WASHINGTON — President Johnson told the Catholic University of America’s commencement ceremony that America’s conduct in world affairs is based on a moral duty to secure peace.

Mr. Johnson appealed to communists, nations, including those in war-torn southeast Asia, to join the United States in “a walk toward peace.”

He asked skeptics to see in U.S. actions not motives of materialism, militarism or imperialism, but an effort to meet “our moral duties to mankind.”

“Sure of its moral purpose — sure of its own moral performance — America shall not be deterred from doing what must be done to preserve this last peace man shall ever have to win or lose,” he said.

Archbishop Patrick A. Byrne of Washington, chancellor of the 76-year-old national pontifical university, presented Mr. Johnson with an honorary doctorate of laws.

 Auxiliary Bishop William J. McDonal of Washington, rector of the institution, read the citation which touched upon Mr. Johnson’s policy involving U.S. military forces in the fighting in Viet Nam and in the Dominican Republic and also lauded his successful pursuit of an “adequate, effective and equitable program of Federal aid to education.”

Present at the ceremony was House Speaker John McCormack of Massachusetts.

Two other honorary degrees were awarded, both to officials of the U.S. Catholic overseas relief agency. They are: Auxiliary Bishop Edward E. Swann of New York, executive director of Catholic Relief Services; National Catholic Welfare Conference, and James J. Norris, assistant to the CHS executive director.

Degrees were conferred on 1,462 graduates, the largest graduating class in the university’s history. One of the institution’s 2,000 foreign students, a Cuban refugee, Emilto Custo, delivered the valedictorian address.

Speaking in the university’s gymnasium at 10:30 Sunday morning Mr. Johnson stressed the moral purposes of U.S. actions.

“On this campus dedicated to the glory of God,” he said, “it is fitting that we meet on this first day of the week. For this is the day kept by Christendom as a day of remembrance, a day of renewal, a day of dedication to the moral values by which we guide our lives.”

He said “men in other lands” have elected to discount moral duty as the motivation that moves America. “In its place, they have erected and embraced myths of their own creation — the myths of American isolationism and imperialism, the myths of American militarism and militarism,” he states.

Yet, he said, America has chronicled the truth about its motivations “on every continent in this century.” He cited assistance to needy nations, the offering to use the atom’s power for peace and other efforts.

The President quoted Pope John XXIII on the pursuit of peace. He said:

“Pope John XXIII reminded us that peace would be only ‘an empty-sounding word’ unless it is realized, as he put it: ‘... An order founded on truth, built according to justice, vivified and integrated by charity of learning and love.’”

“... This is the last imperative of morality among nations — to integrate the system of nations and peoples by charity, not a charity of callous and calculating dole, but the compassionate charity of learning and love.

“This, too, has been — and will continue to be — the purpose of the American people: to maintain in our policies toward all nations a spirit of compassion and caring. For we believe, as Pope John said: ‘There is an immense task incumbent on all men of good will, namely the task of restoring the relations of the human family in truth, in justice, in love and in freedom.’”

President Johnson leaves commencement ceremonies at Catholic University of America, Washington, where he received an honorary degree, With Min. left, Archbishop Patrick A. O’Byrne, chancellor; and Bishop William J. McDonald, rector, of the university.

HIGH COURT OVERRULES CONNECTICUT

Birth Control Law Upset

By RUSSELL SHAW

WASHINGTON (CIC) — The U.S. Supreme Court has ruled that Connecticut’s law against birth control is an unconstitutional invasion of the privacy of married couples.

The high court struck down the 68-year-old statute by a 7-2 margin on the last day of its 1961 term.

It reversed the convictions of Dr. C. Lee Buxton, medical director of the Connecticut Planned Parenthood League and chairman of obstetrics and gynecology at the Yale medical school, and Mrs. Richard W. Griswold, his executive director.

They were fined $100 each for operating a birth control clinic in New Haven for 18 days in November, 1961.

UNIQUE STATUTE

They were convicted under a statute making it a crime to assist another person in violating a law. The birth control statute itself, unique with Connecticut, made use of contraceptives by anybody, including married persons, a crime.

The Supreme Court’s action reversed a ruling by the Connecticut Supreme Court of Errors, which had affirmed the convictions and upheld the law.

Interest in the case had run high. A number of groups filed friend of the court briefs (amicus curiae) in the case, and the American Civil Liberties Union, the Catholic Council on Civil Liberties.

The Catholic organization attacked the law on constitutional and moral grounds. It conceded that it gave the state too much power and could not be enforced.

The Connecticut statute was enacted by an overwhelmingly Protestant legislature at a time when Protestant churches generally opposed artificial birth control on moral grounds.

SIMILAR LEGISLATION

Massachusetts has similar legislation against distributing birth control information and devices. Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston stated recently that he did not oppose repeal of that legislation but was opposed to a pending repeal measure. He suggested formation of a special commission to study repeal.

Associate Justice William O. Douglas, who announced the opinion of the court, said the Connecticut law invaded a “zone of privacy created by several fundamental constitutional guarantees.”

The seven members of the majority devoted most of their efforts to attempting to determine just what provisions of the Constitution the Connecticut statute violated.

The two dissenters — Associate Justice Hugo L. Black and Peter Stewart — contended that there is nothing in the Constitution against such laws. Neither, however, defended the Connecticut legislation.

This was the third time that the Connecticut law had been before the Supreme Court. In the earlier cases — in 1942 and 1961 — it declined to rule on the merits, holding either that the plaintiff lacked standing to challenge the statute or that there was no real controversy.

The latest case was argued before the high court last March 25 and 26. The state’s principal defense of the law was that it was a constitutional exercise of its police power to regulate morality and prevent immoral activity.

Counsel for Dr. Euxton and Mrs. Griswold stressed the invasiveness of married couples, the right of a doctor to practice his profession, and free speech.

