VATICAN CITY—(NC)—In a 10-page Latin speech to the College of Cardinals one day after his election, Pope John Paul I laid out the general program he wants to follow during his pontificate.

Sitting beneath Michelangelo’s “Last Judgement” in the Sistine Chapel, Pope John Paul said that he wants to:

- Continue in the true spirit of Vatican Council II, without yielding to those who push too hard or others who drag their feet.
- Promote ecumenism “without giving in on doctrine and without hesitation.”
- Continue the revision of church law to “conserve intact the church’s great discipline” and maintain each Christian’s liberty through “solid and sound juridical structures.”
- Stimulate the preaching of the Gospel to all men and promote “serene and constructive dialogue” even with non-Catholics.
- Give greater weight to the concept of shared decision-making both through the world synods of bishops and through participation of the world’s bishops in the work of the Roman Curia, the church’s central administrative offices.
- Work for peace and social progress and against hunger and illiteracy as well as for a more just international economic system.

The pope gave the speech, which was addressed to his “dear sons and daughters in the entire Catholic world,” at the end of a Mass he concelebrated with the College of Cardinals in the Sistine Chapel.

On the evening of his election, Pope John Paul has asked the cardinals to remain in conclave until the next morning in order to be able to concelebrate Mass with them.

“In what for us is an hour of trepidation, but also an hour comforted by divine assurances, we salute all our children. We would like to have them all present here to look them in the eye, to embrace them, and to infuse courage and confidence in them,” said the new pope.

Besides revealing the main points of his program, the pope also extended special wishes to various groups, including youth, men and women involved in evangelization, persecuted Catholics, the sick, prisoners and residents of Lebanon, the Holy Land, the drought-stricken Sahel zone of Africa, and India.

“We want to continue to bring to life the inheritance of Vatican II,” said the new pope. “Its wise norms must still be brought to fulfillment.

“(WE MUST) be vigilant, lest a generous yet unforeseen push betray its contents and meaning or lest fearful forces which tend to put on the brakes slow down its magnificent thrust for renewal and life,” he said.

Speaking of ecumenism, the new pope said, “We intend to dedicate thoughtful attention to all that can

(Continued on Pag. 3)
"Informed consent"

CHICAGO—A Chicago-based pro-life group has asked the U.S. Supreme Court to reinstate the "informed consent" clause and other key provisions of Illinois' strict 1975 abortion law. The post-Vatican II changes in religious life were not responsible for the subsequent mass exodus of women from convents, said Sister Mary Luke Tobin, who helped spearhead renewal efforts when she was president of the Conference of Major Superiors of Women. "The exodus stemmed from sociological reasons," she said.

Can't blame Vatican II

ALBANY, N.Y. — The post-Vatican II changes in religious life were not responsible for the mass exodus of women from convents, said Sister Mary Luke Tobin, who helped spearhead renewal efforts when she was president of the Conference of Major Superiors of Women. "The exodus stemmed from sociological reasons," she said.

Pope portrait available

Through a special arrangement with the National Catholic News Service, the official portrait of the new Pope, John Paul I, will be available to the readers of The Voice. Details on price, framed and unframed will be published in a forthcoming issue.

CALL ON YOUR CATHOLIC NEIGHBORS

This well known, local, Catholic family owned funeral home has been serving the community since 1896. Let us personally attend to the necessary during your family's period of grief.

Christian Leadership

Today more than ever, Christ needs leaders. You can be one. Learn to speak effectively.

We'll teach you to understand yourself so you can be yourself.

Learn to stop worrying and enjoy life more.

You'll grow to pray your own prayers ...from your heart, not a book.

Soon you'll be able to share your faith with others who need you,

SPECIAL PILGRIMAGE TO THE HOLY SHROUD IN TURIN, ITALY AND VISIT TO THE CATHOLIC SHRINES IN FRANCE.

- Leave September 17 and return by October 2.
- Visit includes Lourdes, Mount St. Michel and Lourdes.
- Under the special guidance of a Catholic Priest.
- Only a few spaces available.

Call: Embassy Travel Service
Palm Beach
655-7870
Ms. Carol Arcadia.

GOD'S COUNTRY: Visitors to Fort Heritage campground, located 15 miles south of Charlotte, N.C., take a tour of the 400-acre development. Fort Heritage is the latest multi-million-dollar project of the Charlotte-based PTL evangelical television network.

Pilate offers to mediate

MANAGUA, Nicaragua—Archbishop Miguel Obando Bravo of Managua has offered to mediate between the government and leftist guerrillas in an attempt to avoid further bloodshed as guerrillas hold about 100 hostages in the nation's Congress building.

True Presence in Eucharist

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio—A segment of an NBC special on the election of Pope John Paul I left many viewers with a misunderstanding of what is being taught in the Youngstown Diocese regarding the true presence of Christ in the Eucharist, Bishop James W. Malone said Aug. 28.

Bishop Malone told the Youngstown Catholic Exponent, Diocesan newspaper, "To clear up any misinterpretation which might have arisen from the program, I want to state emphatically that together with the religious education director of our diocese I hold and affirm the constant teaching of the Catholic Church that Christ is present in a real way in the sacrament of the Eucharist."
Pope John Paul outlines views

By JOHN MUTHIG

VATICAN CITY-(NC)-
"Habemus papam," intoned the church's senior cardinal-deacon, Cardinal Pericle Felici. And he announced to the world the new Pope John Paul I, Cardinal Albino Luciani, patriarch of Venice.

The news was greeted with surprise and joy by the 100,000 people who had quickly flocked to St. Peter's Square by 7:30 p.m. Aug. 26 to receive Pope John Paul's first blessing.

The ruddy-faced, bespectacled Pope John Paul I waved and opened his arms to the crowd with quick, determined movements. In his high-pitched, sensitive voice, he sang the introduction to the apostolic blessing.

His voice wavered slightly as he traced the Sign of the Cross over the crowd, bathed in the sunset's rose-colored light.

The choice of Cardinal Luciani, the third pope this century to come from Venice, was immediately interpreted by observers as showing a clear desire by the cardinals to have a pastoral pope.

THE NEW POPE had given strong leadership in the conservative Venice region but was not very well known outside that area.

Except for a three-year term as vice president of the Italian Bishops' Conference, Pope John Paul has been engaged almost exclusively in pastoral activity — first as a priest in several parishes, then as bishop of Vittorio Veneto in the Venice region, and finally as patriarch of Venice.

An intellectual and frequent contributor to newspapers in the Venice area, as a cardinal he was quick to come out with early statements on a variety of issues, ranging from the kidnapping of Aldo Moro to criticism of the Italian communists.

He is regarded as a staunch anti-communist.

Several years ago he wrote book entitled "Illustrissimi" about the lives and thought of modern philosophers.

His election shocked Rome for several reasons.

The fact that he was chosen was a surprise because he was not anywhere near the top of the list of most people's predictions on who would be the pope.

The quick election perplexed the city and the world, especially since the smokestack of the Sistine Chapel where the voting took place kept belching forth a series of unclear signals. At one moment the smoke seemed clearly black, indicating no pope.

The next moment it was grey, but never really white. Radio and television audiences around the world were told that the day's voting had been concluded without a pope.

The insistence with which the smoke kept shooting out, however, soon convinced many Romans the new pope had been chosen.

The quick election perplexed the news were greeted with surprise and joy by the 100,000 people who had quickly flocked to St. Peter's Square by 7:30 p.m. Aug. 26 to receive Pope John Paul's first blessing.

Pope John Paul appeared to be fighting back tears during his balcony appearances, but he was grinning broadly.

The newly elected Pope smiles broadly to throngs who filled St. Peter's Square.

New Know-Your-Faith Series to begin

How can I find Christ? Faith, love and understanding are the key elements in the powerful new series on THE PUBLIC MINISTRY OF JESUS: SPIRITUALITY AND LIFE in the Know Your Faith section starting next week in the Sept. 7 issue of the Voice.

Know Your Faith is read by more than three million Catholics. Its authors, clergy and lay, are among the best Catholic writers in the nation — spiritual writers, Scripture scholars, theologians, editors, family life authorities, catechetical specialists.

It's written in a simple, direct style addressing issues in light of the Gospel message to today's people. Each week the Catholic family will be enriched in their faith, love and understanding the teachings of Christ.

Prominent new writers include Fr. Alfredo M. O. Perez, Fr. John B. O'Brien and Ph.D. John A. Wetenhall, Ph.D.

Prominent new writers include Fr. Alfredo M. O. Perez, Fr. John B. O'Brien and Ph.D. John A. Wetenhall, Ph.D.

It's written in a simple, direct style addressing issues in light of the Gospel message to today's people. Each week the Catholic family will be enriched in their faith, love and understanding the teachings of Christ.
NEW POPE:
...Gave cross for poor

VENICE, Italy—(NC)—Two years ago Pope John Paul I sold a cherished pectoral cross and gold chain to start a fund drive to help the mentally retarded.

