect on their drive to help the handicapped children and Sunland Training Center.

The 15 girls donating their time are: Lorraine Holt, Tilda Tallant, Barbara Bradford, Mary Steeple, Connie Harris, Loretta Van Ganz, Patie O'Neill, Debbie Roberts, Gloria Underwood, Barbara Corrills, Tonya Mcdonald, Pam Egers, Jackie Conroy, Nancy McGaun and Alida Woolsey.

New officers were elected in the Latin Club of CCHS as follows:

are: Consula — Judy Corrills, Mary Scarto; Quaestor — Joyce Dowd; Censor — Nana Simpkin; Tribunos — Rachel Scorino and Tonine Harris.

At its last meeting the membership adopted the following rules of Virgil's writings and contributions to Latin Literature. During the year they plan to concentrate on Mythology and its effects on English Literature and our daily lives.

Chaminade Jumps Out Front In Regional Grid Race

By Jack Houghteling

Chaminade High of Hollywood received a big assist from Cardinal Newman of West Palm Beach last week to move to the top of the Class A Region 4 football race.

Chaminade topped Class AA Miami Beach, 36-7, while Newman was handing crosstown rival LaSalle a 14-0 shutout, a loss that knocked LaSalle not only from first place in the A-4 standings, but from the lead in the South Atlantic Conference.

The victory boosted Chaminade to a 5-2 season's record with just two games left to be played, Cardinal Gibbons on Saturday night at McArthur High Stadium and Class AA Northeast on Nov. 31.

A sweep of both games would assure the Lions of the regional title and the best team role with the Region 2 winners in the state's semi-finals on Dec. 4.

LaSalle had been 5-2 going into the game with New- man, but with only Saturday's game remaining on its sched- ule, must pull out both Chaminade and Miami Military Acad- emy, now in second place, to lose both of their remaining games.

Cardinal Newman can once again help Chaminade by knock- ing off Miami Military Friday afternoon in their game at the Kaydorfs campus.

Under the complicated points system (16 points for a victory over a Class AA or A school and 4 points for a win over a Class B school) Chaminade has 50 points. LaSalle has 44, Miami Military 38 and Cardinal Newman 34.

The Voice Of Sports

Other highlights of last week's action, saw Archbishop Curley of Miami blank Coral Park, 14-0, Christopher Columbus lost a 7-6 decision to South- west High. Cardinal Gibbons drop a 36-6 game to Jupiter. Fort Pierce Central Catholic absorbed a 25-0 loss at the hands of Florida Academy and St.

Thomass 0-10 at Miami Mil- itary.

Both Curley and Columbus are Class AA schools competing in the state's toughest confer- ence, the 23-member Gold Coast Conference. Curley's triumph was its fifth in the last six games.

Danny Maitlen led Chami- nade's fine backfield in the rout of Miami Beach, scoring the first two Lions' touchdowns on runs of 70 and 41 yards, for his 11th and 12th touchdowns of the season. Skip Deed threw another on a five-yard pass, and quarterback Jack Garner got the fourth on a 10-yard run, all in the first half.

Newman pulled off a major suprise in its triumph over LaSalle by switching to a single- wing attack that featured John- ne McHale Jr., a 20-pound sophomore, who is the son of the Milwaukee Braves' general manager, and who was eligible for his first game after moving from Milwaukee.

The touchdowns, however, were to John Cerveny on a two-yard pass from Carl Caren while Dave Drane got the other on a four-yard run.

LaSalle twice moved inside the Newman 10-yard line in the first half without scoring.

Curley High's stout defense kept Coral Park in check throughout its game while the Knights' offensive unit scored twice on quarterback Rennne Her- rando's passes. The first came on a 46-yard play to half- back Bob Walsh while the sec- ond came on a then touchdown to end Greg Golding in the Coral Park end zone.

Columbus lost its narrow de- cision to Southwest when its try for an extra point after a fourth-quarter touchdown by Harold Hartman was blocked by the Southwest defensive crew. Hartman had scored on a four-yard run to close the gap to one point.

With quarterback Jimmy Gur- zynski back in the lineup for the first time in weeks, Gib- bous gave once-beaten Jupiter a scare before dropping a 36-6 game. After Jupiter had scored in the first period, Gursznick threw two touchdowns, his 11th and 12th touchdowns of the season.

What's Turkey Stuffin' Without Spice?

By FLORENCE DEVANEY

The cooking and baking of the Thanksgiving-Christmas season always seems to be more fragrant than at any other time of the year. It's a fact, says the American Spice Trade Association, whose industry traditionally enjoys a boom during the holidays.

The recipes of this season, both native American and imported, make liberal use of spices — from turkey stuffing to pumpkin pie, plum pudding, "nut cakes, gingerbread and a host of others.

Remember, say the experts, that the aromas of Christmas in the kitchen are really a key to the flavor you'll get in your fruitcakes, gingerbread and a host of others.