GOLDEN, SILVER ANNIVERSARIES

3 Bishops And 8 Priests Concelebrate Mass Here

A Mass of Concelebration offered by three members of the hierarchy and eight members of the clergy marked the golden anniversary of ordination for one of the prelates and one of the priests and the silver anniversaries of ordination for the other seven participating priests.

Bishop Coleman F. Carroll and Bishop Patrick Shanley, O.C.D. joined golden jubilarian Bishop Edward Dalmazan, and secular and religious members of the clergy in the celebration of the Mass on June 2, in the chapel at St. John Vianney Seminary.

Ordained to the priesthood on Oct. 30, 1913, Bishop Dalmazan is serving as resident chaplain at the Pennsylvania Retirement Hotel, West Palm Beach.

Golden Jubilarian Father Francisco Fernandez, ordained Sept. 15, 1913, is resident chaplain at the Sacred Heart Residence, Miami Beach.

Silver Jubilarian Priests in the Diocese of Miami observing the 25th anniversary of their ordination during the Concelebrated Mass included Father Casimir Budzinski, administrator, San Pablo parish, Marathon, ordained March 26, 1935; Father Joseph P. Grumley, pastor, St. Clement parish, Fort Lauderdale, ordained June 10, 1936; Father Francis J. Dunleavy, pastor, St. Francis de Sales parish, Miami Beach, ordained June 20, 1940; Father Cyril Burke, O.P., and Father Joseph J. Jurnak, O.P., both members of the faculty at Barry College, ordained May 31, 1940; Father Wilfred Garigasy, S.J., St. Joseph parish, Miami Beach; Father M. Shannon, T.O.R., Nativity parish, Hollywood, ordained May 3, 1960.

Present for the Concelebrated Mass were large delegations of priests and religious stationed in the Diocese of Miami, St. John Vianney Seminary Choir and the Mass.

GREAT WORK OF PRIESTS

In his sermon, Father John Young, C.M., seminary rector, told the congregation that “to utter the word ‘priest’ brings 20 centuries of Pope, Confessors and martyrs before our eyes. Faithful priests who have sought out the dark places of the world to bind up those broken in spirit or in health; feeding the hungry, clothing the naked, leading back the wayward to Christ. Pious priests, breaking the word of God to new souls, breaking the unknown and the uncertain, riding their life to pur- life.

"The Church will live, though her pomp and ceremony may be torn from her. She will still exist, though stripped of her ornamen- and majesty. She will prosper as she has in the past with but a stone for an altar, a priest for her chapel, the sun for a lamp. One thing only will cause her to cease if she has no priests," Father Young pointed out.

EVER PRESENT

"It is the priest that stands by our side all through life — at our birth and at death — even for other priests. We hardly enter life on life’s threshold, and he is there, to pour the waters of salvation upon us. At the dawn of reason, he is there to feed us with the bread of life, to heal with the words of pardon to impart the lesson of God’s love.

"It is the priest who blesses the bond of man and wife. It is the priest who often keeps a lonely vigil through our years of struggle and toil. As the last moments of this life draw near, he soothes us with the sacra- ments of the sick, and leads us gently to the door of eternity. His solicitude does not end un- til he has confined our lifeless body, with a final blessing, to the earth.

"Today’s ceremony of concelebration recalls the bond of unity that marked the Church in her Springtime," Father Young added. "It is the restora- tion of the integrity, the unifi- ture of the Church, which is made clearer on occasions such as this. This has been the new Pentecost, we con- fidently hope, through the gen- erous outpouring of the Holy Spirit, will arouse generous hearts to respond to His appeal for ‘fishers of men.’"

Father Kish To Be Ordained At Maryknoll Tomorrow

Dawning Of New Pentecost

In a statement issued last week by Bishops of the Atlanta Province concerning church buildings in Georgia and South Carolina, the Diocese of Miami, there was...rings call for religious understanding and racial harmony among people of all faiths.

Surveying the position of the Church in the South during the past several generations, the Bishops noted the gradual strengthening of the Catholic faith in areas where historically there were few Catholics and few priests. "God has been good to us," the statement declared, and we are in a springtime of Catholicism in this warm and gracious land.

With this noticeable renewal of life, the Church is moving forward to meet the needs of a changing world...They call for an exploration of common belief and characterizing relations among men of all religions the past century.

Regarding the hope of unity, the Bishops invoked the men of good will to enter into dialogue and let people everywhere know the growth in brotherliness and mutual respect which has characterized relations among our consciences violated.

Deeply concerned with the problem of racial strife, the Bishops seek to build on this newly laid foundation of cordiality among Catholic clergy...They stress the importance of a man's social, civic and economic life cannot be divorced from the morality of his religion. They point out that in a Catholic country...the truth cannot be compromised nor individual consciences violated.

However, today the Church in the South stands in a different light for many reasons. Her leaders are respected. Her laity are working with dedicated non-Catholic laymen to build a better society and to bring to fruition the ancient traditions and principles of morality against common enemies.

Moreover, many Protestant leaders in their long quest of unity and in their difficult struggle for racial justice are anxious to accept the hand of Christian brothers in a cause so dear to us.

This is indeed a long step forward in a recognition of the role being played in American education by private schools on all levels.

Not long ago it was widely held that private schools were for some vague reason out of step with American traditions and that they could not quite turn out the kind of responsible dedicated American citizens that the country needs.

Only recently have people realized the enormous job private schools have been doing, not only in training future citizens for citizenship in our classrooms, but saving other children hundreds of millions of dollars annually in taxes.

It is heartening to learn that such public figures as Dr. Bailey and Mr. Vaughn insist that the contribution of private schools be taken into account in preparing for Florida's future educational needs.