In February 1976 the then-Cardinal Albino Luciani, patriarch of Venice, called on his priests in the Venice patriarchate to sell gold and silver objects for the Don Orione Center for the Retarded in Chirignago, a town near Venice.

He started the fund drive by putting up for auction a pectoral cross and gold chain that had once belonged to Pope Pius XII. Cardinal Luciani had received the mementos as a gift from Pope John XXIII when Pope John made him bishop of Vittorio Veneto in 1958.

In his pastoral letter announcing the fund drive, Cardinal Luciani wrote:

"I authorize and urge pastors and rectors of sanctuaries to part with gold, chains, and rings offered by the devotion to God or Our Lady as an act of homage or thanksgiving."

His own contribution, he wrote, "is a small thing compared to the use it will have. Perhaps it is worth something if it helps people understand that the real treasures of the church are the poor."

...has humility

VATICAN CITY—(NC)—A man of humble beginnings, Pope John Paul I has chosen as his papal motto the same brief theme that he used as patriarch of Venice: 'Humilitas.'

That word, "Humility," which was also the motto St. Charles Borromeo, still characterizes the life of the new pope, who was born into a migrant laborer's family 65 years ago.

On the brief vacations (seven days each year) that he allowed himself during his years as head of the Venice Patriarchate, the future pope was known to enjoy spending his time on the bocce courts (bowling greens) and in a small trattoria (an unpretentious restaurant) engaging in conversations with the patrons. Although his worker-father was a Socialist organizer, Pope John Paul’s mother was a devout Catholic.

"Is a small thing compared to the use it will have. Perhaps it is worth something if it helps people understand that the real treasures of the church are the poor."

In his pastoral letter announcing the fund drive, Cardinal Luciani quoted his own motto: "Humilitas." According to the cardinal, "Humility" is a servant of the church and one must not look at it as something that will bring glory to the individual.

It is also felt that he might go to Puebla, Mexico, where the third general assembly of the Latin American bishops is to begin in mid-October.

Pope Paul VI broke new ground when, in the early years of his pontificate, he became the first pope in history to travel to all parts of the globe.

Pope John Paul has not traveled very widely. Three years ago, however, he visited Brazil.

MIAMI’S MOST EXPERIENCED FUNERAL SERVICE

When fine funeral service is needed more and more families have been calling the Van Orsdel Funeral Chapels. Our large staff of experienced funeral directors are noted for their personal service and careful attention to every detail. This plus our fine modern facilities and reasonable prices have kept us growing through the years until we are now Miami’s most experienced firm.

There is no substitute for experience in funeral directing

Serv ing over 2000 families a year makes it possible for us to have intimate knowledge regarding the religious customs, the secular details and the special equipment needed at Miami’s many churches. Further it means we can give accurate, up-to-date counsel about the many items almost all families are not too familiar with.

Experience produces values

Our volume of experience also makes it possible to provide more in service and far better values in funeral merchandise. We display over 40 complete* funerals starting at

$495-$595-$695-$765-$865-$869-$965-$969-$985-$989

$987-$977-$977-$977-$977-$977-$977-$977-$977-$977

All these include solid hardwood or standard steel caskets (except the $495 and $595 are cloth covered wood caskets). The minimum regular complete funeral offered by most firms in this area runs from about $750 to $1000.

* Our complete funeral prices cover: Use of our buildings including three of our managers and equipment, automobiles, casket, preparation, 4 to 8 pallbearers, music, misc., plus every detail of helpful service.

In America we always fatten the stock before the kill.

Eat, eat, eat. It’s the favorite American pastime.

It’s one of the reasons 15 million of us are overweight. Prime candidates for heart attack, stroke, diabetes, and a host of other slaughters.

It’s also one of the reasons Americans have to spend so much money learning about these killers. And trying to repair the damage they do.

Preventive health care could help keep those costs down by keeping us healthier.

And preventive health care starts at the table.
By NC NEWS SERVICE

Words like compassion, wit, gentle and scholarship were mentioned often as Catholic Church leaders in the United States reacted to the election of Cardinal Albino Luciani as Pope John Paul I, and pledged their support and prayers to the new pontiff.

Archbishop Edward A. McCarthy called the new Pope "a man who will win our hearts.

We of South Florida have perhaps the best reason for identifying with him, as, like us, he comes from a land of the waters: Venice. More so, we identify with his simple pastoral nature.

"Son of a migrant worker, he once said, "a poor man accustomed to simple things." He once sold Church treasures to provide care for handicapped children...," said Archbishop McCarthy.

Cardinal John Wright, the only eligible U.S. cardinal who did not participate in the conclave, called the election "a stroke of good fortune for the intellectual life, for urbanity and for simplicity of soul." He said Cardinal Luciani was "a man of unusual interest who should prove to be an unusual pope.

The cardinal, prefect of the Vatican Clergy Congregation, was recovering from surgery at the home of Cardinal Humberto Medeiros of Brazil who was in Rome for the conclave. He had high praise for Cardinal Luciani's book, "Illustrous Men," which he described as a "volume of imaginary critical letters sent to the real authors of classics in many languages pointing out wherein he agreed or disagreed with them.

By electing Cardinal Luciani as the church's new leader, the conclave "has given us a witty supreme pontiff who delights in combining love of literature with love of the word of God," Cardinal Wright said.

Pope to be invited to Latin Bishops' meet

MEXICO CITY—(NC)—A spokesman for the Mexican Bishops' Conference said that there are plans to invite Pope John Paul I to the opening of the Third General Assembly of the Latin American Bishops at Puebla, Mexico, Oct. 12.

Father Francisco Ramirez, who heads the bishops' information office, said Cardinal McCarthy once said, "I am Miranda y Gomez, retired archbishop of Mexico City, was in Rome to deliver the invitation in the name of the Mexican episcopate.

POPE PAUL VI visited Colombia in 1966 to preside over an international eucharistic congress there and to open the Second Assembly of the Latin American Bishops at the Bogota cathedral.

In Washington, Bishop Thomas Kelly, general secretary of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops, called Pope John Paul I "a man of deep spirituality, for the troubled, for concern for the errant and of love for humanity." He said the new pontiff will be "a voice of moderation in the affairs of men, of stability and balance in the church and of great vitality in proclaiming the word of God."

Pledging the support of all U.S. bishops, priests, Religious and laity to the new pope, Archbishop Jean Jadot, apostolic delegate in the United States, said John Paul I's nearly 20 years as a bishop and almost nine years as patriarch of Venice "have given him the opportunity to develop strong pastoral qualities and an interest in the great problems of justice and peace."

BECAUSE THE new pope came from a laboring family, "his heart is open to the poor," Archbishop Jadot said, adding, "We pray that the Holy Spirit will give in abundance to Pope John Paul the graces of light and strength which he will need in the exercise of his demanding ministry."

Archbishop John R. Quinn of San Francisco, NCCB president, said John Paul I's "years of pastoral experience, his dedication to the highest spiritual ideals of the priesthood, his marked love for people, quiet gentleness and willingness to listen have made him many friends, Catholic and non-Catholic, and won him widespread respect and affection."

At a press conference shortly after the name of the new pope was announced, Archbishop Quinn said he had met Cardinal Luciani in 1974 and found him "an excellent listener, a very perceptive person and a man of great warmth." He said he expected the new pope to be "reflective as he moves, but that he will make clear and definitive moves.

A cablegram from the San Francisco Archbishop to Pope John Paul relayed "heartfelt congratulations" and renewed the U.S. bishops' "fidelity and attachment" to the pontiff. "We pray that the Holy Spirit who has chosen you will ever guide, strengthen and uphold you in your sacred office of apostolic service to the church, one and catholic," it said.

A STORYBOOK WEDDING

AT WHOLESALE PRICES

ON ALL YOUR NEEDS

PRISCILLA OF BOSTON

GRACE

1915 E. LAS OLAS

Downtown Miami • Coral Gables www.ourstorybookwedding.com

Voice Publishing Co.
P.O. Box 1059, Miami, Fl. 33138.
Please deliver THE VOICE to my mailbox every Friday.
Postage is $1.50 to pay for 52 weeks.

name

address

zip

parish

Or give it to your pastor!
Post-paste your day of marriage just below:

How to subscribe to THE VOICE

Miami • Coral Gables • Opa-Locka
920-2227 • MIAMI: 696-1711

Thrift never hurt anybody.
So our depositors say.
Florida National Bank
of Miami.

Downtown Miami • Coral Gables • Opa-Locka
Member FDIC

Thrift never hurt anybody.
So our depositors say.
Florida National Bank
of Miami.

Downtown Miami • Coral Gables • Opa-Locka
Member FDIC
Deaf census to begin

The Miami Archdiocesan Office for the Deaf will launch a comprehensive census, considered the first in the State of Florida, beginning Thursday, Sept. 14.