GOOD CARAMEL APPLES

Perhaps the teen-agers at your house would enjoy fixing these delicious, not-too-sweet caramel apples. Wash and dry the apples, then dip each apple into the syrup, one at a time, twirling until the syrup is evenly coating the apples. Let them drip a bit and, if you wish, dip in hot oven (400 F.) 12 to 15 minutes, or until edges are lightly browned.

Pope Sends Compliment To Women's Convention

WASHINGTON (NC) — Pope Paul VI has praised the National Council of Catholic Women for selecting as the theme of its 23rd national convention “Vatican Council II — and You.”

Pope Paul, in a message from Rome to the convention, said the ecumenical council “among the primary works of our pontificate, and we encourage and bless every effort to make it better known and to pray for its success.”

The Pope also commended the NCWC for its programs of charitable activities and for “the unity and fraternal love” which it promotes among its members and member organizations.

Archbishop Leo Binz of St. Paul, Minn., episcopal chairman of the National Catholic Welfare Conference Department of Lay Organizations, said in his message that the Catholic woman should expand her influence from the home to society as well.

HEART OF THE HOME

“The Catholic woman has always been the heart of the home. Under the inspiration of the liturgy, and in the light of the council teaching, she must become the understanding, educated heart of human society as well,” he said.

“It is the specific work of your convention to lead the Catholic woman to enter more profoundly upon the work of the Church, to bring her influence upon the modern world,” Archbishop Binz declared.

Archbishop Patrick A. O’Boyle of Washington, host of the convention, welcomed the delegates to his message and said, “Our Catholic women of the United States have made and are making a valuable contribution to the life of the Church and to the welfare of their country. “Your influence is being felt in many areas of life today, indeed in almost every facet of life.”

Two citations for public service were presented to the NCWC during the convention. Mrs. Joseph McCarthy, president, accepted awards on behalf of the organization from representatives of the American Cancer Society and the Treasury Department.

The Cancer Society cited the federation for its nationwide work through diocesan councils in uterine cancer projects. The Treasury honored the NCWC for its support of the U.S. savings bond program.

Father John Nevias, chancellor of the Miami DCWC, attended convention sessions and was compted by Mrs. Thomas F. Palmer, DCWC president; Mrs. N. J. G. Flumer, first president of the Miami DCWC and national vice-president of Organizer and Development; Mrs. Edward Dillon, Mrs. Joseph Nader, Miami DCWC treasurer; and Mrs. Robert Wall.

World’s finest roof coating — White-Tite — has been proved in use for over 17 years. One example of their quality workmanship is the flat tile roof on the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Bickelway, 5780 S.W. 13th St., which was cleaned, sealed and coated by White-Tite 1 months ago. White-Tite’s exclusive sealing and coating process protects the roof during hurricanes winds and prevents tile loss. While White-Tite does not patch leaks, we can fix broken tile during our regular sealing process. Wherever you live in Florida, there’s a White-Tite roof near your home. Why settle for less? Have White-Tite and be sure!

Mr. Nader Matriciano, Mrs. Donald Mabel, chairman; Mrs. Matriciano, and Mrs. Joseph Boucher are shown making the rosaries.

NEW GUINEA missions receive rosaries made by Our Lady of Fatima Rosary Making Circle in St. Jude parish, Jupiter. Mrs. Robin Pope sends compliment to women’s convention.

INDIA: EVERY MOTHER’S WORRY

IF YOU LIVED IN INDIA, YOU’D BEARLY WANT DISEASE.
You’d see suffering in your family, perhaps in the faces of your children... Cholera, smallpox, influenza, diphtheria, typhoid, measles, pneumonia, tuberculosis, amebiasis, encephalitis, and malaria are common diseases in India. That’s why parents in ERANAKULAM cere... The Sisters need help to continue what they’re doing. They need, in particular, a chapel in which they can show their patients Christ... The chapel will cost only $3,800, and it will make an excellent memorial for those you love... Will you help us... It’s a scandal, especially in INDIA, that a Catholic hospital for children does not have a chapel. Please send whatever you can... The SISTERS will pray for you always.

THE EUCHARISTIC CONGRESS IN INDIA two weeks from now will spotlight the fact that members of this Association build churches and schools, convents and clinics, and train most of the native priests and Sisters in Kerala State. Kerala was entrusted to us by the Holy Father 34 years ago. It is now 20% Christian.

CALLING ALL TEACHERS—Teaching Pope Paul said recently, “is the 'art of arts,' the highly noble choice of one who wishes to give his life the value of a spiritual mission.” Why not share the teacher’s vocation? Sister Cordelia, in INDIA, needs $250 altogether to complete her two-year training. You may make the payments in small installments at $125 a month, or $150 a year, for instance). And she will write to you.

THANKSGIVING: FEED A FAMILY—You can brighten your dinner Thanksgiving Day (Nov. 26) by feeding hungry refugees in the Holy Land. Enroll your friends and neighbors in this Association for $5 a family, send us their names and addresses. . . Enroll your friends and neighbors in this Association at a dinner Thanksgiving Day (Nov. 26) by feeding hungry refugees in the Holy Land.