Overdue Recognition

An editorial in the Miami Herald a few days ago indicated that the public attitude towards private schools has changed considerably in recent times. It quoted Dr. Thomas D. Bailey, superintendent of education, as saying there is "a great place in American education for private schools at all levels. This is particularly true in Florida...where we need all the institutions we can develop to take of the mounting needs by reason of our population expansion..."

The editorial also quoted Harry T. Vaughn, a member of the Florida Council of 100, as calling for a master plan of all the educational programs in Florida, private as well as public. Mr. Vaughn said..."the state institutions should be planned to complement and serve other, but more than that, and far more than that, they should be related sensibly to the great private educational institutions of Florida."

This is indeed a long step forward in a recognition of the role being played by American education by private schools on all levels.

Clarity Amidst Confusion

Among apt similes of the future there may well be this one: "As confusing as Viet Nam."

It is a rare citizen today who can for long make sense out of the news reports on education, and magazine articles purporting to give the lowdown on the National Liberation Front's war in South Vietnam. From the French withdrawal years ago to the murder of Dien, to the shill but often sensible pleas of Madame Ngo to the accession of American experts sent by various presidents to find out what was going on, and to that very day's tragic headline, there has been confusion, deception and endless obfuscation.

In the midst of all this, one reporter has consistently sent out news accounts which the passage of time proved relevant. His name...Father Robert J. Loftus and Stephen J. Mangan, are attending some other Catholic associates hundreds of million dollars annually in taxes.

It is heartening to learn that such public figures as Dr. Bailey and Mr. Vaughn insist that the contribution of private schools be taken into account in preparing for Florida's future educational needs.

"Liturgical Weeks" Help

In Shaping Church Changes

By Father RENE H. GRACIDA

Bishops of Miami

Each year Liturgical Week is devoted to the development of a specific theme. At the talks given during the general sessions, the discussions conducted in the workshops, and the general spirit of the Church are devoted to an intensive analysis of various aspects of the liturgical pect of the Church's life and work.

The directors of the Liturgical Conference, Inc., have, with the cooperation of the Department of Christian Education, worked for past Liturgical Weeks which were relevant in a special way, at the time, to the life of the Church. Not infrequently the ideas and practices developed during a Liturgical Week found their way into the life stream of the Church in the United States and in the Church universal, thereby helping the Church to meet some developing spiritual needs.

RITES CLARIFIED

In 1966, for example, the full meaning of the recently restored rite of Holy Week received clarification during and through the sessions of the Liturgical Week of that year. In 1968 the question of the role of the liturgy has been clarified in Christ was fully explored and the fruits of the discussions in that session are already helping Church in many ways to foster a genuine ecumenical spirit in her dialogue with others.

In 1961 the subject of the Liturgical Week was: "Bible, Life, Service." The relevance of Sacred Scripture in the lives of all Catholics, the importance of a scriptural approach and basis for preaching, education, devotions, etc., were covered during the sessions of the Week that year. The subsequent emphasis placed by the Second Vatican Council on the importance of the Bible by the Second Vatican Council bears ample testimony to the right direction of that year's theme.

The Liturgical Week of 1963 was devoted to the renewal of Catholic education; much that has been subsequently said and written on the subject of Catholic education has received its initial and clear expression in the papers presented during the sessions of that year.

CHALLENGE OF COUNCIL

Last year's Liturgical Week was: "Liturgical Worship." The challenge of the Second Vatican Council to all men of the Church has been taken up. The ways of worship and the liturgical books are to be shown to be more than human authority of Service." Much that was developed during the sessions of 1961 has been clarified during the sessions of the Liturgical Week of 1968.

The Liturgical Week of 1969, "Chapel — Community Worship." The challenge of the Second Vatican Council to all men of the Church has been taken up. The ways of worship and the liturgical books are to be shown to be more than human authority of Service." Much that was developed during the sessions of 1961 has been clarified during the sessions of the Liturgical Week of 1968.

CHRIST IN ADVENT

The idea of the reform of the liturgy has already been discussed during the projected talks and discussions on the subject "Christ Reforms His Church." The current changes taking place in the Church will be shown to be not new but very human "backsliding" — it will be shown that it is the work of Our Lord through the activity of the Holy Spirit.

The papers scheduled for delivery at the general sessions of this year's Liturgical Week promise to provide much food for thought and discussion. Father Edward C. Hoopes, S. J., chairman of the Department of Christian Education at Marquette University, will point the direction toward the answer to the question: "Can Sinful Men Be The Holy People of God?" This is a question of far-reaching implications. The reforms of the Church which are yet to come will be shaped to a large extent by the answers given to such a question.

Bishop Ernest L. Unterkoefler, S. J., of the Diocese of New York, will be the subject of the address by the "Editors of The Church — The Authority of Service." Much that has been developing in the liturgical field in recent months on the subject of the growing crisis of authority in the Church will help to produce a theological consensus which will clarify and make relevant for our times the rightful authority of Pope, Bishop, Pastor and religious Superior.

NEW PARISH

The whole aspect of the Church's life and space within the urban parish will receive scrutiny in the paper entitled "The Parish — Enclave or Apostolic Community," which will be delivered by the Right Rev. John Harmon, a prominent Protestant theologian.

Other papers to be delivered at the general sessions, in the study groups meeting in the mornings, will be presentations on Art, Architecture, Schools, Social Action, Parish Life, Music, Social Education, Local Celebration, and Parents, Teachers and Children, these topics and others important aspects of the theme of the general session: "Jesus Christ Reforms His Church," will be thoroughly developed.

'Around the Parish in Year and Half' Is Priests' Plan

CHICAGO (NC) — Priests who staff the rectory of the Rosary parish in the Elk Grove Village section of the city have decided upon a "round-the-parish in a year and a half" program to get better acquainted with parishioners.