The census of the deaf will be ecumenical in scope, says Father Jim Vitucci, director, "ideally, will not just serve Catholic deaf but all."

"Who ever we contact," Father Vitucci continued, "we'll channel to the proper church, be it Baptist, Jewish, or whatever. If nothing is being done by that particular denomination of church, we'll try to act as a catalyst to get worship within the group even if we have to train their ministers and interpreters."

Father Vitucci said, "Our first objective will be to locate and group the deaf within central parochial boundaries."

"In the past, most census have overlooked the deaf so our second objective is to raise the hearing world's consciousness to the presence and needs of the deaf and their ministerial responsibility to meet those needs."

Sister Conleth Brannan, a full-time pastoral worker with the Office for the Deaf, added, "We hope with this census to work with the parishes and other churches in serving the needs of the deaf. We'll also be using clusters of volunteers and, hopefully, even be adding more volunteers to our lists."

Sister Conleth, who has a professional background in primary education and special education for children with learning disabilities, was released from parochial duties by her superior general.

Plans for the census call for letters to pastors and principals explaining the program; news releases including census card; and public service announcements on television and radio in both English and Spanish.

A diocesan visitation program will begin the end of October and continue through the year.

Based on the results of the census, an organization will be made to establish a prayer community of all those whose lives are touched by deafness, and expand Liturgical and spiritual services for the deaf.

Hearing people who are aware of deaf people in their communities are requested to contact the Office for the Deaf, 8500 SW 18 St., Perrine, Fl., 33074 for census cards.
Msgr. Walsh, others hit CETA cuts

Four prominent members of the Miami community have joined to protest the "effective, quality" programs sponsored by CETA.

Msgr. Brian Walsh, executive director of Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of Miami, Brenda Shapiro, executive director of the American Jewish Committee, Rev. Thedford John, President of the Black Ministerial Alliance and Athalie Range, a prominent Black leader and former member of Gov. Reubin Askew's cabinet have come together to criticize cuts in the poverty program.

"It is conceded that two or three of the over 350 CETA funded programs have made foolish, even stupid errors in the administration of these funds...but to destroy the most effective programs for the sins of a few is criminal. For example, it is generally conceded that OIC and South Florida Young Adult Program are among the most effective programs in Miami. To hurt the best for the failure of the worst is counter productive," said the statement.

"There is another CETA that has not had media coverage; hard hitting community based programs doing the job that CETA was set up to do.

"They are attacking our major social problem 40% of minority group youth, Black and Spanish who have no jobs, no skills and little hope. These people are social dynamite standing around our street corners and getting into trouble.

"Two examples of the agencies who are doing this job and doing it right are:

- South Florida Young Adult Program
- The Opportunities Industrialization Center

"Both of these groups preceded the CETA legislation-the Young Adult Program in its 15th year and Opportunities Industrialization Center in its 10th year in Miami. Both are sponsored by national agencies-the South Florida Young Adult Program, sponsored by the Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of Miami and OIC part of the national OIC movement for skill training and jobs for minorities under Rev. Leon Sullivan.

"Both have demonstrated a lean, cost effective, community based operation that has been evaluated, praised and proven by CETA itself. Yet, both are facing cuts that threaten the very quality of the programs that have proven their merit. "The grand jury investigation based on random subpoenaing of CETA trained enrollees (Continued on Pg. 12)
Supreme Pastor—new title, new style

Saturday morning Peter's Chair was empty, but that same evening the Cardinals in Conclave had made their choice. We have a Pope and his name is John Paul I. Since his election, thousands of words have been written about him and it all boils down to one major point. The new Pope is basically a pastor and wishes to remain so.

If there was any doubt that the Holy Spirit was at work in the Conclave of Cardinals, it was easily dispelled at the speed of their choice, overriding the more cautious and reserved selections. The new Pope was indeed among those Papabili, but he was not the favorite of the so-called well informed sources. Still, he has been chosen as Peter's successor, Supreme Pontiff of the Holy Roman Church, destined to guide us as a Faith community in the coming years.

The first few days of John Paul I have been of great promise. He has signaled to all that he is a humble and prayerful man, who wants to drop all the unnecessary trappings of triumphalism. On Sunday there will be no Papal Coronation—no Triple Tiaras—rather, it will be announced by the Vatican on Tuesday—the simple ceremony of a Solemn Mass to mark the beginning of the Pope's role as “Supreme Pastor.”

We urge our readers to fervently pray that God will bless John Paul I and that through his leadership the Faithful within the Church will become a more closely knit community of love and charity.

No endorsement

There are some who have expressed concern at recent Voice comments in which we have said that we will not endorse any political candidates, and that no candidate can claim to be supported by the Church. The Church leaves it up to its members to make their own choice in the selection of legislators at the various levels of government.

Never was our editorial stand more necessary than now. The Pope, on an incident in South Broward County where State Senator William Zinkil is running for re-election. The Senator recently published a letter to the voters asking them to support his candidacy.

There could be an implication the Archdiocese was endorsing Candidate Zinkil. However, as Archdiocesan spokesman Father Donald Connolly told the Fort Lauderdale News in relation to the Zinkil letter, “We are not endorsing or non-endorsing any candidates.”

Letters to the Editor

Are Catholic too passive?

I read, with no little disgust, the front page article regarding Billy Joel's latest record. While writing to Columbia Records, I read, with no little disgust, the front page article regarding Billy Joel's latest record. I read, with no little disgust, the front page article regarding Billy Joel's latest record.

Why do our leaders not do something positive now, concerning this attack on people of our own religion? As you say in the article, it would be a different situation were the Jews involved. Surely their leaders wouldn't sit by and let it happen.

In closing, let me ask this question. Are Catholics really passive, or are our leaders just weak?

Anthony Quina
Miami

Let YWCA skip Miami

In answer to Lucy S. Granda's letter in the 7-21-78 issue, let the YWCA skip Miami! The national organizations for women I've heard about work for abortion on demand, not to mention the creation of the anti-life project. I'd say Miami, Louisville, or anyplace else is better off without conventions supporting the extermination of the unborn in the name of freedom for women! We Christian women don't need that kind of financial gain. Are Catholic women? As you say in the article, it would be a different situation were the Jews involved. Surely their leaders wouldn't sit by and let it happen.

In closing, let me ask this question. Are Catholics really passive, or are our leaders just weak?

Anthony Quina
Miami

What about rights in Cuba?

Your editorial of Aug. 4, 1978, mentions the problem of human rights in the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe, and does not mention how these rights are being trampled on in Africa.

The Voice welcomes letters for publication from those who sign their correct name and address. Names may be withheld on request.

Letters for publication should not exceed 250 words and are subject to condensation and editing.

Anonymous letters are not welcome—neither are letters which lack charity or reason. Both types will be relegated to the wastepaper basket.

Latin America and Asia.

In Cuba alone, more than 15,000 men and women are being kept in prison simply because of their political beliefs. The Castro government has repeatedly refused to open its jails to inspection by human rights organizations such as the Red Cross and Amnesty International.

There is no difference between Stroessner's Paraguay and Castro's Cuba; they share in the suppression of their countrymen. The media should try to report on this situation, and not only on the suppression of human rights in the Soviet Union.

Maria E. Rodriguez
Miami

Pope didn't halt all abstinence

John Muthig, in the article on Pope Paul in The Voice of Aug. 11, 1978, states that, “The Pope also erased from the law books the penalty of mortal sin for Catholics who broke the Lenten fast and the obligation of abstinence.”

This statement is inaccurate and misleading. What Pope Paul did was reduce the number of days of abstinence and fast, and changed the age when the obligation of abstinence begins, namely at 14 years.

In the Apostolic Constitution “Paenitentiam”, in which the new norms of penance were promulgated, nowhere is it stated or implied that the new norms do not oblige under sin. On the contrary, the emphasis and the details of the new legislation give the impression that the obligations are important and serious.

Rev. Herbert Kramer
Fort Lauderdale

Thanks for most helpful column

As a visitor to Miami—this was the first time I had access to your paper. I would like to have a copy of one of the articles, “Copug after Divorce...” by Donald Cuto. It is the first really understanding and compassionately helpful column I've ever seen in a Catholic paper and I must commend you and the writer. Up to now, the attitude of the Church seems to have been one of closing one's eyes and then “maybe one night on the Catholic Church will go away.”

I do hope your “group” will be successful. We in Pittsburgh did have an organization called “Stella Aris” which started out with similar high ideals. There are many pitfalls, but under proper guidance it can be so very helpful. Best of luck to you and the project.

Margaret S. Bobby
Pittsburgh, Pa.

MD's religion corrected

In reading the last edition of The Voice I came across a small error which I feel necessary to correct.