HOLY LAND: OLIVE WOOD—As a token of our thanks, we’ll send you an Olive Wood Rosary from the Holy Land.

The Question Box

Have Money, Will Give What’s Suitable Charity?

By Msgr. J. D. Conway

Q. I have a few thousand dollars I should like to donate in memory of my late relative. However, I am at a loss to decide on how to evaluate it in the eyes of the Lord. I am therefore not sure which to contribute to. What do you think? I understand that churches in the foreign missions of India will be grateful to you.

Q. Please help me to determine a contribution that Lord might be pleased to accept.

Q. Do last rites cease all time due to purgatory and send the soul directly to heaven? And do we have the same effect on the soul as the last right?

A. I wish I knew! But no one on earth knows the precise effects on any particular soul. Only God knows the disposition of each person: the warmth and depth of his love, the sincerity and completeness of his repentance, the fervor of his faith, the quality of his efforts at repentation, and how completely has he forgiven his own offenses. It is, of course, the Church who franchises the last rights, especially the three sacraments of penance, Eucharist, and the anointing of the sick offer all the graces any soul may need for salvation, but much of their effect is in our response to them.

If I were to give you advice, I would say, First, you should avoid committing sin. Second, you should do good, in time and in eternity. Third, you should make a good confession, and then receive the Sacraments, being helped by the grace of God. And this is true of all the three sacraments of penance, i.e., the Sacrament of Penance, Eucharist, and Confirmation, and the anointing of the sick.

CHRISTIAN HEROES

By Father JOHN A. O’BRIEN

Did you ever stop to think that every organization that is in function must have a head. It is because the Catholic Church has a head, who is empowered to administer, govern, and guide the Church, decide disputes and interpret the Bible correctly, that it has been marvelously successful in spreading the faith throughout the world. We will ask this point to a non-Catholic friend, you are likely to interest him in the Church. Then through a classmate, William is an excellent Catholic who knows his faith and lives it. His example made me to communicate my deepest sentiments of homage and admiration. I hungre...
I am an aged person, a sinner, who has not been to confession in years. I desire desperately to go, but I cannot go to the priest in the sacristy. Since I am deaf, is it all right to go to confession even though I do not hear the advice the priest gives? I go to Mass regularly, but I cannot even bring myself to discuss this matter with a priest. Yet I pray daily for grace to make my confession.

By JOHN J. KANE Ph.D.

You are presenting a moral, physical and a psychological problem. The moral problem is rather simply answered. You should, of course, go to confession since you daily pray for grace to do so. I am certain God is providing it, and perhaps my approach to your psychological and physical problem will help.

Age takes its toll of persons in many different ways. Some seem to escape its ravages almost entirely and at eighty or ninety have all their faculties only slightly impaired if at all. Others are prone to deafness, to defects in eyesight, are unable to get around at all or even to speak, which is a physical disease interfering with the mental faculties.

In your case I suspect a combination of two factors keeping you from confession. First, since you have not confessed in a long period of time, you are filled with misgivings. You have forgotten, perhaps, that penance is the sacrament of mercy instituted by Christ just because we are all sinners. If we all lived lives of perfection, confession would not be necessary. Unfortunately, as a result of original sin, this is not the case.

One of the side effects of old age is a tendency toward timidity, to feelings of insecurity. You are afraid of what the large city where your fears of being identified would be dissipated? Or, failing that, why not make your confession to a priest never to reveal what he hears in confession. He cannot even mention it to you outside of confession without your permission. Most churches have equipment for those visiting priest during a novena, a retreat or mission in your own church or one close to your hometown? Although I urge you not to wait for such a devotion but to go to confession as soon as possible.

As a matter of fact, once you have returned to confession, most probably all, of the fears you now entertain about it will disappear. You are permitting yourself to live in an unrealistic dream which simply does not exist.

It is, of course, important that you be able to hear the priest when he counsels you and gives you your penance. Most church-supplies, at least in towns and cities, have equipment for those

Priestly Silence

Again, you may have forgotten the strict obligation of the priest never to reveal what he hears in confession. He cannot even mention it to you outside of confession without your permission. Perhaps you forget, but your name is not asked nor are you obliged to identify yourself or others. Just the opposite is true. The priest is just as eager as the penitent to observe the anonymity of the confessional.

Furthermore, the priest is not particularly interested in your identity except insofar as your state in life has a bearing on your confession. Perhaps you forget, but it is all right to go to confession even though you daily pray for grace to make your confession.

Finally, remember the parable of the Shepherd who left ninety-nine other sheep to find the one that was lost, and remember the joy that will be in your soul will also be in Heaven over the sinner who does penance.

Your Pastor

My Dear Parishioner,

The critical shortage of priests and the frightful threats of atheism and paganism make Bishop Carroll's request, to place The Voice in every home, a most urgent one. Sacrifice some non-essential reading matter so that you can read The Voice thoroughly every week. It is the only way the voice of Christ can be heard in our Catholic homes week after week.

Please send your subscription payment for the coming year to the rectory. God bless you.