The pastor, Father John W. Morrison, and his assistants, Father Joseph Magruder and Father Louis T. Reardon, are attending informal gatherings in homes of various parishioners, with groups of about 15 present. It has been estimated that by June 1, Father Morrison will have personally members of the 1,700 families in the parish.
Pope Permits Vernalization In Preface Of The Mass

VATICAN CITY (NC) — Permission to have the preface of the Mass in the vernacular is now being granted for countries whose bishops’ conferences request it.

Pope Paul VI approved the new concession April 27, it was revealed here in Notitiae, the bulletin of the pontifical Car-]

SIMPLE.

In a report on Church progress in the United States in the same issue of the bulletin, John A. Sheehan, USCC, wrote that permission for the pre-}nace in English would be a “significant move” for the Church. “The role of the faithful more clearly to the sacred action of the Mass.”

When it was set up a year and a half ago, the consilium initially wanted it. It could allow bishops’ conferences for the vernacular only for those countries which are influential, such as the United States, Canada, Argentina, and Japan. It was to begin this spring. The convention included permission for it to approve bishops’ joint commissions for vernacular for three years of the Mass which are reserved to the priests — the collect, prayer over the offerings (secret prayer) and postcommunion.

HIERARCHIES’ REQUESTS

Because of requests by the bishops’ conferences in many countries, the consilium later asked the Pope to allow the preface in the local language. The Pope has done so. The consilium bulletin stated in its section answering the question: “What is the purpose of the Mass? Are people to understand the Mass? Is the Mass a source of inspiration for people?”

By recent concession (April 27, 1965) of the Holy See, accord-}ing to No. 18 of the Instruction “For the Proper Implementation of the Liturgy Constitution” (The Instruction was issued last September), the competent territorial ecclesiastical author-}ities in many countries, including the United States, have been given the power to have the preface of the Mass in the vernacular language in place with the popular translation con-firmed by the Second Vatican Council.

(Austria, the preface is already being recited in Eng-lish. A request by the Austrian hierarchy for a vernacular preface, turned down a year ago, was renewed only a day after the Pope gave his general consent.

EXPERTS’ VIEW

In Washington, Frederick R. McManus, secretary of the U.S. bishops’ commission for the Liturgical Apostolate, said the new concession paves the way for virtually all the key points of what Christ demanded of them and expected of His Church. “One can imagine them murmuring to each other: ‘We are only human beings! How can this be possible?’”

If they were asked, they would be the Holy Spirit of God came upon them, they were indeed conscious of their own limitations, but they did not feel For instance, that they would be the Church, that the Church would last to the end of time, and that its sacred teachings would be clearly and correctly and never changed.

REASON FOR CONCEPTION

The Apostles had not received from Christ for such confidence because in addition to all that Christ had said about His Church, He made this solemn promise: “Be hold I am with you all days till the consummation of the world.” This promise lifted the burden from their shoulders and gave the Church, in the hands of Christ. They were to teach, but He was to protect them. It is for this reason that the Catholic Church claims that she cannot err in matters of faith and morals. If she were to err, He would not be in her service. And this was the basis of this assurance that the Catholic Church claims that she cannot err in her teaching. Because of this, a Catholic can have complete confidence in the Church’s teaching.

This shows little understand-}ing of the Church’s relationship with the Holy Spirit. We know from now of being forgotten. The same thing has happened in many another storm as she re- nueva, from which she never lifted the burden that every member of the Church teaches. They were to teach, but He was to protect them. It is for this reason that the Catholic Church claims that she cannot err in matters of faith and morals.

During the first Pentecost, the Truth has been given to the whole world. This is why the Catholics have a genuine sense of the Church in the course of time and for the prefaces — are now permitted to use the vernacular language in preface of the Mass. A request by the American bishops’ conference was approved a few days after the Pope gave his general consent.

In the spring of 1964 granted permission for it to approve bishops’ joint commissions for vernacular for three years of the Mass which are reserved to the priests — the collect, prayer over the offerings (secret prayer) and postcommunion.
That evening I heard the news. 'Skupe was dead.' I went to Skupe's village on a motorbike wondering what had caused his death. Irene was sitting on the floor, sobbing as if her heart would break. She was surrounded by grey-hair women who had nothing to say as consolation except 'What's the use of crying? Your baby is dead now.'

Consider the things that cause disturbances — deep or shallow — in your life. A missed phone call, a headache, your favorite brand of X — momentarily unobtainable. So many mountains are made of molehills, while in mission lands men starve, watch their wives sicken and children die. To them it all seems part of the unfightable pattern of life. To those sent to help them, it all seems such a waste for they know of medicines that will cure, ways of producing food that will feed and that they could not allow the child to be brought back to us. A story like this comes as a deep disturbance in your life.
Viet Cong Is Clearly Red-Controlled And Directed

(Confirmed by the following question-and-answer report as a result of communist violations and terrorist actions in the country in 1954.)

BY FATHER PATRICK O'CONNOR
National Catholic Welfare Conference

What's the answer in Viet- nam?

Let's first be clear on what the real questions are. They are simple:

1. Is the "National Liberation Front" a communist? The answer is yes.

2. Are people in South Viet- nam entitled to defend themselves against a communist campaign to take over their country? The answer can only be yes. A corollary to this is the right of others to help them.

3. Would it be seriously dangerous for all southeast Asia and harmful for the interests of mankind, including the U.S., for South Vietnam to fall under communist rule? It would.

4. Would religious and spiritual freedoms, in particular, suffer if communist rule were extended in Asia? They would.

5. Is the North Viet Nam regime under communist control? Probably not. Everybody in Ho chi Minh's Viet Minh and Lien Viet was not communist. But the control was communist. And the purpose was proved, in fact, to be the establishment of a communist government.

How do you know that the National Liberation Front is under communist control? To anyone who has been in Vietnam through recent years, the evidence is overwhelming.