It was a pleasure reading the article you wrote on Father Farfaro from Nicaragua and the progress that he is making. Thank God he is expected to walk again. However, although we have many wonderful Jewish friends and colleagues I think that I should clarify that my husband, Dr. Basil Yates is not of the Jewish faith, as stated, but is a Christian and a member of the Lutheran Church.

Mrs. Basil M. Yates
Miami Springs
Music rehearsal for Orange Bowl

All choir members who will be participating in the Holy Year celebration at the Orange Bowl Oct. 6 should plan to attend the closest area meeting and rehearsal. Singers not part of a choir are invited to come and try out. Area sessions, beginning the week of Sept. 1, are:

South Dade: St. Augustine, Wednesday, 8 p.m., by Sister Mary Tindel.
North Dade: Immaculate Conception Hialeah, Tuesdays, 8 p.m., by Father Emilio Valdez.
South Broward: St. Bartholomew, Miramar, Thursdays, 8 p.m., by Father Vincent Maleketa.
North Broward: St. Coleman, Pompano Beach, Fridays, 8 p.m., by Chuck Stanley.

Bereaved parents

A meeting of Bereaved Parents will be held at the Family Enrichment Center, 18300 N.W. 12th Ave., Miami, Sunday, Sept. 3, from 2 to 4 p.m. Any parents who have lost a child are invited to attend. For further information call 651-0280.

Pensacola to get Catholic paper

TALLAHASSEE - The Pensacola-Tallahassee Diocese in cooperation with Our Sunday Visitor, Inc., will publish a diocesan newspaper, "Good News Visitor," beginning Sunday, Sept. 3, Bishop Rene H. Gracida announced this week.

The agreement between the diocese and OSV calls for a four-page tabloid wrap-around plus the Visitor magazine, to be distributed free of charge to over 5,000 Catholic families in the diocese who contributed to the annual diocesan Catholic Sharing Appeal.

In making the announcement Bishop Gracida noted that the diocese will continue to publish the "Good News" page every other week in the five secular daily papers in the diocese.

Pope respects Judaism

WASHINGTON - (NC) - When we was a boy in Venice, Albino Luciani’s mother worked as a servant for a Jewish family.

The family was very kind to Mrs. Luciani, and their faith in Judaism greatly impressed her.

She passed her respect for that family and their religion on to her son, who traces his warm feelings toward Judaism to that experience. That’s the story the then-Cardinal Luciani told 10 Catholic and Jewish leaders at a reception during an international conference on Catholic-Jewish relations held in Venice two years ago.

Save with us and take home a gift of easy-care West Bend cookware with the new Du Pont SilverStone premium non-stick surface. Or Harvest Amber Basket Buffet ovenware by Anchor Hocking.

Just deposit $300 or more in a new or existing First Federal of Miami savings account and choose one of these 21 beautiful cookware items. Like a slow cooker, electric skillet or wok. Depending on the amount of your deposit, get your choice as a gift or buy it at a big savings. (Only one gift per account. Deposits for gifts must be made at least 60 days. No mail or phone requests, please.)

Quantities limited. Some stores may have exceptions.

How to get your gift.

First deposit to new or existing savings account qualifies customer for one gift or cash purchase at following:

Deposit range: Cash purchase:
$100 $199.99 $200.00 $250.00 $5,000
2.500
4.000
6.000
10,000
With each additional deposit of $100 or more, you save:$0.00 $1.95 $3.95 $5.95 $11.95
4.95
9.95
15.95
23.95
4.95
9.95
15.95
23.95

First Federal of Miami

Over 2 Billion Strong - Largest in the South

Come be part of our big family.

First Federal

of Miami

Miami, Florida / THE VOICE / Friday, September 1, 1978 / Page 9
Future Pope at the consistory in 1973 was the new Cardinal Albino Luciani, next to left microphone near Pope Paul, as he celebrates Mass with 28 other new cardinals.

At an Italian Day celebration in Mainz, Germany, in 1975 (above), Cardinal Luciani sits with Cardinal Volk of Mainz on 1000th anniversary of Mainz Cathedral. In left photo Cardinal...
CITY—(NC)— In his first pe John Paul I won Rome's ting off the cuff about his and his most embarrassing pope began to speak in an in- the balcony of St. Peter's n the day after his election al setting and the presence of irgers. pping the formal papal "we," pegan: "Yesterday morning I ly to the Sistine Chapel to ageing for a moment what on as the danger began to e, two colleagues seated next d words of encouragement. 'Be strong. If the Lord gives a he also gives the strength to one said, 'Don't be afraid, in there are so many people s new pope.' pope, vested for the first time in simple white cassock, said, ment came, I accepted. Then what name I wanted to take, for a little bit and reasoned in John (XXIII) consecrated me y basilica with his own hands ed to become his successor in full of his memory." hat Pope Paul VI "not only inal but also a few months ne blush before a crowd of t. Mark's Square (in Venice) when he took off his stole and placed it on my shoulders. "My face has never been so red," he confided to the 300,000 onlookers and to millions more who watched the televised ceremony. "Besides during his 15 years as pope, he showed me the whole world how to love, serve, work and suffer for the church of Christ. "For this reason I said that I would be called by this name. "I don't have the wisdom of heart which Pope John had," said Pope John Paul, who as pope has kept the motto he took as bishop—"Humilitas" (Humility). "Nor do I have the preparation or the education of Pope Paul VI," he added. "But I have their job, and I must seek to serve the church. "I hope you will help with your prayers," he concluded. His brief talk was certainly one of the few times in history that the majestic central balcony of St. Peter's, always reserved for the most solemn of occasions, served as the scene for such a heart-to-heart talk. The Romans, many of whom dabbed their eyes with handkerchiefs, realized that, said one: "It seemed to me almost as if the grandiose central balcony was lowered to the level of the common man." After his talk, Pope John Paul recited the moontime Angelus in a calm voice. He added three "Glory Be's," and then gave his blessing.
By JOHN MUTHIG

VATICAN CITY—(NC)—Tossing away the formal papal “we” and with it his prepared text, Pope John Paul asked dioceses to “have mercy on the poor new pope” who really never expected to rise to this post.

In a meeting with the cardinals in the frescoed Consistory Hall Aug. 30, Pope John Paul asked dioceses to help each other.

“TODAY there’s a great need that the world see us unified,” the new pope told the cardinals. “Together let’s try to give the world a good show of unity, by sacrificing something now and then.

“We have everything to lose if the world doesn’t see us united,” said the pope in his off-the-cuff remarks.

The pope’s spontaneous decision not to use the text prepared for him by Vatican officials caught the Vatican press office and the staff of L’Osservatore Romano, the Vatican newspaper, by surprise.

The press office distributed the prepared text as the words spoken by the pope and the Vatican daily printed the discarded speech.

Only Vatican Radio—which technicians recorded the pope’s actual words—was able to report parts of what the already unpredictable pope said at the closed meeting with the men who elected him.

IN HIS ad lib remarks the pope said that “in a certain sense I am so good that I cannot return to the life of a limited apostolate which I liked so much.

“I always had small dioceses. Vittorio Veneto was a small diocese and even Venice for all its great history is small—430,000 inhabitants.

“My work was among youth, workers, the sick, pastoral visits and so forth.

“I can no longer do this work,” said the pope, “but you can.”

He asked the cardinals not to think solely of their own dioceses but also of the universal church.

“SOME of you are president of episcopal conferences and behind you I see your bishops and conferences which in the climate of the climate less burden by the council must give strong support to the pope,” said the new pontiff.

He stressed that dioceses have different gifts which they should share. “One diocese has others another, and even far-off dioceses can help Rome itself,” he said.

The pope started his talk by asking pardon of the cardinals for a report he had read of an address a cardinal had given after his election in conclave.

Several Italian papers reported that Cardinal Albino Luciani upon hearing the pope said: “May God forgive you for what you have done.”

“He was talking off the cuff,” that, he commented. “I saw in the press that I had almost scolded you, but actually an old school memory popped into my head.”

THE POPE said, he had been quoting St. Bernard’s of Clairvaux’s reaction to the election of Eugene III as pope in 1145.

“It wasn’t I who said it, and I wasn’t scolding you at all,” said Pope John Paul.

(Continued from Page 3)

Letter from Vatican

The following letter was received by Archbishop Edward A. McCarthy from the Vatican this week:

Dear Archbishop McCarthy,

I am writing to acknowledge the kind message of condolences that you sent on the death of His Holiness Pope Paul VI.

Be assured that this gesture of prayerful solidarity on the part of the Church in Miami is deeply appreciated by the Holy See.

With every good wish, I remain

Sincerely yours in Christ,

Letter from Vatican

Dear Archbishop McCarthy,

I am writing to acknowledge the kind message of condolences that you sent on the death of His Holiness Pope Paul VI.

Be assured that this gesture of prayerful solidarity on the part of the Church in Miami is deeply appreciated by the Holy See.