The so-called National Liberation Front for South Vietnam, whose wages the way it does, is engineered by the Saigon-based Republic of Viet Nam, was founded under communist control. It is now, in fact, to be the establishment of a communist government.

What's the answer in Viet- nam entitled to defend themselves against a communist campaign to take over their country? We write to the principal questions asked him since the answer is yes.

Be Just And Charitable, Bishop Tells Graduates

'Your Concern No Longer Restricted To Own Lives'

Catholic college graduates have a responsibility to put into practice everywhere the "spirit of justice and charity," Bishop Coleman F. Carroll told Barry College seniors during commencement exercises held June 1 in the college auditorium.

Bachelors of Art, Science, and Science in Nursing degrees were conferred on 94 religious and lay members of the silver jubilee class during the commencement.

"Your concern can no longer be restricted to your own life," Bishop Carroll told the graduates, declaring that a Catholic education should make "you very unhappy with yourselves and the times in which you are living.

LIFE'S VALUES

"For the really important questions in life," the Bishop said, "I hope that you have by now developed a definite and positive convictions about the answers. Of necessity the answers must show in your life as values — what you are going to live for, what you must be prepared to die for."

"The Vatican Council concilced all bishops that by reason of collegiality we must be concerned with the interests of the Church in all corners of the world," Bishop Carroll emphasized. "The same is true and must be true of you young women. Your convictions on justice and charity must encompass the whole world.

"In our own area, our sphere, we must, by reason of our training, commit ourselves to definite principles. It is the responsibility to put into practice everywhere the spirit of justice and charity. No longer can we be neutral. There is great hope for the world today because of the restlessness and great hope for the world today can we be neutral. There is justice and charity. No longer can we be neutral. There is justice and charity must encompass the whole world.

"Have you also discovered that you should have acquired the fine art of self-liberation? If there is any sentiment that your answers in college at graduation it is free at last," Father Haas said.

"Are you ready free from all fear and concern or are you frightened to death with the prospects of the future? Have you learned to be less independent and more safely concerned? Have you learned to fear your own ignorance and perhaps your own arrogance," the Dominican scholar continued.

"Have the last four years and some thousands of dollars bought you personal independence so that now you know that you need no one — you can stand on your own two feet without help from anyone."

"Or have you, in harmony with the great Jewish theologian, Martin Buber, that you cannot become your real self without the love and understanding of at least one other human being?"

"Have you also discovered that you could not face the future if there were no one there to accept the gift of your understanding? We want others to be our friends in us, but we want someone to care that we understand them. This is not dependence, nor is it slavery; it is love."

The Voice of Sports

There isn’t a South Florida Catholic Conference in existence at the present time but until recently along the South Atlantic Conference is doing a pretty good job as a substitute.

With the withdrawal of Jupiter High from the league after this spring’s operation, five of the seven schools in the conference are diocesan teams.

From Miami there’s LaSalle and Mtg. Pace, from Fort Lauderdale comes St. Thomas Aquinas and Cardinal Gibbons while Cardinal Newman of West Palm Beach is the fifth.

Two private schools, Miami Military Academy and Pine Crest, of Ft. Lauderdale, complete the league roster.

All are Class A schools with the exception of Pine Crest, which is Class B.

According to Florida High School Activities Association rules, Class A schools are those with 450 boys or more in the top three grades, Class B from 131 through 450, Class C if following the rules of the top three grades, Class C.

St. Thomas joined the league last winter after campaigning in the predominantly Class AA Atlantic Conference despite an enrollment that seldom topped 275 boys.

Thus, the league provides a compact circuit for the diocesan schools, with enrollment ranging from Gibbons 198 to LaSalle’s 287 boys, to compete on even terms.

Since its founding three years ago, the league has prospered, with its schools gaining more and more prestige as a result of its unity.

Last winter, for instance, the conference provided the runoff for the regional Class A football title in Miami Military (diocesan school Chaminade of Hollywood is a non-member league winner of the title) and both Pace and St. Thomas won Class A group basketball titles.

Pine Crest, long a state swim power despite its small size, won the state Class A girls swim championship and was runnerup in the boys.

"In the two years that I’ve been here,” stated Brother Ronald of LaSalle track coach, "I’ve seen it really gaining in strength.

"It’s certainly been fairly even in competition."

That is almost an understatement.

In two of the league sports—last winter, the championship races ended in ties. In football it was Miami Military and Jupiter which deadlocked while in track Newman and LaSalle ended in a dead heat.

In basketball, St. Thomas won the regular season title while Gibbons was surprised by taking the league’s post-season tournament crown.

Other titles went to LaSalle in baseball, and golf, and Pine Crest in swimming.

Thus, seven of the league’s eight schools this past year have won or shared in a title.

You can’t get the competition much closer than that.

Pide el Vaticano un Estudio del Problema de la Superpoblación

GINEBRA (NA) — Un portavoz del Vaticano, hablándome en la reunión de la XVIII Asamblea Mundial de Salud, declaró que la Iglesia Católica no está interesada en los problemas de regulación de la natalidad, pero advirtió que los generalizadores relacionados con una solución podrían hacer más mal que bien.

Al mismo tiempo, el R. P. Henri de Riemmann, O. P., sugirió que sería beneficioso establecer un cuerpo internacional para aseverar a las naciones sobre problemas de población. Manifestó que tal grupo no consideraría sólo teóricas, sino que debía ofrecer "consejos científicos sobre asuntos prácticos en el caso de la ciencia y el ejercicio de la medicina".

El Padre de Riemmann había pocos meses atrás de que la Organización Mundial de Salud (OMS) anunciara que

Exhorta Su Santidad a Reverencia Cristiana Hacia el Cuerpo Humano

GIUDIA DEL VATICANO (NA) — La actitud cristiana hacia el cuerpo humano "invierte el desarrollo armonioso y normal de los atributos físicos, pero también insiste en el dominio espiritual y el sacramento", manifestó el Papa y a un grupo de científicos y médicos.

"La utilidad y grandeza de la profesión médica", expresó, "se encuentra en esto: la utílidad de la gracia, la nuestra donación del alma, la vida, la salud de la naturaleza integral y unificada de la iglesia, la que se pone de manifiesto en ocasiones como esta, con gracia y confianza esperemos que esta nueva primavera, este nuevo Pentecostés, a través de la inspiración del Espíritu Santo, haga germinar en los corazones generosos una respuesta afirmativa al llamado de Cristo para que sean padres de hombres."

Hablo en franco, explica que las luchas pláticas o hindúes en relación con el cuerpo como uno de las etapas sucesivas en el proceso de expansión de la calidad del alma, "la doctrina cristiana enseña que el cuerpo no es una prueba del alma".

Exclamó: "Por el contrario, el hombre, creado a imagen de Dios, incluye dentro de la unidad de la mujer para un cuerpo y un alma espiritual estrechamente unidos. ... Por consiguiente, la dignidad inmortal del cuerpo humano proviene del hecho que no es simplemente un cuerpo y huesos, sino un recipiente para el alma, y a través de la gracia, el lugar donde habita el Espíritu Santo."
Hemos Tocado el Corazón de Dios
Por el P. Mauricio de Regula

Según el cuento de Andersen, aquella madre, que al tocar una flor en el jardín de este mundo, tocaba el corazón de su niño, que había vuelto al cielo, recibirá una de las maravillas invisibles del mundo de la Gracia.

Difícilmente se puede palpar en nuestra existencia algo más delicado que una flor, y desde luego, nada más bello que el encendido amor de una persona. He aquí que nuestra religión, singularmente en este mes de junio, nos recuerda que podemos recoger las flores, deleitarlas alardeadas en su perfume y llevarlas de seguido al altar de Cristo, que nos está mostrando su Corazón humano y Divino.

Ello no es sino la consecuencia de otra verdad infaliblemente más bella y conmovedora. El tocar esas flores —Flores que son para su Corazón, Flores naturales y sobrenaturales— es prueba que hemos tocado su Corazón. Tocar el corazón de alguien es llegar a sus más secretos, causarle comprensión, ternura, amistad, amor.

He ahí lo que efectivamente, hemos logrado al tocar el Corazón de Dios, que nos está mostrando un Corazón humano y removido, más aún que de su poder.

Hubo un momento en la Historia, durante la Revolución Francesa, en que se propuso a la humanidad la adoración, el culto a la Humanidad. Ese culto fracasó. Muchos hermosos y lógico adorar el Corazón: el Corazón del Hombre-Dios, de Jesucristo, en el que, al fin y al cabo, adora- mos la Divinidad en la Persona del Verbo hecho Carne. Es junio, mes del Corazón de Jesús. Al tocar y recoger las flores de por aquí y ofrecerlas en el altar, vislumbrar o invisible, de nuestra adoración a Dios, es seguro que tocaremos al Corazón. Así que toquémoslo corazon y sus corazones se sientan, a su vez, tocados por el tuto para de su Gracia!

El Amor y Matrimonio

Por el P. Angel Nebrija

El amor en el matrimonio tiene tres planos: el físico, el sensual, el espiritual.

El amor carnal, en sí mismo, no es una cosa, sino una especie de amalgama de las dos cosas anteriores y tiene en el fondo un deseo de unión de cuerpo que va más allá del mero placer, para llegar a una unión en el alma, que es el amor espiritual.

Adivinándonos mutuamente los espacios alcanzables, que acercamos a unirse en el amor espiritual, el que cubre la más alta función que puede unir a dos seres humanos, el que es el amor de Cristo en el Sacramento del Matrimonio.

Todavía se está a tiempo. La vida alienta en nuestros corazones y siempre el bal- samo de unas pocas palabras dichas con la vestimenta del amor y en los oídos que impresionan, pero con el poder inconfesable de la simple buena fe, pueden cambiar el curso erróneo de una vida.

El amor carnal, en sí mismo, no es una cosa, sino una especie de amalgama de las dos cosas anteriores y tiene en el fondo un deseo de unión de cuerpo que va más allá del mero placer, para llegar a una unión en el alma, que es el amor espiritual.

Y así se está presente, en él, no es amor, sino para facilitar el amor que es donación. Y aquí está el secreto de mu- chas desvivaciones en el amor carnal. La jerarquía de va- reses se rompe y se cierra en un esce- nario o la teatralidad que a menudo es el camino de la desilusión. JÓVENES cubanos con sus diplomas de High School en el acto de su Graduación.

GRADUADOS de Belén reciben del Obispo Carroll la sagrada ración de Cristo.

HABLANDO A LA JUVENTUD

Culto a la Verdad

Uno de los propósitos más hechos que puede tener un niño o un joven, es decir siempre la verdad.

Quien miente siempre se adentra en trampas, pero no hace falta coraje. Precisamente, el valor de los hombres se acentúa ante los ojos de los demás cuando se dice la verdad.

La Misa de Graduación fue cívica del Obispo Carroll. Durante la misma predicó el padre Thomas E. Robinson S. J., profesor del colegio el cual expresó que "esta clase habla de consagrarse como parte de la futura rehabilitación de una nueva Cuba".

El Padre Robinson continuó diciendo, "ustedes pueden calzarse como el curso del renacimiento, del renacimiento del Belén High School en Miami. El destino les deparará píldoras que de tiempo, edad se acostumbran a decir la verdad, en tiempos que crecen este hábito fortalezca su carácter y su espíritu. Y luego convertidos en hombres y mujeres son líderes de sus pueblos y sus naciones.

Cientos de miles de seres humanos, cientos de miles de naciones se han apoyado a la verdad, pero sólo la verdad valientemente la exponen.