With every good wish, I remain

Sincerely yours in Christ,

VATICAN CITY—(NC)—The papal conclave was only four days away and Cardinal Humberto Medeiros of Boston was concerned. He said it, "I have been quoting St. Bernard’s of Clairvaux’s reaction to the election of Eugene III as pope in 1145.

"It wasn’t I who said it, and I wasn’t scolding you at all," said Pope John Paul.

(Continued from Page 3)

In his views in speech

Boston Cardinal’s favorite leading

VATICAN CITY—(NC)—The papal conclave was only four days away and Cardinal Humberto Medeiros of Boston was concerned. He approached an American journalist, beckoned him closer and, in hushed tones, inquired: "How are the Red Sox doing?"

New Pope outlines his views in speech

(Continued from Page 7)

In his views in speech

Inter-faith unit hits CETA cuts

Told they were leading the American League East by 5 and a half games, he murmured "Deo Gratias!" and went on to consider less temporal matters.

Inter-faith unit hits CETA cuts

Told they were leading the American League East by 5 and a half games, he murmured "Deo Gratias!" and went on to consider less temporal matters.

Inter-faith unit hits CETA cuts

Told they were leading the American League East by 5 and a half games, he murmured "Deo Gratias!" and went on to consider less temporal matters.
Some 60 youngsters participated in the Vacation Bible Adventures Summer Program at St. Paul the Apostle parish, Lighthouse Point, with Father Frederick J. Brice, pastor. The program included bible stories, arts and crafts, music, drama and games.

The Old Testament came alive as campers enacted stories like Joseph's brothers coming to Egypt and finding him alive (left). And, while there was no manna from heaven for the campers, bubble gum proved to be a popular substitute (right) during the Bible plays.

SLIP N SLIDE was one way to stay cool (above) in St. Paul the Apostle's summer program and, just in case someone got so excited they lost their trunks in all their enthusiasm (left), there was always a counsellor around to lend a helping hand.

It's not too late to sign up for the next Search weekend at Cardinal Newman High School, West Palm Beach, Sept. 8-10. Call Department of Youth Activities in Miami at 757-6241. The weekend costs $20 and you have to be at least a junior in high school or older.

SLIP N SLIDE was one way to stay cool (above) in St. Paul the Apostle's summer program and, just in case someone got so excited they lost their trunks in all their enthusiasm (left), there was always a counsellor around to lend a helping hand.

Remainder

It's not too late to sign up for the next Search weekend at Cardinal Newman High School, West Palm Beach, Sept. 8-10. Call Department of Youth Activities in Miami at 757-6241. The weekend costs $20 and you have to be at least a junior in high school or older.

Banquet

SUPER FACILITIES FOR GROUPS OF UP TO 400 - PHONE US TODAY FOR REMINDER INFORMATION

Imperial House

North Ocean Drive at Atlantic Boulevard
Pompano Beach, Florida • Ph. 941-2200

for Gracious Dining

Zinkler's Bavarian Village

Restaurant & Lounge
German and American Cuisine

Mike Gordon Seafood Restaurant

Cocktail Lounge
Maine Lobsters
Clams and Oysters
New England Seafood
Closed Mondays
Our 29th Year

Sea Grill

Restaurant and Lounge
Finest Seafood Cooked To Order
Good Service—Fine Grog
Serving Luncheon and Dinner Daily—All Year

2 Locations To Better Serve You

Picciolo Restaurant

Open Every Day
Lunch and Dinner
Elegant Banquet Facilities For 300
Piano Lounge.

EARLY BIRD DINNER SPECIALS $2.95.
Served 3:30 P.M. to 5:30 P.M. (except holidays).

Over 100 - 7 Course Dinner Selections.

We Honor: American Express ★ Diners ★ Master Charge ★ Carte Blanche ★ Bank Americard.

2nd. Street and Collins Avenue (South end Miami Beach)

673-1267 ★ 672-2221

Miami, Florida | THE VOICE / Friday, September 1, 1978 / Page 13
Clergy workshops

Father Robert P. Stamschror will conduct workshops for area clergy in Dade, Broward and Palm Beach Counties on the content of the newly promulgated National Cathedrical Directory. He will speak at St. James Church, North Miami, Thursday, Sept. 7, at noon; at St. Pius X Church, Fort Lauderdale, Monday, Sept. 4, at 7 p.m.; and at St. Edward Church, Palm Beach, Monday, Sept. 11.

Father Stamschror is currently the representative for religious education in the Department of Education of the United States Catholic Conference (USCC) and executive secretary of the National Conference of Diocesan Directors of Religious Education. He holds degrees from St. Mary's College, Winona, Minn.; Catholic University of America; and Seattle University. He has served as director of religious education, Diocese of Winona; chaplain of St. Mary's College, Winona; high school administrator; high school religion teacher; associate pastor; and pastor—administrator.

Cenacle Retreat

Dominican Father Robert Perry will conduct a weekend retreat at the Cenacle Retreat House, Lantana, Sept. 15-17. The retreat is open to men, women and couples. For reservations call the Cenacle at 582-2534.

'Rally for Christ'

A "Rally for Christ" will be held at John Prince Park, Lake Worth, Saturday, Sept. 9, starting at 3 p.m. Jim Ross, coordinator, will open the rally with prayer and Jeanne Zuidema. Holy Spirit Church, will lead praise singing. The rock musical, "Jubilation!" by Lani Smith will be presented by about 75 area church soloists and choristers, including those from three Catholic Churches, under the direction, Carolyn McCarthy, First Presbyterian Church. Participants at the ecumenical event are asked to bring folding chairs and picnic lunches.

'SACRED TRUST'

JOHNSON/FOSTER FUNERAL HOME, INC.
1650 HARRISON ST. HOLLYWOOD, FLA. PHONE: 922-7511
PAUL J. HOULIHAN, L. F. D.

NOW THERE ARE TWO CEMETERIES IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD MEMORIAL GARDENS
Cemetery and Mausoleum
60th Avenue near Taft Street
983-2202

Hollywood Memorial Gardens North
Cemetery
SUITE 402 6600 Taft Street
987-7885

It's a Date

ARCHBISHOP EDWARD A. McCARTHY joined an ecumenical gathering at the Hungarian Center of the First Hungarian United Church of Christ on Nov. 30th anniversary of the birth of the Hungarian Center.

Sister Alma Bill (left), DRE at St. Catherine of Sienna parish, Miami, meets with two Sisters who formerly served in the Archdiocese of Miami Religious Education programs, Sister Marianne Michels (center) and Sister Gertrude Sullivan. The three were among delegates to the tenth general chapter of Our Lady of Victory Missionary Sisters in Huntington, In. The delegates discussed participation in social action measures and proposals concerning Religious life, congregational growth and renewal.

Ecumenical gathering for area's Hungarians

Archbishop Edward A. McCarthy joined an ecumenical gathering at the Hungarian Center of the First Hungarian United Church of Christ following a Catholic Mass celebrated in Hungarian at St. Dominick Church.

The Mass, in remembrance of the first Christian Kings of Hungary, St. Stephen, was concelebrated by four Hungarian priests of the Archdiocese of Miami. The Rev. Gabor Nitsch, pastor of the First Hungarian Catholic Church of Christ, said Archbishop McCarthy "is the first man in his position to have ever visited the center so, in one way, history was made that beautiful evening."

Participants at the dinner-reception enjoyed the entertainment of Father Paul Saghy, pastor, St. Philip Benizi Church, Belle Glade, who sang in Hungarian, as well as a top Florida beat band, and the local Catholic Bishop John McNeil, lay president of the Hungarian Center.

Pastor Nitsch said, "As the pastor of the First Hungarian United Church of Christ, I, along with my congregation, would also like to extend our cordial invitation to His Excellency and the Hungarians of South Florida, to join us in celebration of the 30th anniversary of the birth of our congregation on Nov. 5."
It's amazing that 'Jaws 2' even floats!

By JAMES ARNOLD

The big shots in Amity still haven't learned to take sharks seriously—they are a lot like the stupid Transyivanian sharks seriously—they are a lot older than they are, and they still haven't learned to take the movies seriously, though, it's somewhat disappointing, compared even to Steven Spielberg's already classic 1975 original, which was hardly fodder for Rhodes scholars. One problem is that, except for Scheider, who labors as if in the fate of Universal Studios as well as Amity depended on him, there are no interesting adult characters.

More crucially, Bruce the mechanical shark. There are times, indeed, when the film seems more like a sequel to "Beach Blanket Bingo."

Still, credit is due. The wonder is that the project floated at all. After well-publicized delays that doubled production costs, likeable thriller expert-director Jeannot Szwarc was brought in from television ("Kojak," "Baretta," "Colombo"), and his rescue act is an impressive as Scheider's.

On the chillier level, which is really the only relevant one, "Jaws 2" makes an arguably respectable stab at giving 18-year-olds a good ride for their money.