Claustra Cursillista

El próximo domingo día 13 de junio, tendrás lugar la Claustra del Cursillo de Cristiandad número 28 para hombres, de la Diócesis de Miami. La bienvenida a los nuevos cursillistas se efectúa a las 6:30 p.m. en el salón-catería de la Escuela Parroquial de Corpus Christi. El acto terminará con una Misa Comunitaria de comunión general a las 8 p.m.

Eat Citrus Fruits For A Trim Figure

There was a young girl named Pearl, who wanted her hair to curl. After checking her diet, she decided to try it — and found MILK the best drink in the world.

written by:
W. Charles Vickers
(Division Credit Manager)
who drinks one glass of milk a day.

By FLORENCE DEVANEY

June may come and June may go, but showers go on all summer! Since most brides generally are feted at a number of shower parties, it's a wise hostess who keeps the men simple and refreshing so the bride and her attendants will look radiant and glowing when the Great Day comes. And those wedding dresses must fit as well as they did the day they were purchased.

A good prescription for a fitting figure and healthy good looks is fine citrus fruits. An attractively arranged salad plate of shining-fine orange and grapefruit sections, served with a creamy fruit salad dressing (as featured by one of Miami's best known restaurants) is deliciously light, refreshing and healthful. When the fresh citrus is no longer available in the market, the chilled or canned sections, ready for use, contain a high content of valuable vitamin C and make delightful fruit cup appetizers and desserts, as well as salads.

For each serving, pile a mixture of orange and grapefruit sections on crisp lettuce, top with sprigs of watercress, and serve with cut-out-shaped bread slices spread with a cream cheese filling. Decorated with sliced strawberries if you wish.

Nice too would be a tray of assorted nut breads. Whoops, there goes that diet — but for good measure and good eating here are recipes.

Fruit Salad Dressing

- 1/2 cup orange juice, fresh, frozen, or canned
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Heat fruit juices with 1/2 tablespoons of the sugar in top of double boiler. Beat egg yolks slightly; add salt. Stir in hot juices slowly; return to double boiler and cook, stirring constantly until mixture coats spoon, about 1 minute. Beat egg whites until stiff; add remaining 1/2 tablespoons sugar gradually and beat until very stiff. Fold cooked mixture into beaten egg whites and chill. Just before serving, fold in whipped cream.

YIELD: 1/4 cups

Carrot Bread

- 3 eggs
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup salad oil
- 1 1/4 cups flour
- 1 cup grated carrots
- 1/4 teaspoon soda
- 1/4 cup chopped nuts

Beat the eggs, and add the sugar gradually, beating until thick. Add the oil gradually and continue beating until thoroughly combined. Stir flour, soda, baking powder, salt, and cinnamon together and mix into egg mixture until smooth. Add grated carrots and nuts and beat well. Turn into well greased loaf pans and bake in a 350 degree oven about 1 hour or until a cake tester comes out clean.

Date-Nut Bread

- 2 cups boiling water
- 4 cups chopped, pitted dates (about 3 pounds)
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon soda
- 1 cup walnuts, chopped

Pour boiling water over dates and butter; stir and set aside for 1 hour until the butter is melted and blended; cool. In a large bowl, beat together the eggs and sugar until light. Sift the flour with soda and salt into the sugar-egg mixture, alternately adding the date mixture. Stir well until blended. Mix the 1 tablespoon flour with the nuts and stir into batter along with the vanilla.

Turn into 2 greased loaf pans (about 9 by 5 by 3 inches each). Bake in a moderately slow oven (325 degrees) for 1 1/4 hours, or until tester comes out clean. Cool 10 minutes, then turn out on a cake rack to cool. Makes 2 loaves.

Shrimp And Cheese Spread

- 3 ounces pimiento cheese
- 1/2 teaspoon lemon juice
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon chili sauce
- 1/2 teaspoon paprika

Cream cheese thoroughly and blend in rest of ingredients.

Apricot-Nut Filling

- 1 (1 ounce package) cream cheese, softened
- 1/2 teaspoon apricot purée
- 1/2 cup pecans, finely chopped
- 1/2 cup apricot preserves

Cream cheese thoroughly and add remaining ingredients.
Husband's An Agnostic—What To Do?

How do you rear children in a home where parents do not share the same religious beliefs? My husband is an agnostic who has kept his pre-nuptial promises, but my young children are beginning to ask questions about why daddy doesn't go to church, doesn't say grace before meals. They love their father and the oldest boy wants to imitate him.

By JOHN J. KANE, Ph.D.

The problems involved in a mixed religious marriage, Mary, may be more serious than most persons believe. Thousands of these marriages result in the conversion of the spouse who is not a Catholic to the faith. In thousands of others the pre-nuptial promises are kept and the marriage is largely successful and happy, although no conversion occurs. But there are others.

And having admitted this, it is the others that I want to discuss.

Religion is a way of life. It touches our most intimate and sensitive areas.

The values of our faith permeate or should permeate our lives. But what happens when one is married to a person who does not share these values. What does a Jewish husband see in a crucifix hung in the bedroom? Not the Son of God dying for our salvation, but a man condemned to death by slow torture on the infamous gibbet. Seen through the eyes of faith, the cross is the symbol of Redemption and Resurrection.

In mixed religious marriages, Catholic teaching is usually followed when the husband is a Catholic. When the husband is the Catholic party, it is frequently abandoned. But the critical problem almost invariably arises when children are born.

It must come as something of a shock to the child when he first realizes that his mother or father does not share his faith.

Religion should be another bond uniting the family. But when parents are of different religions, either the bond is missing, or religious differences become a divisive influence. No doubt this is one of the reasons that the highest divorce rates are found in mixed religious marriages.

Fortunately, none of these need be so severe as it was in the past. Because of Pope John's calling the Vatican Council and the new spirit which seems to be sweeping through Protestantism and Catholicism, there is a much more charitable attitude toward these different religions. Here is a clue to procedures.