For more mature spectators, though, it's somewhat disappointing, compared even to Steven Spielberg's already classic 1975 original, which was hardly fodder for Rhodes scholars. One problem is that, except for Scheider, who labors as if in the fate of Universal Studios as well as Amity depended on him, there are no interesting adult characters.

More crucially, Bruce the mechanical shark. There are times, indeed, when the film seems more like a sequel to "Beach Blanket Bingo."

Still, credit is due. The wonder is that the project floated at all. After well-publicized delays that doubled production costs, likeable thriller expert-director Jeannot Szwarc was brought in from television ("Kojak," "Baretta," "Colombo"), and his rescue act is an impressive as Scheider's.

On the chillier level, which is really the only relevant one, "Jaws 2" makes an arguably respectable stab at giving 18-year-olds a good ride for their money.

For more mature spectators, though, it's somewhat disappointing, compared even to Steven Spielberg's already classic 1975 original, which was hardly fodder for Rhodes scholars. One problem is that, except for Scheider, who labors as if in the fate of Universal Studios as well as Amity depended on him, there are no interesting adult characters.

More crucially, Bruce the mechanical shark. There are times, indeed, when the film seems more like a sequel to "Beach Blanket Bingo."

Still, credit is due. The wonder is that the project floated at all. After well-publicized delays that doubled production costs, likeable thriller expert-director Jeannot Szwarc was brought in from television ("Kojak," "Baretta," "Colombo"), and his rescue act is an impressive as Scheider's.

On the chillier level, which is really the only relevant one, "Jaws 2" makes an arguably respectable stab at giving 18-year-olds a good ride for their money.

For more mature spectators, though, it's somewhat disappointing, compared even to Steven Spielberg's already classic 1975 original, which was hardly fodder for Rhodes scholars. One problem is that, except for Scheider, who labors as if in the fate of Universal Studios as well as Amity depended on him, there are no interesting adult characters.

More crucially, Bruce the mechanical shark. There are times, indeed, when the film seems more like a sequel to "Beach Blanket Bingo."

Still, credit is due. The wonder is that the project floated at all. After well-publicized delays that doubled production costs, likeable thriller expert-director Jeannot Szwarc was brought in from television ("Kojak," "Baretta," "Colombo"), and his rescue act is an impressive as Scheider's.

On the chillier level, which is really the only relevant one, "Jaws 2" makes an arguably respectable stab at giving 18-year-olds a good ride for their money.

For more mature spectators, though, it's somewhat disappointing, compared even to Steven Spielberg's already classic 1975 original, which was hardly fodder for Rhodes scholars. One problem is that, except for Scheider, who labors as if in the fate of Universal Studios as well as Amity depended on him, there are no interesting adult characters.

More crucially, Bruce the mechanical shark. There are times, indeed, when the film seems more like a sequel to "Beach Blanket Bingo."

Still, credit is due. The wonder is that the project floated at all. After well-publicized delays that doubled production costs, likeable thriller expert-director Jeannot Szwarc was brought in from television ("Kojak," "Baretta," "Colombo"), and his rescue act is an impressive as Scheider's.

On the chillier level, which is really the only relevant one, "Jaws 2" makes an arguably respectable stab at giving 18-year-olds a good ride for their money.

For more mature spectators, though, it's somewhat disappointing, compared even to Steven Spielberg's already classic 1975 original, which was hardly fodder for Rhodes scholars. One problem is that, except for Scheider, who labors as if in the fate of Universal Studios as well as Amity depended on him, there are no interesting adult characters.

More crucially, Bruce the mechanical shark. There are times, indeed, when the film seems more like a sequel to "Beach Blanket Bingo."

Still, credit is due. The wonder is that the project floated at all. After well-publicized delays that doubled production costs, likeable thriller expert-director Jeannot Szwarc was brought in from television ("Kojak," "Baretta," "Colombo"), and his rescue act is an impressive as Scheider's.

On the chillier level, which is really the only relevant one, "Jaws 2" makes an arguably respectable stab at giving 18-year-olds a good ride for their money.

For more mature spectators, though, it's somewhat disappointing, compared even to Steven Spielberg's already classic 1975 original, which was hardly fodder for Rhodes scholars. One problem is that, except for Scheider, who labors as if in the fate of Universal Studios as well as Amity depended on him, there are no interesting adult characters.

More crucially, Bruce the mechanical shark. There are times, indeed, when the film seems more like a sequel to "Beach Blanket Bingo."

Still, credit is due. The wonder is that the project floated at all. After well-publicized delays that doubled production costs, likeable thriller expert-director Jeannot Szwarc was brought in from television ("Kojak," "Baretta," "Colombo"), and his rescue act is an impressive as Scheider's.

On the chillier level, which is really the only relevant one, "Jaws 2" makes an arguably respectable stab at giving 18-year-olds a good ride for their money.

For more mature spectators, though, it's somewhat disappointing, compared even to Steven Spielberg's already classic 1975 original, which was hardly fodder for Rhodes scholars. One problem is that, except for Scheider, who labors as if in the fate of Universal Studios as well as Amity depended on him, there are no interesting adult characters.

More crucially, Bruce the mechanical shark. There are times, indeed, when the film seems more like a sequel to "Beach Blanket Bingo."

Still, credit is due. The wonder is that the project floated at all. After well-publicized delays that doubled production costs, likeable thriller expert-director Jeannot Szwarc was brought in from television ("Kojak," "Baretta," "Colombo"), and his rescue act is an impressive as Scheider's.

On the chillier level, which is really the only relevant one, "Jaws 2" makes an arguably respectable stab at giving 18-year-olds a good ride for their money.

For more mature spectators, though, it's somewhat disappointing, compared even to Steven Spielberg's already classic 1975 original, which was hardly fodder for Rhodes scholars. One problem is that, except for Scheider, who labors as if in the fate of Universal Studios as well as Amity depended on him, there are no interesting adult characters.

More crucially, Bruce the mechanical shark. There are times, indeed, when the film seems more like a sequel to "Beach Blanket Bingo."

Still, credit is due. The wonder is that the project floated at all. After well-publicized delays that doubled production costs, likeable thriller expert-director Jeannot Szwarc was brought in from television ("Kojak," "Baretta," "Colombo"), and his rescue act is an impressive as Scheider's.

On the chillier level, which is really the only relevant one, "Jaws 2" makes an arguably respectable stab at giving 18-year-olds a good ride for their money.

For more mature spectators, though, it's somewhat disappointing, compared even to Steven Spielberg's already classic 1975 original, which was hardly fodder for Rhodes scholars. One problem is that, except for Scheider, who labors as if in the fate of Universal Studios as well as Amity depended on him, there are no interesting adult characters.

More crucially, Bruce the mechanical shark. There are times, indeed, when the film seems more like a sequel to "Beach Blanket Bingo."

Still, credit is due. The wonder is that the project floated at all. After well-publicized delays that doubled production costs, likeable thriller expert-director Jeannot Szwarc was brought in from television ("Kojak," "Baretta," "Colombo"), and his rescue act is an impressive as Scheider's.

On the chillier level, which is really the only relevant one, "Jaws 2" makes an arguably respectable stab at giving 18-year-olds a good ride for their money.

For more mature spectators, though, it's somewhat disappointing, compared even to Steven Spielberg's already classic 1975 original, which was hardly fodder for Rhodes scholars. One problem is that, except for Scheider, who labors as if in the fate of Universal Studios as well as Amity depended on him, there are no interesting adult characters.
Marriage problems? help is available

Sometimes, when there are difficulties in the marriage, one of both the partners stubbornly refuses to seek marriage counseling. “What can be told us, anyway?” To face the fact of disharmony and then to ask for counsel- ing assistance to remedy the rift may signify maturity and intelligence.

The counselor has his expertise to assist the couple. Most of the work and counseling requires hard work, patience and the partners being eager to maintain the marriage. Providing the proper atmosphere, free from distraction and interference, the couple may be able to realize a new outlook after only a session or two.

Communication sometimes is tainted with hostility and so the partners waver between cold silence and heated debate. The counselor can establish an environment that encourages quiet and attentive discussion. Skillfully, he can create the opportunity for them to discuss sensitive issues.

Most often the counselor hears fighting stories. He believes both. Each partner is relating the truth as viewed from his her perspective. He teaches techniques of human dynamics and communication that enables that it feels how it feels to the other way.

If you are dissatisfied with your marriage and would like to improve it, qualified counselors are ready to help you at the Catholic Service Bureau. For further information call Fr. Mike Flanagan at 754-2444 in Dade and 623-0239 in Broward.

Journal’s focus in Palm Beach

An “Intensive Journal Workshop” will be conducted by Sister Elizabeth Rose, S.S.B., at the Passionist Monastery, North Palm Beach, Sept. 8-10. The workshop is open to men and women Religious and priests. Focus of the workshop will be the Ira Progoff method of keeping a spiritual journal. For further information contact Sister Elizabeth Ann McCormick, S.S.J., at P.O. Box 1570, St. Augustine, Fl. 32084.

Engaged Encounter Days planned for September

The Engaged Encounter Day, part of the preparation offered to couples anticipating marriage, will be offered at different locations during September. Advance registration through the contact person is important.

The schedule includes:

Sunday, Sept. 9, St. Rose of Lima, Miami Shores, contact Family Enrichment Center, 651-0280.

Sunday, Sept 17, Lourdes Academy, contact Pam and Rick Astrum, 672-3404.

Sunday, Sept. 17, St. Gregory Church, Plantation, contact Janice and Basil Jeffrey in Boca Raton, 732-7448 (evenings only).

Couples are expected to attend the entire day which begins at 10 a.m., and concludes with Mass at 8 p.m.

DO YOU CLIP COUPONS?

If you do please take advantage of coupon offers in The Voice, this tells the advertisers that you use his products. When an advertiser gets results he places more advertising in The Voice and indirectly contributes more support to the Archdiocese.

This Week be sure to read the ad for

PUBLIX - Page 7

DEADLINE ON ADS: MONDAY NOON

BUSINESS SERVICE GUIDE

90 - ACCOUNTANTS

FRED HOFMIEER ACCOUNTANT
2125 NE 15 St. Miami	567-3877

91 - ACCOUNTANTS & TAX

ARC BOOKKEEPING & TAX SERVICE
1204 NE 15 St.
Miami	954-3072

92 - ACCOUNTANTS & TAX

Charles F. Fitzpatrick, accountant & Tax Service
750 SE 2nd St.
Miami	952-7634

93 - ADDRESSING & LABELS

AABB DIRECT MAIL, AD

3141 NW 15 St.
Miami	952-3477 431-0131

94 - AIR CONDITIONING

SOLD

FRED SELLER PAYS CLOSING COST

601-460-21 Ave.
Lowery 3 Br 1 Bath corner house. Fully fenced. Ready to move into.
629-9000

1520 NW 91 St.
Large 3 Br 1 Bath corner house. Grass landscaped. Call to view.
Terry Drellinger, Realtor
661-5900

95 - AIR CONDITIONING

BROTHERS

1061 NW 15 St.
Miami	891-2760

96 - AIR CONDITIONING

SMELLY CARPETS

CAN NOW BE SAVED?

No need to replace

Nala Barry Lab. 621-2021
Call seven days

60-CARPET CLEANING

735-7651

60-DIY CARPET CLEANING

947-0574

97 - AIR CONDITIONING

SMOKY’S COOLING & HEATING

1520 NE 15th Ave.
Miami	952-3356

CALL BETTY

at Miami 554-2851
Broward: 523-5157
Palm Bch: 333-1511

98 - AIR CONDITIONING

KEVIN’S AIR CONDITIONING

1050 NW 15th St.
Miami	954-2830

99 - AIR CONDITIONING

SOLD

JANETT’S APPLIANCE SERVICE

1942 NE 18th Ave.
Miami	954-2803

100 - AIR CONDITIONING

SMOKY’S COOLING & HEATING

1520 NE 15th Ave.
Miami	952-3356

CALL BETTY

at Miami 554-2851
Broward: 523-5157
Palm Bch: 333-1511
1A-PICTITIOUS NAME-DADE

NOTICE UNDER PICTITIOUS NAME LAW: NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the undersigned, desiring to engage in business under the fictitious name Dade, the City of Miami, Florida, intends to register the said name with the Clerk of the Circuit Court of the County of Miami-Dade, Florida.

Contact:
- Attorney for Applicant: Ruffner, Hagen & Rifkin, P.A.

7-SCHOOLS & INSTRUCTION D A D E

- I.T. (800) 229-0107
- Miami-Dade College
- Miami-Dade Community College
- Miami-Dade School Board
- Miami-Dade Public Schools

12-HOMES FOR SALE-DADE

- DISTRESS SALE
  - 13300 SW 230th St., Homestead
  - 150,000
  - 6 bedrooms, 3.5 bathrooms
  - 2997-4016

17-Help Wanted Dade

- GAL FRIDAY
  - Phone: 941-8500

55-OUT-OF-STATE-N.C.

- BARGAIN! 2 PORT ST. LUCIE LOTS
  - Price $3,439.56; last payment $1436.
  - CALL CLAUDE W. ATKINS, Realtor, 472-6650.
El Paso, Tejas—(NC)—El primer paso para la evangelización es el encuentro con Jesús, afirmó el padre Alfonso Navarro ante unos 4,000 católicos de México y los Estados Unidos, participando en el Congreso Hispánico de Sureste.

Ante una audiencia que llenaba el Centro Cívico del El Paso, el sacerdote señaló los requisitos de todo aquel que se quiere comprometer a extender el Evangelio: “Necesitamos convertirnos nosotros mismos, reconocer el señorío de Jesús, hacer vida los dones del Espíritu, formar dentro de la Iglesia comunidades vitales y centrar nuestras vidas en la Eucaristía,” dijo.

El obispo Patricio Florez, de Washington—(NC)—El grupo de hispanos miembros de la parroquia de San Francisco, en un viaje organizado por el congreso, afirmó que estaban impresionados por la participación de tanto que han venido a orar y aprender más sobre el Señor.”

El tema de las reuniones en las ciudades que tengan en su mayoría habitantes hispanos, como parte de la Semana Nacional de Acción, en la cual empezará el 10 de Septiembre.

Para al proclamar la semana especial, Carter dijo: “Estas son juntas ayudarán a definir los problemas e intereses que los hispanos tienen en común en toda nuestra nación.”

Hizo un llamamiento a todos los americanos que, juntos con él, “se lancen a buscar nuevas iniciativas hispanas que puedan asegurar la participación total de hispanos americanos en todos los sectores de la vida americana, en todo nivel de liderazgo, y supuesto, todos los ciudadanos de nuestro país están plenamente protegidos por la ley.”

No abandonen su fe

Pide Carter apoyo a Semana Hispánica

WASHINGTON—(NC)—El presidente Jimmy Carter pidió a un grupo de hispanos miembros de su administración que dirijan reuniones en las ciudades que tengan en su mayoría habitantes hispanos, como parte de la Semana Hispánica, en la cual empezará el 10 de Septiembre.

Carter apoyó a Semana Hispánica en el 25 aniversario de la Parroquia de Nuestra Señora, dijo el obispo de Washington—(NC)—La conferencia Católica de los Estados Unidos (USCC) expresó apoyo a una propuesta terminación de asistencia militar a Bolivia, después de alegaciones de fraude en las elecciones de Julio y el golpe de estado por el P. Pereda Asburn. El P. J. Bryan Hehir, subsecretario para asuntos de justicia y paz de la USCC, calificó los eventos recientes como “extremadamente desalentadores.”

El obispo es miembro del comité administrativo de la Conferencia Nacional de Obispos Católicos, al cual se ha pedido que publique una visita pastoral sobre el tema y que apoye la creación de una oficina nacional para los Católicos inhabilitados.

Carter expresó apoyo a la propuesta de retar el aborto de Carter apoyó a Semana Hispánica en el 25 aniversario de la Parroquia de Nuestra Señora, dijo el obispo de Washington—(NC)—La conferencia Católica de los Estados Unidos (USCC) expresó apoyo a una propuesta terminación de asistencia militar a Bolivia, después de alegaciones de fraude en las elecciones de Julio y el golpe de estado por el P. Pereda Asburn. El P. J. Bryan Hehir, subsecretario para asuntos de justicia y paz de la USCC, calificó los eventos recientes como “extremadamente desalentadores.”

El obispo es miembro del comité administrativo de la Conferencia Nacional de Obispos Católicos, al cual se ha pedido que publique una visita pastoral sobre el tema y que apoye la creación de una oficina nacional para los Católicos inhabilitados.
Juan Pablo I señala pautas anuncia continuidad

CIUDAD DEL VATICANO—(NC)—En conferencia de prensa de 10 páginas en latín, al Colegio de Cardenales, el día después de su elección, Juan Pablo I señaló las líneas generales que seguirá durante su pontificado. El nuevo Papa insistió en:

- Continuará en el verdadero espíritu del Concilio Vaticano II, en santo y ante ellos que empujan demasiado para que no arrastran los pes.
- Promoverá el ecumenismo, “sin hacer de esta doctrina pero sin vacilaciones.”
- Continuará la revisión de la ley de la Iglesia, “intacta el derecho a la disciplina de la Iglesia” y mantendrá la libertad cristiana por medio “de estructuras jurídicas sólidas y sana.
- Estimulará la predicación del Evangelio a todos los hombres, “promoverá un sereno y constructivo diálogo” hasta con los no-católicos.
- Dará mayor peso al concepto de co-responsabilidad en la toma de decisiones, haciendo uso de los símbolos de obispos y de la participación de los obispos del mundo en la labor de la Curia Romana—el centro administrativo de la Iglesia.
- Trabajar por la paz y el progreso social y contra el hombre y el analfabetismo, así como a favor de un sistema económico internacional más justo.