But your situation is somewhat different in that your husband is an agnostic.

It will require no special effort on your part to do two things. First, develop a very strong faith within your children. Not the Son of God dying for our salvation, but a man condemned to death by slow torture on the infamous gibbet. Seen through the eyes of faith, the cross is the symbol of Redemption and Resurrection.

Secondly, help your husband obtain the gift of faith. In other words, in order to strengthen a favorable attitude toward religion in your children, you first bring positive aspects to bear on it; second, you remove the negative attitudes to which your husband may expose them.

Obviously, the most important step is for you and the children to pray for your husband's conversion. No doubt you have done this since this is involved in your own pre-nuptial promise.

But you can also employ temporal means. You and your husband have probably discussed his attitudes toward religion both before and after marriage. Perhaps you have some clues as to the source of his agnosticism. Sometimes, in fact, very often, agnosticism is not based upon sincere intellectual doubts. It has its basis in a conflict between a person's drives and values and the prohibitions of the Church.

If you can uncover these, or if it is sincere intellectual doubts, seek out suitable literature. There is no lack of it. Leave a book or article around the home. He may read it. You may be able to arrange for him to meet a priest socially, and this friendship may well develop into his rethinking his entire position.

The very best way to safeguard your children and more closely unite your family is to help bring your husband out of his agnosticism. You will all be better off spiritually and psychologically for it.

These ratings are based on the Legion of Decency's classification system for films. The ratings indicate the appropriateness of the film for various age groups and reflect the organization's moral standards. It's important to consider these ratings alongside other factors when deciding what movies to watch, especially with children.
Current Space Feats Foretold In Films

VIEWS ON TELEVISION

The hubbub space suits and connecting air tubes, almost exductly described, from an as yet unrealized, stationary spacetcenter shown in George Pal's "Conquest of Space" (1952), the ative and equipment of our astronauts today.

Irwin Allen's films and TV series, "Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea," simulated with remarkable clarity, deep sea conditions, as documented by Jacque-Yves Cousteau in his fascinating "World Without Sun."

Now, within a week or two, Irwin Allen, whose "victories at the bottom of the sea" are to continue on TV, will start filming, for 20th Century-Fox, an outer-world series, "Lost In Space," for the coming Fall.

An imaginary family of 1967 to 2,000 A.D., picked by special orders that the best national characteristics, idiosyncrasies and psycholgies.

They comprise a cosmic United Nations on the wing. For those who can remember back to 1910, this is a nostalgic fraile.

The split - and - brown - paper plane will be made of today's pace-minded youngsters for a loop. This is a unique artistic and, I dare wager, commercial block-buster.

It is packed with stars, although the real stars of the show are the box-kite "jets" in which quickly dreamers of all nations, 1910, set out after much more than a mere ten-thousand
English pounds in prize money.

Legion Will Fight Efforts
To Employ Nudity In Films

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Legion of Decency will continue to press "policy of resisting every effort to employ nudity in film production."

The policy and reasons supporting it were outlined in a statement issued here by the Bishop Timothy Manning of Los Angeles, committee chairman.

On May 13 the legion antounced it had classified "The chain of adventures and discov-

Guy Williams will play the father and June Lockhart the mother.

Allen frankly admits his series is not going to be hampered by scientific fact. Girls in outer space may not come for some time yet. Romance may have to wait still longer.

TORRENTIAL RAINS THREATEN CHAPEL... ENDANGER PARISHIORS

A. St. James says, "Blessed is the man who endureth temptation; for when he has been tried, he receiveth the crown of life which God has promised to those who love Him." (Jas. 1, 12)

However, St. James continues: "Let no man say when he is tempted, that he is tempted of God; for God is not the author of temptation; but every man is tempted, when he is drawn away of his own will." (Jas. 1, 13)

French Catholics in saying the Lord's Prayer ask: "Do not let us succumb to the temptation." However, this is not a very literal translation.

The Greek word which St. Matthew uses for temptation may also mean trial or test. St. James sees it to use in that sense in 1:2: "Esteem my brethren, when you fall into various trials." It may be that St. Matthew has in mind the overwhelming trial to which he refers in St. 13: "After those days had been shortened, no living creature would have been saved."

Our future English translation will probably read, "Subject us not to the trial."

Q. 1. Since when can a Catholic woman remarry after being divorced, be the state of grace, and receive the sacraments?

A. She can remarry after divorce as soon as she can, whether she has received an annulment or not.

Q. 2. How can such a person be worthy of Christian burial?

A. This is in regard to Mrs. Viola Gregg Luken.

MISSAL GUIDE

June 14 — St. Basil the Great, Bishop, Confessor, Doctor. Mass from the Common of a Doctor, not a Bishop and from the feast, Gloria, Common Preface.

June 16 — Ferial Day. Mass of the preceding Sunday without a Gloria or a Creed, Com- mon Preface.

June 18 — St. Ephraem, Deac- on, Confessor and Doctor. Mass from the Common of a Doctor of the Church and from the proper of the feast, Gloria, Secret, Proper Preface and Common Preface.

June 19 — St. Juliana Falcon- virgins, from the Common of a Virgin not a Martyr and from the proper place, second oralation to Sts. Gervasius and Protasius, Martyrs, Common Preface.

The Church of St. Basil was founded directly by Christ. After his death, his followers continued his teachings and built the Church on the principles of love, peace, and justice. The Church of St. Basil is one of the most ancient and influential Christian communities in the world. Today, it remains a symbol of hope and inspiration for people around the globe.

I have chosen this question and answer from a book on the subject of the Catholic Church. The book is a collection of questions and answers on various topics related to the Catholic faith. The book is written in English and is available in the local library.

If you need further assistance, please feel free to ask. I would be happy to help you in any way I can.

Sincerely,