En su discurso después de la Eucaristía celebrada con los cardenales el Papa dirigió a sus queridos hijos e hijas de todo el mundo.

“Si todos los hijos e hijas de la Iglesia supieran conservar los hilos de los que se les va tren, grande proveería un nuevo florecer de santidad y sediento de amor y verdad...”

En una entrevista por teléfono para NC, Edoardo Luciani, que bebería su nombre en Pablo I, dijo que “hace nada más de un hombre”. Los cardenales siempre estuvieron a su servicio de sí mismo.

“Si nunca ha buscado los ascensos y de hecho sé que desde que llegó a obispo ha tratado de renunciar al cargo varias veces,” añadió, sin explicar las razones. “Incluso cuando le nombraron obispo trató de excusarse por falta de salud,” añadió.

CIUDAD DEL VATICANO—(NC)—Dejando a un lado el tradicional uso del “Nos” en el Papa, Juan Pablo I pidió que las diócesis se ayuden mutuamente.

“Hay existe gran necesidad de que el mundo nos vea unidos,” el Papa dijo, “específicamente, cuando algo de en vez, demólesnos juntos al mundo un testimonio de unidad.”

“Tenemos todas las de perder el mundo no nos vemos unidos,” comentó el Papa espiritosamente.

Su decisión de no hacer uso del texto que había preparado de antemano, cogió de sorpresa a los oficiales del Vaticano, la oficina de prensa y periodistas.

Sólo la Radio Vaticana, que había grabado palabras, pudo informar sobre la reunión del Papa con los cardenales.

El Papa dijo que “en cierto modo estoy triste de no poder volver a la vida del apostolado tan que me gustaba regular."" Siempre tuve diáconos pequeños," dijo. "Mi trabajo era ayudar a los pobres, a los enfermos...en visitas pastorales.

"Ya no podré hacer lo mismo, pero ustedes pueden," dijo el Papa a los cardenales.

Los pidió no pensar sólo en sus diócesis sino también en la Iglesia universal.

Señaló que cada diócesis tenía un diferente con que compartir. "Un diócesis puede ayudar a otras y hasta las diócesis que no pueden ayudar a Roma," dijo.

El arzobispo McCarthy expresa adhesión

En conferencia de prensa ante la elección del nuevo Papa, el arzobispo Edward McCarthy expresa apoyo a su nuevo líder. "Hizo de obispo migratorio, el mismo condenado en cierta ocasión: "No soy sólo un hombre, "dijo el arzobispo quien informó haber enviado al nuevo Papa un telegrama de adhesión y enhorabuena.

El prelado ortodoxo para las Estados Unidos, William J. Thompson, secretario general de la Conferencia Episcopal de Obispos USA, señaló que "los diócesis fueron en Juan Pablo I los que incluso ha sentido el mundo un testimonio de unidad.

"Hizo de obispo migratorio, el mismo condenado en cierta ocasión: "No soy sólo un hombre, "dijo el arzobispo quien informó haber enviado al nuevo Papa un telegrama de adhesión y enhorabuena.

El arzobispo Edward McCarthy expresa apoyo a su nuevo líder. "Hizo de obispo migratorio, el mismo condenado en cierta ocasión: "No soy sólo un hombre, "dijo el arzobispo quien informó haber enviado al nuevo Papa un telegrama de adhesión y enhorabuena.

En conferencia de prensa ante la elección del nuevo Papa, el arzobispo Edward McCarthy expresa apoyo a su nuevo líder. "Hizo de obispo migratorio, el mismo condenado en cierta ocasión: "No soy sólo un hombre, "dijo el arzobispo quien informó haber enviado al nuevo Papa un telegrama de adhesión y enhorabuena.
¡Tenemos Papa!

Juan Pablo I

Comentando su elección Juan Pablo I se ganó el corazón de 300,000 peregrinos.

CIUDAD DEL VATICANO—(NC)—En su primera aparición pública ante más de 300,000 peregrinos en la Plaza de San Pedro, el nuevo Papa Juan Pablo I conquistó el corazón de todos comentando espontáneamente sobre el conclave y sus primeros momentos de desconcierto, al empezar a oír su nombre.

Conversando con los peregrinos desde el balcón de la basílica, abandonó rápidamente la frase "Nos" que usualmente usa el Papa, y les dijo: "Ayer me dirigía tranquilamente hacia la Capilla Sixtina para la votación, sin imaginar por un momento lo que iba a pasar.

"Y en cuanto el peligro se centrábase en mí, los dos colegas junto a mi empezaron a susurrarme palabras de aliento.

"Uno de ellos me decía: 'Sea fuerte. Si el Señor envía una carga pesada, también dá la fuerza para llevarla.' "Y el otro me dijo: 'No tenga miedo. En todo el mundo son tantos los que están rezando por el nuevo Papa!'

El nuevo Papa lucía su sotana blanca y dijo que "cuando llegó el momento, acepté. Entonces me preguntaron qué nombre quería tomar.

"Lo pensé un ratito y después me razoné así: El Papa Juan (XXIII), fue quien me consagró a mi y a todo el mundo como obispo con sus propias manos en esta basílica. Después fui su sucesor en Venecia, ciudad llena de su feliz memoria."

También dijo que Pablo VI "no solo me hizo cardenal sino que tan sólo hace unos meses me hizo sacerdote ante 30,000 fieles en la Plaza de San Marcos (Venecia), cuando se quió su silla y me la colocó sobre los hombros.

"No me había puesto tan rojo," comentó el nuevo Papa ante los 300,000 peregrinos y los millones que le veían por la televisión. "Además, durante sus 15 años de pontificado, me enseñó a amar, servir, trabajar y sufrir por la Iglesia de Cristo. "Por esta razón dije que llevaría su nombre.

"No tengo el corazón sabio que tenía el Papa Juan. Tampoco tengo su puesto, y debo buscar el servicio de la Iglesia. 'Espero contar con las oraciones de todos,' concluyó.

Juan Pablo I conservará en su escudo el lema, "Humildad" que eligió en su ordenación episcopal.

Entre los peregrinos, muchos escuchaban con lágrimas en los ojos y uno de ellos comentó: "Para mí, el grandioso balcón central de la basílica había descendido a la altura de la gente de la calle."

El Papa no quiere corona ni trono

CIUDAD DEL VATICANO—(NC)—A petición propia, Juan Pablo I iniciará su ministerio papal sin coronación y sin ceremonia de instalación episcopal.

En su lugar el nuevo Papa ha decidido inaugurar formalmente su papado el próximo domingo 3 de septiembre con una con-celebración Eucarística, que el Vaticano ya ha denominado "Misa para el inicio de su ministerio como supremo pastor."

Juan Pablo I también ha decidido abandonar la tradición de la "silla gestatoria", o trono en el que se transportaba a los papas en ocasiones oficiales.

La celebración Eucarística del domingo se iniciará con una procesión desde el altar de la iglesia y de la Iglesia del Santo Sepulcro de Jerusalén, al que Juan Pablo I ha invitado a la celebración Eucarística el arzobispo Edward McCarthy, y predicará la homilía el padre Gustavo M. Martínez.

Misa de la Caridad celebrará Año Santo

Este año la celebración en el Estadio del Mar de honor de la Virgen de la Caridad, el día 8 marcará el comienzo de las festividades del Año Santo que culmina el próximo 6 de octubre con una demostración masiva de fe en el Orange Bowl.

La festa de la Virgen de la Caridad, coincidentemente con la Natividad de la Madre de Dios, fue declarada como Año de la Caridad en la ciudad de San Agustín, Florida, por los misioneros españoles.

La noche del 7 al 8 de septiembre la Ermita se mantendrá abierta en vigilía de oración. A las 5 de la mañana del 8 tendrá lugar una misa en español y a las 12 otra en inglés.

La Virgen saldrá por el mar al atardecer y su carroza marina llegaría al estadio a las 1:30 p.m., siendo recibida con fanáticos blancos y el rezo del Rosario.

Presidirá la celebración Eucarística el arzobispo Henry McCarthy, y predicará el homilía el padre Gustavo M. Martínez.

Confirma Papa PERIODICO CATOLICO

PUEBLA-78

CIUDAD DEL VATICANO —(NC)—El Papa Juan Pablo I ha confirmado las fechas para la celebración de la Asamblea General de la Comunidad Latinoamericana, los días 12 al 28 de octubre, en Puebla, México.

El Papa también ha confirmado en sus cargos a los funcionarios para tales reuniones. Al dar la noticia, el Vaticano no ha mencionado si el Papa aceptará la invitación del episcopado mexicano para que asista a las reuniones.

Page 20 / Miami, Florida / THE VOICE / Friday, September 1, 1978